

PECK PRAISES EXPOSITION

Chicago Man Has Many Good Words for the Buildings and Grounds.

Pronounces the Effect Magnificent

World's Fair Expert Pays His First Visit to the Transmississippi and Admits His Surprise and Pleased at the Experience.

All the members of the Illinois commission who were in Omaha yesterday had seen the exposition, with the exception of Ferdinand W. Peck and R. Hall McCormick of Chicago and these two men expressed great surprise at its size and beauty. As vice president of the Columbian exposition and a member of the Illinois commission of the Atlanta and Nashville exhibitions, Mr. Peck has perhaps had more experience with expositions than any man in America. Of the Transmississippi he said: "When I stood in the main court I imagined I was in the Court of Honor again. All that was different was the Government building where the Peristyle belonged. The effect is magnificent and the buildings are as beautiful as those in Chicago and are far more nearly completed than our buildings were this long before the opening. Until I saw the buildings and grounds I had no adequate conception of the grand scale the exposition was being made on. I supposed it would be something like the Atlanta Nashville expositions and was amazed to see how much larger it is."

In speaking of the Illinois commission Mr. Peck said that all the members were delighted with the exposition and particularly with the Illinois building and its admirable location. "We expect to all in our power to advertise the exposition and assist the management," said Mr. Peck.

A feature of the exposition which pleased Mr. Peck particularly was its accessibility to the main portion of the city, being not more than fifteen minutes' ride from downtown. He also remarked about the compactness of the main buildings and the ease with which they may be visited.

Mr. McCormick said of the Illinois building: "I stood on the rear portico of the building and imagined I was looking over the Garden of Eden. The location of the building is magnificent, overlooking as it does the river and surrounding country on one side and adjoining the Grand Plaza. It was fortunate that members of the commission were on the ground early and selected such a desirable spot."

The "Midway" in Mr. Peck's opinion, will be a great drawing card and he says it is the first thing that Chicago people inquire about. He further says that he thinks it is unwise to try to give any other name to the amusement section than "Midway," because the name has come to be synonymous with what people are anxious to see in the amusement line.

Both Mr. Peck and Mr. McCormick think that the pictures of the exposition which have been sent out are entirely inadequate to show its beauty and in fact do not think any photograph can do justice to Mr. Peck says that the Columbian management found that photographs advertised the Chicago exposition in a better manner than any other kind of picture, and suggests that the Transmississippi directors have photographs of the main buildings and grounds placed in prominent places in large cities.

Select an Illinois Day. The Illinois building was thoroughly inspected and accepted from the contractor. Arrangements were made for certain details in the interior furnishing of the building. The members expressed themselves as greatly pleased with the handsome appearance of the building.

After returning downtown a conference was held between the Illinois commissioners and representatives of the exposition and the date for "Illinois day" was decided upon. This was the first of the state days to be definitely fixed, and June 21 was the date selected. The visitors were enthusiastic over the unquestioned success of the exposition and insisted on a day for Illinois to be held early in the season. They solemnly promised that on "Illinois day" every resident of Illinois will be brought to Omaha and the entire vicinity of Omaha will be colored a deep vermilion hue. The commissioners said that the interest in the exposition throughout Illinois is nothing short of tremendous and they are confident that confidence that the crowds which will visit Omaha on Illinois day will be immense.

Sons of New England. The Society of New Englanders will hold its regular meeting Monday evening in the Board of Park Commissioners rooms, city hall. All persons of New England birth and their near relatives are invited to be present.

The roll of membership of the Society of New Englanders contains the names of many of Omaha's most prominent citizens whose birthplace was back in New England. At the preliminary meetings the constitution and general laws were adopted; the officers and executive committee were also elected as follows: President, W. H. Alexander; vice president, A. P. Tukey; secretary, Frank H. Chaffield; treasurer, George W. Holbrook. The executive committee is: Maine—Frederic Bacon, F. Flint, E. J. Chase. New Hampshire—Champion S. Phares, W. C. Whitmore, Frank Crawford. Vermont—Charles H. Sherman, George A. Jolin, John M. Thurston. Massachusetts—J. L. Baker, Charles S. Hayward, H. C. Loud. Rhode Island—William Baxter, W. O. Taylor. Connecticut—F. F. Willis, W. J. Breach, C. McLean.

Every member of the executive committee is requested to attend the meeting tomorrow night, when the selection of a day, to be designated New England day, at the exposition, will have to be decided upon. Also other important business will necessitate the presence of every member of the committee at the executive meeting to be held the same evening. The admission fee has been placed at 50 cents. All New Englanders, whether residents of Omaha or not, are invited to be present.

Inviting the Dignitaries. The executive department is busy mailing official invitations to attend the exercises in celebration of the opening of the exposition. These invitations have been prepared and lithographed and are being sent to the position commissioners of each state, the governors of every state and territory in the union, all the members of both houses of congress, the officials of previous expositions and the mayors of all the cities in the neighborhood of Omaha.

On the Opening Day. The opening day of the exposition, June 1, will end in a grand blaze of fireworks. This is in accordance with the plan of the executive committee. The contract for the fireworks during the exposition was let some time ago, but it was determined yesterday to celebrate the opening of the great fair with appropriate ceremonies at night as well as by daylight.

CARE FOR EXPOSITION VISITORS.

Bureau of Public Comfort Organized and in Working Order.

An arrangement has been made between the committee management and the Bureau of Information whereby the latter is to be the official representative of the exposition in the matter of providing accommodations for visitors to Omaha during the exposition, and the Bureau of Public Comfort has been appointed.

According to the terms of the contract which was consummated yesterday between the exposition and the Bureau of Information, and for the performance of which a bond of $5,000 was filed, with Dalton Riley and H. H. Baldridge as sureties, the exposition agrees to abandon the Bureau of Public Comfort forthwith and the Bureau of Information becomes the official medium through which visitors to Omaha will be supplied with rooms or lodging without expense to them, and a place will be provided for the handling of baggage, the checking of parcels, etc., a moderate charge to be made for the latter service.

By the terms of the contract the Bureau of Information agrees to maintain a headquarters at 1319 Farnam street and to keep on file there all the information obtainable regarding rooms in all parts of the city, with rates and such other information as may be desirable. Information regarding these matters will be furnished to visitors without cost and they will be given full information how to reach the place selected.

The revenue of the bureau will be derived from a charge paid by the persons having rooms to rent or meals to furnish. This charge will be 25 cents for each lodger remaining one night or 50 cents per lodger for any period extending over one night.

The bureau will endeavor to have all charges for rooms as moderate as possible. Regarding storage for parcels or baggage, the bureau will charge 10 cents for parcels or baggage for each twenty-four hours or fraction thereof and will allow any express company or individual to deliver or remove the same.

The Bureau of Information also agrees to keep a complete list of all first-class hotels and boarding houses at its headquarters for inspection. It will also maintain a uniform agent at each railway depot at the time of arrival of trains to give information to strangers and patrons of the hotels.

An office of the bureau will be maintained on the exposition grounds at a place to be supplied by the exposition management.

The accounts of the Bureau of Information are to be open at all times to the inspection of the exposition management, and it is agreed that the bureau will not attempt to interfere in any way with the Transportation department in arranging for the accommodation of excursion parties.

SECURE ANOTHER GREAT MEETING.

National Congress of Mothers Comes to Omaha.

Mrs. Harriet Heller, the Omaha delegate to the National Congress of Mothers at Washington, has written to the congress committee of the Woman's Board of Managers to the effect that the invitation to the congress to hold a special session at Omaha during the exposition met with favorable response and a successful meeting of the congress here is assured. The national congress always meets in Washington, but the mission of Mrs. Heller was to induce the congress to realize that a meeting must be held in the west if it is expected that the organization spread in this section.

The members of the executive committee and the congress committee are in high feather over this latest success, as the congress of mothers is regarded as one of the leading organizations of women in this country. Subjects of interest to women pertaining to the home, the instruction of children, hygienic, etc., constitute the matters considered by the meetings and the organization, now a young one, is said to be increasing at a very rapid rate.

The Omaha meeting will be held sometime in October, the exact date not having been arranged.

Force Delinquents to Pay. Manager Lindsey of the Ways and Means department has taken active steps to force the collection of the subscriptions to exposition stock which have not been paid in full. Due warning was given some time ago to all delinquent subscribers that legal steps would be taken to force the payment of these subscriptions and a large number paid in the balance due, but there are many others who have simply ignored the notices and warnings. At the April meeting of the Board of Directors Mr. Lindsey was instructed to take action at once to force the payment of all delinquencies and the time since that date has been occupied in getting ready and issuing final notices.

The last day of grace has now passed and all subscriptions of $50 or over which remain unpaid have been placed in the hands of Attorney Matthew A. Hall, who will at once take all necessary steps to compel the payment of the full subscriptions.

Inviting the Dignitaries. The executive department is busy mailing official invitations to attend the exercises in celebration of the opening of the exposition. These invitations have been prepared and lithographed and are being sent to the position commissioners of each state, the governors of every state and territory in the union, all the members of both houses of congress, the officials of previous expositions and the mayors of all the cities in the neighborhood of Omaha.

NEBRASKA'S EDUCATIONAL EXHIBIT

Active Work Commenced on Arrangement of Booths for the Display.

Active work has been commenced on the booth for the Nebraska educational exhibit and the manner in which the work is laid out gives assurance that in setting and extent, at least, the Nebraska exhibit will be a memorable one. The exhibit will occupy all the north and east sides of the gallery of the big Manufacturers building and the east half of every story. The gallery is thirty feet in width all around and this space will be divided in such a way that a long series of rooms will extend through the middle of the portion to be occupied by this exhibit. This long room will be eighteen feet in width and an aisle six feet in width will run along the sides of the room. The long space thus enclosed will be subdivided into rooms sixteen feet in width by short walls extending out from either side, these short walls forming a passage-way ten feet in width entirely through the enclosure.

The walls forming this series of small rooms will be fifteen feet in height and on these will be displayed the cardboard to which will be attached the specimens of school work. The wall next to the gallery railing will be elaborately decorated with flags and bunting above a point seven feet from the floor. The central portion of the east gallery will be devoted to the exhibit to be made by the University of Nebraska. This is marked by a series of arches similar to the building referred to, but on a more modified scale.

The erection of these booths is in charge of Prof. C. W. Stuart, assistant to State Superintendent Jackson. He has four men employed and the exhibit is being made to push the work to completion before the exhibits begin to arrive in large numbers. The exhibit of the Lincoln Normal university was the first to arrive, having been received early in the week, but the great bulk of the material is not expected to arrive until, by which time it is expected that the booths will be ready for mounting the exhibits.

GATHERING OF THE VETERANS. Prepare to Come to the Exposition and Go Into Camp.

"Veteran Soldiers' Week" will be one of the great features in connection with the exposition. A joint meeting of the committees appointed by the exposition and the state department of the Grand Army of the Republic has decided that a week shall be set aside when the old soldiers of both armies shall be given the right of way. The committees which have had this matter in charge are those: For the Grand Army of the Republic, H. E. Hill, E. K. Spalding and John H. Butler; for the United States Army, E. Palmer, C. E. Adams of Superior and Major T. S. Clarkson.

The exact date for this gathering of the heroes of the late unpleasantness has not been determined, it having been decided to fix a date when President McKinley will be in Omaha. The date is expected to be designated as "Old Soldiers' week" and it is expected that thousands of the veterans will come to Omaha to visit the exposition and participate in the camps and gatherings characteristic of the veterans. Reports have already been received from distant points of whole families who intend to drive to Omaha and camp in the neighborhood of the exposition in order to save railroad fare and hotel bills.

The only free accommodations which will be provided in connection with the coming of the old soldiers will be a piece of ground suitable for camping, where those who drive to town can pitch their tents and enjoy themselves to their hearts' content.

Another Band Would Come. George C. Sellner of Omaha, special commissioner for the exposition to Honolulu, writes to the Department of Exhibits that a fine opportunity offers for an arrangement for the royal band of the island. He says this band is supported by the government and is under the charge of a former band master of the Austrian army. Mr. Sellner speaks in terms of high praise for the efficiency of the band, the extent of its repertoire and the excellence of its playing. In addition to playing brass instruments the members also play orchestral instruments with equal facility and the leader has also drilled them as a male chorus. They sing the native songs of the island and are accompanied by two girls with excellent voices. Mr. Sellner says this aggregation of talent has been given authority by the government to make a trip of one month to Omaha and a proposition is made to spend the full month of the exposition, playing every day as much as may be desired, the only consideration being the traveling expense of the members of the organization and their subsistence while away from home. This proposition will be laid before the executive committee.

Awarding More Concessions. Up to this time considerable alarm has been felt in certain quarters that one feature of the exposition was being neglected. No arrangements had been made for a beauty show and it was the consensus of opinion that the affair could not be a success with this feature omitted. The breach has been filled, however, and a concession has been let for this attraction, which will occupy a prominent place on the Midway. The concession was let yesterday afternoon to the Columbian Amusement company, composed of A. C. Redick and Seth Drake of Omaha. They promise to produce a beauty show which will eclipse anything of the kind ever before attempted.

The executive committee also let a concession to B. B. Manchester for four automatic machines, consisting of a fire engine, steamship, locomotive and electric light plant.

A concession was also let to A. Santa Maria & Co., to sell cameo, cameo shells, Byzantine jewelry and corals in the International building.

More Space for Missouri. Prof. J. W. Danel of Jefferson City, Mo., member of the Missouri Exposition commission and chairman of the committee on the educational and industrial exhibits of the negroes of the state in the city today to secure additional space and make final arrangement for installing exhibits. He says that there is no doubt that his committee and the whole commission will be able to make a creditable showing for Missouri in the exposition.

Marine Band Comes to Omaha. Late yesterday afternoon President Watkins of the exposition received a telegram from Congressman Mercer, in which he stated that he had had a conference with President McKinley, who had granted permission for the Marine band to visit Omaha during the early days of the exposition. Congressman Mercer stated that he was certain that the band would be in the city, but that its stay might be for only a few days.

Keokuk Tribe, No. 36, Improved Order of Red Men, notified to meet at our wigwam this afternoon at 1 o'clock to attend the funeral of Brother Alton Houston. Funeral services to be held at the residence of Forest Law cemetery. All members of the Improved Order of Red Men and councils of Daughters of Pochontash are requested to attend. T. E. MAGGARELL.

Next Saturday the Date.

The soda fountain is becoming a valuable adjunct to warm weather charitable enterprises and the benefit that does not rally under its canopy is unfortunately indeed. HUNDREDS TURNED AWAY.

More Fortunate Ones Well Pleas'd with Mr. Kuhn's Souvenirs.

Yesterday even exceeded last Saturday's business at the famous soda fountain of Kuhn & Co.'s corner of Fifteenth and Douglas—hundreds were unable to even gain admittance to the store. Fourteen hundred and forty beautiful silver souvenir spoons, with the Manufacture building in a gold bowl, were given away to those who could get within reach and partonize the soda fountain. The remarkable excellence of the drinks dispensed by the experts in charge is enough in themselves to fill the way of these souvenirs swell the crowd until without question Mr. Kuhn has the largest soda business west of Chicago. The Saturday concerts as given last year will be continued as the leading feature again this summer. It is now over nineteen years since Mr. Kuhn opened his drug store on this corner. Since that time the business has grown until now it requires a large force of clerks to wait upon all of the customers. Mr. Kuhn is the only graduate pharmacist owning a downtown drug store, which no doubt accounts in a great measure to his large prescription business. No matter how difficult the prescription, it will be accurately and promptly compounded by competent prescription clerks when brought to the Corner drug store.
