

CELEBRATE TITULAR FEAST

Services at St. John's Collegiate Church Characterized by Solemnity.

SPECIAL MUSICAL PROGRAM RENDERED

Rev. Thomas B. Finn Preaches the Sermon, Which is a Panegyric Upon the Life and Fortitude of St. John, the Disciple.

The titular feast of St. John's Collegiate church was celebrated yesterday morning at 10 o'clock with solemn high mass. The celebrant was Rev. M. M. Brouse, assisted by Bishop Scannell.

A special musical program was rendered during the mass, the choir of the church furnishing the music. The Kyrie, the Gloria, the Credo and the Agnus Dei from Pachelbel's "Messa Solennis" was sung, the solo parts being taken by Mrs. Bethge.

The sermon, a panegyric of St. John, was preached by Rev. Thomas B. Finn. He gave an outline of the disciple's life. He dwelt upon his twenty-three years' intimacy with the virgin, and his supreme activity when spreading the gospel during the rest of his life after the death of the Savior.

MUST PUT AWAY ALL OBSTACLES.

Rev. C. W. Kinney Preaches at Westminster Presbyterian Church.

The pulpit of Westminster Presbyterian church was occupied yesterday by Rev. C. W. Kinney of St. John's, N. Y.

Rev. Kinney chose as a subject for his morning discourse the stormy passage of the disciples across the sea of Galilee, and Christ's rebuking of the tempest and quieting of the disciples' fears.

GREATER THAN LOVE OF PARENTS.

Dr. Phelps Describes Christ's Affection for His Mother.

On account of the absence of the pastor, Rev. Frank A. Warfield, who is now enjoying his annual vacation among the hills of New England, yesterday morning the pulpit of the First Congregational church was occupied by Dr. Stephen A. Phelps.

Dr. Phelps described Christ's affection for His mother. He said that the love of a man for his mother is a noble and beautiful thing, and that Christ's love for His mother was a perfect example of this love.

SUNDAY AT CAMP SAUNDERS

Omaha Soldiers Entertain Many Visitors from Home During the Day.

THOUSANDS CALL ON THE VOLUNTEERS

Friends and Relatives of the Boys Crowd Two Excursion Trains and Swarm at Will Over the Camp at Lincoln.

The Omaha boys in blue, comprising the membership of the Omaha Guards and of the Thurston Rifles, who left home ten days ago cheered by a wonderful enthusiastic farewell, were again happily reminded of the esteem and affection entertained for them by the folks at home yesterday.

OMAHA GUARDS STAY AT CAMP.

A goodly representation of the Guards and the Rifles were at the platform to meet their relatives and friends as they stepped from the train, and it was not long before a numerous colony of Omahans had taken possession of the parts of the camp occupied by the boys from the exposition city. Very few Omahans went into the city, and it was just as well that they did not, as the city was just as well as they did not, as the city was just as well as they did not.

WHAT THE BOYS ANSWERED.

The tents had to be duly inspected by the fair visitors and the comments passed on the manner of living as reflected in the condition of the tent were amusing and even ludicrous.

THE BEST PAINT ON EARTH.

is the Sherwin-Williams paint, said Mr. H. B. Bettermann of this city (himself an old-time druggist). "I sold it for many years before coming to Omaha," said Mr. Bettermann, "and I know it's as good—yes, better—than the best white lead and oil. It wears longer and looks better—and then it's so easy to spread that anyone who uses it once won't be taken into trying anything else."

Spanish War News.

(From our own special scribbles.) Patented, 1898, by the Nebraska Clothing Co. For permission to copy apply at Farnam and Fifteenth.

ON BOARD THE SPANISH GUNBOAT ROASTILLA, SUNDAY MORNING, May 1, 5:30 p. m.—It is just an hour till daylight. I have come on deck to smoke a cigarette. The morning is fine. A faint breeze comes from the west and little patches of white stars are visible in the dull grey of the sky. The Spanish flag floats aloft and I feel a thrill of patriotism through my bones. It is dewy on the outside. Guess I will now go about the gangway and take a drink.

6:30—A report has just reached my ears which seems to indicate that the American fleet has approached the harbor and is anchored somewhere on the outside. The admiral has cautioned everybody to speak in whispers, for fear of scaring them away. He is not yet decided whether to capture them all in a bunch or one vessel at a time. A conference is being held.

6:45—As a result of the conference it was decided to capture the entire fleet at one time. In the way they could be brought to Manila before dinner and placed in a storage warehouse this afternoon.

7:00—It is now daylight and the stars are still in the heavens. There are also red stripes in the vicinity of the stars. It would appear that the Yankees have lost their bearings and are now ON THE INSIDE.

7:15—Something dreadful has happened. It looks as if the Yankees had played a dirty trick and slipped by the batteries while our soldiers were asleep. Perhaps they want to surrender. We shall see. I will now take another drink.

7:30—The confounded Yankees have actually opened fire on us, and reports of all kinds are coming to the admiral's ears. The latest was from a 12-pounder which struck right near his feet.

7:45—Somebody has misinformed us as to the strength of the Yankees. They have already sunk two of our boats. The Pelayo and Viscayo were burned without delay and the rest must have got away, which is unfortunate enough for today. An idea of something has just struck me. It makes me feel sick. The vessel must be sinking.
