In all finished rubber what is known as 'filling" is used for the double purpose of stiffening and strengthening and of economizing in the limited supply. This "filling" frequently amounts to 35 per cent of the whole. For this purpose many different materials have been tried, but heretofore none of them have partaken of the nature of rubber. The glucose officials say that their new product so closely resembles rubber that no difficulty will be experienced n using fully 75 per cent of it as a "filler." A bicycle tire made of 25 per cent of pure rubber and 75 per cent of this substance made from corn will retain all its resistance and durability and be in every respect as satisfactory as those now made, and the same may be said of the myriad other articles made of rubber.

The substance, being made from the waste material, will add nothing to the company's purchase of corn, but will in all probability necessitate the employment of more labor. The company announces that it will put the substance on the market immediately as one of its regular products, but at present no attempt will be made to go into the rubber business other than manufacture the crude material. The company is now issuing circulars to be sent to the rubber trade everywhere, describing the new discovery preparing the crudest kind of rubber here- the academy.

STRANGE TALE OF LOVE'S YOUNG DREAM

Ambitious Youth Divorces His Wife to Get Into the Army, Which Failing to Do, He Marries Her Again.

His marriage was kept a strict secret.

Young Beck was desirous of following in his father's footsteps. It had been and still was his ambition to enter West Point. But he could not enter West Point as a married man. The plain fact of the matter was that his wife was in the way to the consummation of his ambitions.

Some men would have looked upon this as a rather serious obstacle to surmount. But the ambitious and venturesome young would-be soldier was quite equal to the occasion. As a stage soldier he had made all kinds of sacrifices, risking his life time after time, in order to win his stage sweetheart and make her his wife. Now the young actor-soldier was willing to make great sacrifices in real life. He was willing to sacrifice the pleasure of his wife's company, at least for a time, in order that he might enter West Point.

South Dakota would furnish the solution of the problem and a way out of the difficulty. And to this haven he hied himself. Beck got the divorce he wanted and was once more a single man, untrammeled and unshackled with such an incumbrance as a Young Beck took the examination for

Frank Peterson of Stoux City says he has discovered the lost art of hardening copper. Just how he made this startling discovery is not known, but at any rate he is show ing samples of his process and wonderful results have been noted. Some time ago S. R. Dawson of Des Moines claimed to have rediscovered the art of making Damassteel and hardening copper. He organized a syndicate to manufacture his invention, but before anything was done he murdered his son-in-law and is now serving a life sentence in the state penitentiary at Anamosa. Peterson has also served time in the same prison and it was upon his return from that place that he showed samples of hardened copper. He has secured a patent and has a shop in Sloux City in which he is turning out some of the product. Whether or not this is Peterson's invention Ex-Senator Rowan of Wright county is in it makes no difference with the metal itself. It is certainly wonderful. A knife blade will take and keep a razor edge and resists ordinary efforts to bruise it. The composition is not brittle and is a perfect electrical conductor. It is thought it will be invaluable for trolly wheels and machine boxings. Flying grains of sand or dirt will not injure it as in the case of ordinary copper boxes. It is contended that it is harder and more durable than Babbitt or type metal, but under the hammer is as malleable as ordinary copper, Peterson says he will form a company to push his patent and he hopes to make himself a rich man.
