Mayor Moores Especially Designates the First Day of June.

APART AS EXPOSITION DAY

People of the City Requested to Join in the Demonstration that Shall said to have their counterpart in a local Mark the Opening of the incident that has interested a number of Great Fair.

Mayor Moores has given his official recognition to the general desire that the opening day of the exposition be made a public holiday, and has issued the following proc-

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, CITY OF OMAHA, May 14.—Whereas, In the year 1895, the duly accredited representatives of the transmississippi states and territories in convention assembled declared in favor of preparing a great exposition which should display to the world the matchless energy, the splendid thrift, the resourceful in-genuity and the high degree of intelligence of the people of the transmississippi region, and the unrivaled products of the fertile soil, the rich mines and the busy mills and factories of the great west; and

Whereas, These representatives decided that the city of Omaha was the most favorably located and most representative city in the transmississippi states, and the one est qualified to arrange and carry out plans for such an exposition; and Whereas, With untiring energy and unsurpassed ability our exposition directory has carried to successful completion, the arrangements for the accommodation of the exposition, and the great buildings of splendid architectural design, are now receiving and arranging the various exhibits; and Whereas, The gates of the exposition are to be formally opened to the world on June 1, 1898, with appropriate exercises, which will be witnessed by many thousands of people from this state and other states;

Now, therefore, I, Frank E. Moores, mayor of the city of Omaha, do hereby proclaim Wednesday, June 1, 1898, a public holiday, and request that all schools, stores, factories and offices of the city be closed upon that day, and that every person in the city, with unrestrained enthusiasm, cele-brate this important event, which opens a new era of commercial and industrial pros perity to the city of Omaha, to the trans-mississippi states, and to our beloved coun-try. FRANK E. MOORES,

Governor Holcomb Takes a Hand. LINCOLN, May 14 .- (Special.) -- Governor Holcomb today issued the following procla-

To the People of the State of Nebraska: The beginning of a new epoch in the history of the transmississippi country, and espe cially of Nebraska, will be marked by the opening of the Transmississippi and International Exposition at Omaha, the first day of June, the present year.

This great enterprise had its inception in the action of the Transmississippi congress of 1895, attended by accredited delegates from twenty-four states and territories. To the end that friendly ties and closer com-mercial relations might be promoted between the different states and territories. and that the progress of this great section of our country and its marvelous opportuni-ties might be displayed advantageously, it was determined to hold an exposition of the products and resources, the manufactures arts and industries of the west at Omaha during the present year. With a high appreciation of the responsibility imposed, as well as the honor conferred, by the selection of its metropolis as the place of exhibition, the people of Nebraska, and especially of the city of Omaha, have spared neither nor money in doing their part to make the exposition a success. The state, by legislative appropriation, and citizens, by generous contributions, have made possible the won-derful achievements in making this enter-prise, as it will be, one of the great exposi-tions held on American soil. A new city has sprung up as if by magic on the outskirts of the Nebraska metropolis and for five months its wonders will attract visitors

EXPOSITION DAY.

To the ceremonies attending the opening of the magnificent display of the progress of the transmississippi country, it is hoped many people from throughout the country will come, and especially do I request and urge that all citizens of Nebraska, who may conveniently do so, be in attendance on this occasion, by their presence showing their interest in the enterprise, and assisting in making the day memorable in the history of the state. The importance of the exposithe state. The importance of the exposi-tion, and the responsibility resting upon every citizen of the state to support it to the extent of his ability is, I am confident, fully appreciated by all.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the state of Nebraska.

Done at Lincoln, this fourteenth day o May, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight, the thirty-second year of the state, and of the inde-pendence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-second.

Karr & Davidson's Opening.

Yesterday hundreds of people were unable to gain admittance to the grand opening of Karr & Davidson, florists at 1520 Douglas streets, so immense was the crowd, but all who were fortunate enough to get in were loud in their praise of the grand display of roses, plants, etc. Miss K. C. Parker, who is in charge, demonstrated beyond doubt that she is a competent and practical florist, as no such a display was ever seen in this city.

There is said to be a prospect that the stretch of rotted wooden blocks on Capitol streets, may be succeeded by a payment in played on. the near future. The city officials and a number of interested property owners have made intermittent efforts to that end for two years, but they have been balked on each occasion by the determined refusal of two or three property owners who controlled a majority of the front footage to sign a petition. It is now alleged that the sentiment has changed, and that a majority petition can easly be secured. Alfred Millard, who is one of the property owners interested, said yesterday that he was assured that they were now ready to pave the street. He declared that Messrs. Yates, Guiou and others were ready to have the street paved, and that if the people who had been so free to criticise the property owners for not improving the street would send a petition around they would promptly sign it.

Union Pacific Employes Oppose the Demand of the O. R. T. Attorney. A number of Union Pacific employes are somewhat incensed that Martin Dolphin, the attorney who conducted the investigation into alleged mismanagement of the hospital fund for the Order of Railway Telegraphers, should now file a petition with the court to be allowed $2,000, to be paid out of that fund An engineer of the Union Pacific said to The "All of the employes were not back of that investigation, and all should not be compelled to pay for Dolphin's services The investigation was instituted by members of the Order of Railway Telegraphers. Now it would be manifestly unfair to take the $2,000 for Dolphin out of the bospital fund to which engineers, conductors, firemen, brakemen, as well as agents and clerks, have contributed."

The division of the moneys in the Union Pacific hospital fund has not yet been made, and may not be made until late in the summer. Those who had contributed to the fund were given until May 1 to make application for their share of the fund. Thousands of these applications have been re-ceived, and it will take the clerks in the office of W. D. Cornish, as master in chancery, several weeks to properly file and record all the claims. After that there are a number of legal processes that must be gone through before the distribution can be made, so that no immediate division of the fund is anticipated by those who have the

All the worry was due to the fact that please, those who are on the exposition's Streets of All Nations being no exceptions. The Turks and their camels were taken ments of cadet life, but above all, having down from here to St. Joseph by the Missouri Pacific to take part in the jubilee procession there. It had been intended to haul the camels in a baggage car attached to a assenger train, but the humps on their backs were too hig to let them through the car door. The railroaders then secured a brand new freight car and this suited the camels and their olive-skinned owners to

The controversy, resulting from precedent, occurred on the northbound trip. A large baggage car had been provided for the camels. It was well adapted for the animals, but the Turks said all baggage cars looked alike to them. They insisted on having inferior equipment. Nothing would do for them but a freight car. The railroaders vainly endeavored to explain that t was incompatible with their custom to carry a freight car on a passenger train. The Turks said they would have the freight car or would have no car at all, even though there should be a hot time. The railroad men held a council. The camels could not be delayed, for that would retard the march of conquest of the Mystic Shriners in Omaha. The animals could not be taken on the regular passenger train, for the Turks would not let their precious animals enter an American baggage car, which some citizens think good enough to ride in. There was but one way out of the lifficulty, and after many warm messages had burned the telegraph wires between Omaha and St. Joseph it was adopted. The Turks and their camels were loaded in the freight cars, as they demanded, and run to Omaha in the first exposition special train. They arrived here in ample time for avenue, between Seventeenth and Twentieth the Shriners' procession, and the band

The Busy Jewelers' Opening. Five years ago T. L. Coombs & Co. started in a small way in the jewelry business on North 16th street. A year later they removed to the Creighton block and last week removed to the cregation block and last week removed to the elegant store-room at 1520 Douglas street. Yesterday they held a grand opening, which was at-tended by hundreds of the best people in the city. In fact the crowd was so great that many could not gain admittance. Every lady who attended was presented with t beautiful souvenir hat pin. By strict attention to business the "Busy Jewelers"—as they are known—have succeeded in building up a magnificent trade, carrying the handsomest line of jewelry that money can buy, making a specialty of fine and rare goods for wedding presents. That their grand opening was a success goes without consumption and that he was a victim of the disease. He was told that the law was no respecter of persons, and that havmained nothing but to impose the sentence. The disposition of Ryan virtually breaks up the Messersmith gang that terrorized the northern part of the city for a number of months. The gang was composed of a number of young men, of which Ralph Messersmith was the leader. They devoted the most of their attention to robbing dwelling houses, and committed a number of depredations, finally being landed in jail a few months ago. At the last term of the district court Messersmith and John Murphy were tried and convicted, and each sentenced to terms of five years. Walter Johnson, charged with breaking and entering a dwelling house in the daytime, acknowledged his guilt and attributed his troubles to the excessive use of liquor esisting that at the time of the commission of the crime he was drunk. From the house which he entered he stole a silver watch and an umbrella. He was sentenced to a term of six months in the county jail.

George McKenney pleader guilty to the crime of forgery and was given one year in the penitentiary. The prisoner, a boy of 19 years of age, said that he forged an order for 50 cents and secured the cash from the keeper of his boarding house.

Alice Gordon, charged with cutting and stabbing with Intent to wound Mrs. Ole Jackson, pleaded guilty to assault and battery and was sentenced to two months in a cell in the county jail.

Hattle Carson, accused of stealing money and goods of the value of $154 from Teres Merges, pleaded not guilty, while Walter J Kinney, accused of stealing a watch and some clothing from the house of W. C. Gould, entered the same kind of a plea.

Rothwell's Case Dismissed. The case of Link Rothwell against the Union Stock Yards company of South Omaha has been dismissed at the costs of the plaintiff.

Last January Link Rothwell sued the Union Stock Yards company in an action, alleging damages in the sum of $25,000. In his petition he averred that as a solicitor for a business house he visited the stock yards and was ordered off the premises by the officers and employes. Not going, he was arrested and thrown into jail. Soon after the arrest Rothwell was released on habaes corpus proceedings and after the dismissal of the criminal suit he brought his action for damages.

DECREE AGAINST BOTH SIDES Judge Scott Makes His Order in the Case of Shaw & Fell Against the Produce Exchange.

Judge Scott has filed his decree in the case of Shaw & Fell against Jacob Williams and others. In this case, Shaw & Fell, mem bers of the Retail Grocers' association, brought suit against the defendant, a member of the Omaha Produce exchange, alleging that the association of which he was a nember, was discriminating against him and in favor of other grocers of the city. The case went to trial, but the decree was not filed until now. In his decree, Judge Scott dismisses the case at the plaintiffs' costs and finds that the lefendants and each of them are members of an illegal organization. Referring to the plain iffs, the court holds that they are also members of an illegal organization, which like the one to which the defendants belong, is for the purpose of controlling trade, and is in the nature of a trust. Finding that these are the facts, the court holds that they are not entitled to any relief in court and that they are not in a position to ask the
