

COUNCIL BLUFFS.

MINOR MENTION.

Try Moore's stock food. Call at The Bee office for Cuban maps, 16c each.

T. C. Sherwood of Kansas City was in the city yesterday. G. E. Hughes of Fonda, Ia., was a city visitor yesterday.

A. T. Towne left last evening for Peoria on a business trip. D. E. Perry and wife of Quicks, Ia., were in the city yesterday.

Dr. A. O. Mudge, the dentist, removed from 319 to 328 Broadway. Fred Harris of the Missouri Valley Times was in the city yesterday.

Hiram Jones has purchased a League bicycle from Cole & Co. The Evans family is the leader in fine work both for color and finish.

The high school cadets have elected O. G. Burtis captain, Maurice DeKay first lieutenant and Mac Hanchett second lieutenant.

J. F. Wood, ex-postmaster of Logan, Ia., who has been visiting the family of Attorney W. S. Baird, returned home yesterday.

With a few cents and 25 cents you can secure the official photographs of the United States navy at the Council Bluffs office of The Bee.

Someone stole a bicycle last night from the home of C. L. Campbell, the ex-school teacher, charged with the seduction of 16-year-old Nancy Wade, a former pupil of his, has been set for hearing in Justice Veen's court on June 10.

The entertainment given last evening at Hande's hall under the auspices of the Women's Sanitary Relief commission for the benefit of the Dodge Light Guards was largely attended and proved a success.

Andrew Harby, the young man from Tabor, Ia., who tried to pass a confederate bill on Pawnbroke Snyder, will be released from the city jail this morning.

The case against C. L. Campbell, the ex-school teacher, charged with the seduction of 16-year-old Nancy Wade, a former pupil of his, has been set for hearing in Justice Veen's court on June 10.

The entertainment given last evening at Hande's hall under the auspices of the Women's Sanitary Relief commission for the benefit of the Dodge Light Guards was largely attended and proved a success.

Andrew Harby, the young man from Tabor, Ia., who tried to pass a confederate bill on Pawnbroke Snyder, will be released from the city jail this morning.

The case against C. L. Campbell, the ex-school teacher, charged with the seduction of 16-year-old Nancy Wade, a former pupil of his, has been set for hearing in Justice Veen's court on June 10.

The entertainment given last evening at Hande's hall under the auspices of the Women's Sanitary Relief commission for the benefit of the Dodge Light Guards was largely attended and proved a success.

Andrew Harby, the young man from Tabor, Ia., who tried to pass a confederate bill on Pawnbroke Snyder, will be released from the city jail this morning.

The case against C. L. Campbell, the ex-school teacher, charged with the seduction of 16-year-old Nancy Wade, a former pupil of his, has been set for hearing in Justice Veen's court on June 10.

The entertainment given last evening at Hande's hall under the auspices of the Women's Sanitary Relief commission for the benefit of the Dodge Light Guards was largely attended and proved a success.

Andrew Harby, the young man from Tabor, Ia., who tried to pass a confederate bill on Pawnbroke Snyder, will be released from the city jail this morning.

The case against C. L. Campbell, the ex-school teacher, charged with the seduction of 16-year-old Nancy Wade, a former pupil of his, has been set for hearing in Justice Veen's court on June 10.

The entertainment given last evening at Hande's hall under the auspices of the Women's Sanitary Relief commission for the benefit of the Dodge Light Guards was largely attended and proved a success.

Andrew Harby, the young man from Tabor, Ia., who tried to pass a confederate bill on Pawnbroke Snyder, will be released from the city jail this morning.

The case against C. L. Campbell, the ex-school teacher, charged with the seduction of 16-year-old Nancy Wade, a former pupil of his, has been set for hearing in Justice Veen's court on June 10.

The entertainment given last evening at Hande's hall under the auspices of the Women's Sanitary Relief commission for the benefit of the Dodge Light Guards was largely attended and proved a success.

Andrew Harby, the young man from Tabor, Ia., who tried to pass a confederate bill on Pawnbroke Snyder, will be released from the city jail this morning.

The case against C. L. Campbell, the ex-school teacher, charged with the seduction of 16-year-old Nancy Wade, a former pupil of his, has been set for hearing in Justice Veen's court on June 10.

The entertainment given last evening at Hande's hall under the auspices of the Women's Sanitary Relief commission for the benefit of the Dodge Light Guards was largely attended and proved a success.

Andrew Harby, the young man from Tabor, Ia., who tried to pass a confederate bill on Pawnbroke Snyder, will be released from the city jail this morning.

The case against C. L. Campbell, the ex-school teacher, charged with the seduction of 16-year-old Nancy Wade, a former pupil of his, has been set for hearing in Justice Veen's court on June 10.

The entertainment given last evening at Hande's hall under the auspices of the Women's Sanitary Relief commission for the benefit of the Dodge Light Guards was largely attended and proved a success.

Andrew Harby, the young man from Tabor, Ia., who tried to pass a confederate bill on Pawnbroke Snyder, will be released from the city jail this morning.

The case against C. L. Campbell, the ex-school teacher, charged with the seduction of 16-year-old Nancy Wade, a former pupil of his, has been set for hearing in Justice Veen's court on June 10.

The entertainment given last evening at Hande's hall under the auspices of the Women's Sanitary Relief commission for the benefit of the Dodge Light Guards was largely attended and proved a success.

CLASS OF NINETY-EIGHT

High School Commencement Program Has Been Decided Upon.

EXTENSIVE ARRANGEMENTS ARE MADE

Superintendent Hisey and Principal Hayden Agree on the Details—Class Day Exercises and List of the Graduates.

Superintendent Hisey and Principal Hayden, with whom the matter was left in charge by the Board of Education have completed all the arrangements for the commencement exercises of the High School graduating class, which as previously announced, will be held next Tuesday evening at the Dohany opera house, and the program is now in the hands of the printer.

Next Sunday at the morning service at the Broadway Methodist church, the pastor, Rev. J. H. Seney, will deliver the sermon to the graduates. This marks the opening of commencement week. The exercises at the opera house Tuesday evening will commence at 8:15 o'clock, when the following program will be carried out:

Music—Selected.....Apollo Club Invocation.....Carnegie Concert of Polka.....Bartlett.....Miss Nora McCabe. Address—What is an Education?.....Prof. Benjamin S. Terry, University of Iowa. Presentation of Diplomas.....List of Graduates.....President W. H. Thomas of the Board of Education. Class Song.....Composed by Miss Bessie L. Pryor. Music—Rendered by the Class.....Apollo Club On Friday afternoon at the High School the distribution of the senior class book will take place. The class book this year, which is being prepared under the editorship of Louis Whitehead, will consist of upwards of sixty pages and in every way will be more elaborate than the one gotten out by the class of '97.

Friday evening at the residence of Mr. T. E. Cavin on Park avenue, the Juniors will tender the graduates a reception. It has been customary for the graduating class to close commencement week with a picnic, but whether this will be the case this year has not yet been decided.

The following is the revised list of the pupils who will graduate this term: Classical Course—Edith M. Ayers, Earl A. Beardsley, Stella M. Norman, Herbert C. Farley, Bessie L. Pryor, Ola B. Spearman, Fay Travis, Lewis M. Whitehead, J. Arthur Williams, Grace S. Carson, Guy R. Yates, Stella F. Gilbert, Xenophon W. Kynett, Nora McCabe, Lila M. W. Miller. Latin Course—John Quincy Anderson, Jr., George S. Childs, Ruby Bryant, German Course—Albert M. Flammont, Viola Weisler, Arthur Morehouse. Business Course—Salma S. Amussen, Roy W. Besley, Frank Black, Nellie F. Dickey, Harvey H. Dingman, Lewis A. Kincaid, Belle H. Morgan, Herbert G. Kirkland, Lulu Lamb, Nellie D. M. Morgan, Charles M. Norton, Blanche Radio, Lewis J. Ferron, Alice M. Fryer, Allis L. Hooker, Sadie A. Zoller, Louie W. Snyder, Walter R. Sulhoff, Clara H. Wyckoff.

The class of '98 has selected as its motto, "Step by Step," and as its colors red, white and blue. The class yell is "Hickory, Chickory, Rab, on, on, on, Council Bluffs High School, Ninety-eight!" The officers are: President, J. Arthur Williams; vice president, Allis Hooker; secretary, Clara Wyckoff; treasurer, Xenophon W. Kynett.

Iron-clad potatoes, the best, 70 cents per bushel. Bartel & Miller.

Venner-Frey Trouble. When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

When the case against M. H. Frey, the forger, and Mrs. Lucretia Venner, charged with adultery by D. E. Venner, the husband of the woman, was called in Justice Veen's court yesterday afternoon, the prosecuting witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed. However, did not end the matter for the couple, as they were immediately arrested on an information charging them with lewdness, which had been filed by Venner yesterday morning when he learned that it was doubtful if Frey could be held on his information charging adultery.

therein as an individual, as plaintiff designated for the prosecution of the said case in the name of the state of Iowa.

Storage, Winn & Konigsmacher, 336 Bwy. FOR TWENTY-ONE NEW COMPANIES.

Permission Given by the Governor of Iowa to Form Military Bodies. DES MOINES, May 25.—(Special Telegram.)—When the National Guard was called to Des Moines four weeks ago to satisfy the call of the president, many of the towns from which companies were sent and a number of towns which have had military companies made application to the governor for permission to organize new military bodies. This application was made, usually, through some prominent residents of the town. Twenty-one towns have been authorized to form military organizations. The state law requires the written permission of the governor before such organization can be effected. This permission whenever requested. However, in case of a second call from the president for troops the governor will add the two calls, apportioning the numbers according to counties, and then from each quota required from each county will submit the number of companies already mustered in from those counties.

The following is the list of towns in which companies are now being formed in preparation for the second call for men and the men through whom the application for permission which the governor has issued, and which specifically states that the beneficiary of the permission shall not expect any preference of any kind in case of future calls for men:

Roche, John B. Kent; Carroll, S. C. Paul, W. L. Culbertson; Jefferson, Z. A. Church; Davenport, W. C. Hayward; Guthrie Center, E. W. Weeks; Nora Springs, S. B. Byrhe; Des Moines, John Mac Vear, Ed S. Campbell; New Hampton, George A. Smalley; Vinton, Whipple and Elliott; Scranton, P. A. Smith; Iowa Falls, William Veltion; Mason City, Audubon; Sioux City, cavalry, George A. Cleland; Lewiston, L. S. Kennington, J. N. Edger; Osaage, J. H. Sweeney; Fontanelle, W. S. Simmons; Britt, Mount Vernon, George W. Rowley; Rock Rapids, Cherokee, Truxton Goodfield.

Iowa Bankers in Session. MASON CITY, Ia., May 25.—(Special Telegram.)—The twelfth annual convention of Iowa bankers is in session here, Charles R. Hannan, cashier of the Council Bluffs Savings bank, president. About 150 members are in attendance. The address of welcome was delivered by Mayor George W. Brett and the response made by Ackley Hubbard of Spencer. The president in his address gave special praise to the "group system," which was the means of bringing bodies of bankers geographically closer in meetings which were most profitable. The report of Secretary Dwight of Cedar Rapids showed a membership of 25, making the Iowa association the largest in the United States.

At 2:30 p. m. the association took the electric car line for Clear lake, ten miles distant. The remainder of the afternoon was spent on steamers and sailboats. In the evening a banquet was given by the visitors.

Volunteers at Atlantic. ATLANTIC, Ia., May 25.—(Special Telegram.)—Captain L. E. Hollowell has a company of volunteers organized at this place and telegraphed by Mayor George W. Brett and the response made by Ackley Hubbard of Spencer. The president in his address gave special praise to the "group system," which was the means of bringing bodies of bankers geographically closer in meetings which were most profitable.

At 2:30 p. m. the association took the electric car line for Clear lake, ten miles distant. The remainder of the afternoon was spent on steamers and sailboats. In the evening a banquet was given by the visitors.

Volunteers at Atlantic. ATLANTIC, Ia., May 25.—(Special Telegram.)—Captain L. E. Hollowell has a company of volunteers organized at this place and telegraphed by Mayor George W. Brett and the response made by Ackley Hubbard of Spencer. The president in his address gave special praise to the "group system," which was the means of bringing bodies of bankers geographically closer in meetings which were most profitable.

At 2:30 p. m. the association took the electric car line for Clear lake, ten miles distant. The remainder of the afternoon was spent on steamers and sailboats. In the evening a banquet was given by the visitors.

Volunteers at Atlantic. ATLANTIC, Ia., May 25.—(Special Telegram.)—Captain L. E. Hollowell has a company of volunteers organized at this place and telegraphed by Mayor George W. Brett and the response made by Ackley Hubbard of Spencer. The president in his address gave special praise to the "group system," which was the means of bringing bodies of bankers geographically closer in meetings which were most profitable.

At 2:30 p. m. the association took the electric car line for Clear lake, ten miles distant. The remainder of the afternoon was spent on steamers and sailboats. In the evening a banquet was given by the visitors.

Volunteers at Atlantic. ATLANTIC, Ia., May 25.—(Special Telegram.)—Captain L. E. Hollowell has a company of volunteers organized at this place and telegraphed by Mayor George W. Brett and the response made by Ackley Hubbard of Spencer. The president in his address gave special praise to the "group system," which was the means of bringing bodies of bankers geographically closer in meetings which were most profitable.

At 2:30 p. m. the association took the electric car line for Clear lake, ten miles distant. The remainder of the afternoon was spent on steamers and sailboats. In the evening a banquet was given by the visitors.

Volunteers at Atlantic. ATLANTIC, Ia., May 25.—(Special Telegram.)—Captain L. E. Hollowell has a company of volunteers organized at this place and telegraphed by Mayor George W. Brett and the response made by Ackley Hubbard of Spencer. The president in his address gave special praise to the "group system," which was the means of bringing bodies of bankers geographically closer in meetings which were most profitable.

At 2:30 p. m. the association took the electric car line for Clear lake, ten miles distant. The remainder of the afternoon was spent on steamers and sailboats. In the evening a banquet was given by the visitors.

Volunteers at Atlantic. ATLANTIC, Ia., May 25.—(Special Telegram.)—Captain L. E. Hollowell has a company of volunteers organized at this place and telegraphed by Mayor George W. Brett and the response made by Ackley Hubbard of Spencer. The president in his address gave special praise to the "group system," which was the means of bringing bodies of bankers geographically closer in meetings which were most profitable.

At 2:30 p. m. the association took the electric car line for Clear lake, ten miles distant. The remainder of the afternoon was spent on steamers and sailboats. In the evening a banquet was given by the visitors.

Volunteers at Atlantic. ATLANTIC, Ia., May 25.—(Special Telegram.)—Captain L. E. Hollowell has a company of volunteers organized at this place and telegraphed by Mayor George W. Brett and the response made by Ackley Hubbard of Spencer. The president in his address gave special praise to the "group system," which was the means of bringing bodies of bankers geographically closer in meetings which were most profitable.

At 2:30 p. m. the association took the electric car line for Clear lake, ten miles distant. The remainder of the afternoon was spent on steamers and sailboats. In the evening a banquet was given by the visitors.

Volunteers at Atlantic. ATLANTIC, Ia., May 25.—(Special Telegram.)—Captain L. E. Hollowell has a company of volunteers organized at this place and telegraphed by Mayor George W. Brett and the response made by Ackley Hubbard of Spencer. The president in his address gave special praise to the "group system," which was the means of bringing bodies of bankers geographically closer in meetings which were most profitable.

At 2:30 p. m. the association took the electric car line for Clear lake, ten miles distant. The remainder of the afternoon was spent on steamers and sailboats. In the evening a banquet was given by the visitors.

Volunteers at Atlantic. ATLANTIC, Ia., May 25.—(Special Telegram.)—Captain L. E. Hollowell has a company of volunteers organized at this place and telegraphed by Mayor George W. Brett and the response made by Ackley Hubbard of Spencer. The president in his address gave special praise to the "group system," which was the means of bringing bodies of bankers geographically closer in meetings which were most profitable.

At 2:30 p. m. the association took the electric car line for Clear lake, ten miles distant. The remainder of the afternoon was spent on steamers and sailboats. In the evening a banquet was given by the visitors.

Volunteers at Atlantic. ATLANTIC, Ia., May 25.—(Special Telegram.)—Captain L. E. Hollowell has a company of volunteers organized at this place and telegraphed by Mayor George W. Brett and the response made by Ackley Hubbard of Spencer. The president in his address gave special praise to the "group system," which was the means of bringing bodies of bankers geographically closer in meetings which were most profitable.

At 2:30 p. m. the association took the electric car line for Clear lake, ten miles distant. The remainder of the afternoon was spent on steamers and sailboats. In the evening a banquet was given by the visitors.

Volunteers at Atlantic. ATLANTIC, Ia., May 25.—(Special Telegram.)—Captain L. E. Hollowell has a company of volunteers organized at this place and telegraphed by Mayor George W. Brett and the response made by Ackley Hubbard of Spencer. The president in his address gave special praise to the "group system," which was the means of bringing bodies of bankers geographically closer in meetings which were most profitable.

At 2:30 p. m. the association took the electric car line for Clear lake, ten miles distant. The remainder of the afternoon was spent on steamers and sailboats. In the evening a banquet was given by the visitors.

Volunteers at Atlantic. ATLANTIC, Ia., May 25.—(Special Telegram.)—Captain L. E. Hollowell has a company of volunteers organized at this place and telegraphed by Mayor George W. Brett and the response made by Ackley Hubbard of Spencer. The president in his address gave special praise to the "group system," which was the means of bringing bodies of bankers geographically closer in meetings which were most profitable.

At 2:30 p. m. the association took the electric car line for Clear lake, ten miles distant. The remainder of the afternoon was spent on steamers and sailboats. In the evening a banquet was given by the visitors.

Volunteers at Atlantic. ATLANTIC, Ia., May 25.—(Special Telegram.)—Captain L. E. Hollowell has a company of volunteers organized at this place and telegraphed by Mayor George W. Brett and the response made by Ackley Hubbard of Spencer. The president in his address gave special praise to the "group system," which was the means of bringing bodies of bankers geographically closer in meetings which were most profitable.

At 2:30 p. m. the association took the electric car line for Clear lake, ten miles distant. The remainder of the afternoon was spent on steamers and sailboats. In the evening a banquet was given by the visitors.

Volunteers at Atlantic. ATLANTIC, Ia., May 25.—(Special Telegram.)—Captain L. E. Hollowell has a company of volunteers organized at this place and telegraphed by Mayor George W. Brett and the response made by Ackley Hubbard of Spencer. The president in his address gave special praise to the "group system," which was the means of bringing bodies of bankers geographically closer in meetings which were most profitable.

At 2:30 p. m. the association took the electric car line for Clear lake, ten miles distant. The remainder of the afternoon was spent on steamers and sailboats. In the evening a banquet was given by the visitors.

Volunteers at Atlantic. ATLANTIC, Ia., May 25.—(Special Telegram.)—Captain L. E. Hollowell has a company of volunteers organized at this place and telegraphed by Mayor George W. Brett and the response made by Ackley Hubbard of Spencer. The president in his address gave special praise to the "group system," which was the means of bringing bodies of bankers geographically closer in meetings which were most profitable.

At 2:30 p. m. the association took the electric car line for Clear lake, ten miles distant. The remainder of the afternoon was spent on steamers and sailboats. In the evening a banquet was given by the visitors.

inferred that the ex-shipper will again try his luck in the field of politics, for the Mason City Globe writes: Iowa was never more beautiful in this section of the state. The ground has been thoroughly replenished with water and the streams are full. The hay is clear and the verdure is two weeks ahead of the north. Crops are growing grandly.

Cedar Rapids Republican: The passing away of Rev. William Ure at Omaha on Sunday morning from the land of the living a man who was 77 years old of Lin county's most honored and useful citizens. Mr. Ure settled in Fairfax townships with his family in 1841 and remained there for upwards of fifty years. He was always a public spirited citizen. For nine years he was a member of the board of supervisors, and represented Lin county in the seventh, eighth and eighteenth general assemblies.

Iowa News Notes. The steeple of Corpus Christi church in Fort Dodge was struck by lightning Saturday night. A Dunlap newspaper reporter everywhere in this town is the baby and not an idle man nor woman there. A brood of over 800 chickens has just been hatched by incubator process at the State school at Ames. The school is during the department encampment.

A loss of $1,000 was suffered in the burning of a farm house in Story county near Ames, the house belonging to William Miller of Des Moines.

Nevada business and social circles are regretting the removal of Colonel Scott, his wife and daughter to Des Moines after a residence in Story county.

It is said that in the case of Storms, the Burlington man accused of murdering a family, an effort will be made to mystify the jury by the testimony of a mysterious negro seen about the place.

First Pension of the War. Voucher No. 1 Goes to a Council Bluffs Woman on Account of Her Son, Lost on the Maine.

CHICAGO, May 25.—Jonathan Merriam, the United States pension agent at Chicago, issued today the first pension voucher of the war with Spain. It is for Mrs. Elsie A. Montfort of Council Bluffs, Ia., mother of Seaman William F. Montfort, who was a victim of the Maine explosion in Havana harbor February 15.

Word was received at Council Bluffs yesterday that congress had acted favorably on Mrs. R. T. Montfort's application for a pension for the death of her son, William Montfort, an able seaman on the battleship Oregon, a victim of the disaster to the battleship Maine. What the amount of the pension will be is not yet known. Mrs. Montfort's application was made within a month after the blowing up of the Maine and was probably the first filed with the department.

The papers of the late Judge Thorton of the district court and Hon. D. C. Bloomer of this city, Young Montfort was about 25 years of age and enlisted in the navy at Brooklyn in the summer of 1895. He was a plumber by trade and had worked with firms both in Council Bluffs and Omaha. His parents, who reside at 715 Washington avenue, are both well advanced in years and the pension will be of great assistance to them in their old age.

Mr. and Mrs. Montfort recently received from the government $26, of which $24 was back pay