COLUMBIA'S CREW THE FAVORITE.

Pennsylvania is Stated for Second Pince in the Freshman Race. SARATOGA, N. Y., June 29.—The night before the freshmen race finds some money awaiting the result. Columbia has a renarkably good looking junior eight that has done some splendid work. Pennsylvania freshmen are said to have made phenomenal time over the course, and appear to be in time over the course, and appear to be in fairly good form. Cornell's juniors are in fair shape, strong and determined to wipe out the stain of the New London defeat, it can be seen therefore that the struggle should be sharp and hot.

Columbia leads slightly in favoritism and outside the professional sporting element the recent defeat of the lithacans has caused the public mind to fook for Pennsylvania in second place.

the public mind to look for Pennsy, second place.

All the members of the crews except two of the Wisconsin man and one or two of the Cornell men are in excellent form.

A departure from American training methods is noted at the Columbia quarters, where the men are drinking two bottles of ale a day, an English trick, and another at Wisconsin, where sweets are allowed at dinner.
