

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE. E. ROSEWATER, Editor.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. Daily Bee (without Sunday) One Year $2.50...

OFFICERS. Omaha: The Bee Building, South Omaha: Slinger Block, Corner N and 24th Streets.

CORRESPONDENCE. All communications relating to news and editorial matter should be addressed: To the Editor.

BUSINESS LETTERS. All business letters and remittances should be addressed to The Bee Publishing Company, Omaha, Neb.

STATEMENT OF CIRCULATION. Copy of Nebraska, Douglas County, ss. George B. Tzschuck, secretary of The Bee Publishing company, being duly sworn, says that the actual number of full and complete copies of The Daily Morning Evening and Sunday Bee, printed during the month of June, 1898, was as follows:

Table with 3 columns: Number, Date, Total. Rows 1-15 showing circulation data for various days in June.

Total... 306,101 Less returns and unsold copies... 19,153 Net total sales... 287,908

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence this 30th day of June, 1898. G. B. TZSCHUCK, Notary Public.

The glorious Fourth! Be sure to celebrate today.

Nebaskan crops are just right for a joyous celebration of the Fourth.

The muscle of the turnstiles is the kind of muscle the exposition managers best enjoy.

Camara's fleet is penned up in a narrow canal, but it is much more at sea than any other Spanish fleet.

Fusion does not prove that the free silver issue has been resurrected. That is one of the things that helped the killing.

The Herdman gang must be given credit for possessing the foolhardiness of desperation. The death struggle is dramatic.

While remembering the sacrifices of the men of '76 do not forget those made by brave men of '98 in the engagement before Santiago.

It would be nothing more than to de-serve if the people would not call him "Pecos Bill" any more, but make it "Santiago William."

The revenue stamp famine is the only thing of the famine kind the American people have ever experienced and the fatalities will be few.

Iowa republicans seem to be throwing caution to the winds. The platform writers at one of the congressional conventions last week lapsed into poetry.

When the farmers market their wools they realize that there is considerable difference between a republican and a democratic administration of national affairs.

What stopped the June racing meet is the operations of the gang of gamblers and bunco men who had attached themselves to the enterprise. No one else is to blame.

A handsome railroad depot is valuable to any city for creating a favorable impression upon strangers. Omaha now has at least one depot of which the people need not be ashamed.

If Omaha is to boast metropolitan airs during the exposition is it not time that all night street railway service were materialized? Plenty of cities smaller than Omaha enjoy all-night street cars.

The most unique as well as appropriate celebration of Independence day anywhere will take place right on the exposition grounds at Omaha, where rises a triumph of peace in the midst of war.

The Bryan regiment is still calling for recruits and the men will be forthcoming without much further delay. The idea, however, that the name of Bryan alone would draw volunteers in such numbers that they would have to be turned away has been effectually exploded.

The people who have been postponing visits to the exposition under the apprehension that the show was not complete should deceive themselves no longer. Those who come now will avoid the crush and have the benefit of conveniences which are sure to be later over-crowded.

Fifteen thousand workmen began work on the first day of the month in the Birmingham coal and iron district of Alabama at advanced wages and with assurance that there will be work for all for an indefinite time. This without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation on earth.

The occupation of the new Burlington depot for the use and accommodation of passengers calls for an acclaim of jubilation. Omaha has waited long for passenger terminal facilities commensurate with its importance as a railway center, and this is the first step accomplished toward its realization.

PORTO RICO AFTER SANTIAGO.

Vigorous preparations are in progress for an expedition to Porto Rico to be under the command of Major General Brooke, which will start immediately after the fall of Santiago. It is now intended that the expedition shall consist of not less than 27,000 men and a larger force may be sent, perhaps a portion of General Shafter's army if it can be spared after it shall have accomplished the task in which it is now engaged.

The desire of the military authorities is to send some regulars to Porto Rico, believing that they would be more effective than the same number of volunteers, but in view of the splendid fighting qualities shown by the latter at Santiago there need be no fear that the volunteer force will fall in efficiency anywhere. If less thoroughly disciplined than the regulars the volunteers are not inferior in courage and dash, if the whole body is to be judged by the small portion that is with Shafter. These have been tested by as fierce fighting and under as great disadvantages as our soldiers are likely to encounter in Porto Rico or elsewhere and they have done their duty with an intrepidity and valor worthy of veterans.

The preparations for an early movement upon Porto Rico indicate that it is the intention to postpone the campaign against Havana, perhaps until autumn. The rainy season has begun in Cuba and while that hinders military operations could be conducted only with the greatest difficulty, besides which our unacclimated troops, if subjected to the hardships of active campaigning, would undoubtedly suffer severely from diseases peculiar to this season. Another consideration is that the period of hurricanes in Cuban waters is near at hand and it would be perilous to expose our war ships to these violent storms, during the prevalence of which they could probably accomplish very little against Havana. The blockade can be maintained, but that does not involve the risks incident to active operations against forts and land batteries. Still another consideration is that with Porto Rico in our possession and a part of Cuba occupied by an American army, Spain might conclude to sue for peace, surrendering Cuba without further fighting.

At all events the decision to send an expedition to Porto Rico immediately after the fall of Santiago is obviously judicious. Of course a strong squadron will accompany the military force. The task of taking that island will not be easy. The Spaniards have not been idle and the defenses of Porto Rico are undoubtedly in a condition to make a vigorous resistance to an invading army. How much of a force the Spaniards have in the island is not definitely known, but it is probably as numerous as the American force which it is proposed to send there. It is the present intention to make General Brooke military governor of Porto Rico.

INDEPENDENCE DAY.

The one hundred and twenty-second anniversary of the Declaration of Independence will be widely and enthusiastically celebrated. Not for many years has this patriotism of the people been so active and assertive as it is at this time. Everywhere men feel, as they have rarely felt before, a profound pride in and love of country. The events of the past two months have given the American people a keener and more comprehensive sense of the greatness, the power and the dignity of the nation. War has revealed to many what they had not comprehended before. It has shown our extraordinary ability to utilize rapidly our immense resources. No other nation as unprepared for war as were the United States two months ago could have accomplished so much in so short a time. It has illustrated anew the martial spirit and the courage of our people, it has demonstrated the patriotic devotion to the government of all sections of the union and it has shown that we are recognized as a power in the affairs of the world which most be respected.

THE DUTY OF POLICEMEN.

Every member of the police force is sworn not only to enforce but to obey the laws. In the discharge of this duty he must be governed by the interpretation which the courts place upon the law. Every policeman now on the force holds his appointment under the charter provision which conferred upon the governor the power to appoint a board of fire and police commissioners for metropolitan cities. That part of the charter has been declared unconstitutional by the supreme court, and the board made up of the mayor and Messrs. Coffman, Collins, Birkhauser and Karbach have been recognized and designated by the judgment of the supreme court as the only legal police authority for the city of Omaha.

REMEMORANCE GOVERNOR HOLCOMB FOR A POLICEMAN.

Central City Democrat (dem.) Judge Howard of the Populist Times says that Governor Holcomb will be remembered for the truth which he does not fight as if he desired to prevent it. I do not believe it possible for the republicans to beat us this fall, but we can easily beat ourselves and in my judgment the way to do it is to renounce Governor Holcomb. If nominated I believe he will be beaten and I am afraid his nomination will beat the whole ticket. It will bring into the campaign some outside issues that are very dangerous. Our people must take kindly to a third term. They think he has been there long enough and that some other good man ought to have a chance.

PLANS OF NEBRASKA POPOCRATS.

Central City Democrat (dem.) Judge Howard of the Populist Times says that Governor Holcomb will be remembered for the truth which he does not fight as if he desired to prevent it. I do not believe it possible for the republicans to beat us this fall, but we can easily beat ourselves and in my judgment the way to do it is to renounce Governor Holcomb. If nominated I believe he will be beaten and I am afraid his nomination will beat the whole ticket. It will bring into the campaign some outside issues that are very dangerous. Our people must take kindly to a third term. They think he has been there long enough and that some other good man ought to have a chance.

REMEMORANCE GOVERNOR HOLCOMB FOR A POLICEMAN.

Central City Democrat (dem.) Judge Howard of the Populist Times says that Governor Holcomb will be remembered for the truth which he does not fight as if he desired to prevent it. I do not believe it possible for the republicans to beat us this fall, but we can easily beat ourselves and in my judgment the way to do it is to renounce Governor Holcomb. If nominated I believe he will be beaten and I am afraid his nomination will beat the whole ticket. It will bring into the campaign some outside issues that are very dangerous. Our people must take kindly to a third term. They think he has been there long enough and that some other good man ought to have a chance.

REMEMORANCE GOVERNOR HOLCOMB FOR A POLICEMAN.

Central City Democrat (dem.) Judge Howard of the Populist Times says that Governor Holcomb will be remembered for the truth which he does not fight as if he desired to prevent it. I do not believe it possible for the republicans to beat us this fall, but we can easily beat ourselves and in my judgment the way to do it is to renounce Governor Holcomb. If nominated I believe he will be beaten and I am afraid his nomination will beat the whole ticket. It will bring into the campaign some outside issues that are very dangerous. Our people must take kindly to a third term. They think he has been there long enough and that some other good man ought to have a chance.

REMEMORANCE GOVERNOR HOLCOMB FOR A POLICEMAN.

Central City Democrat (dem.) Judge Howard of the Populist Times says that Governor Holcomb will be remembered for the truth which he does not fight as if he desired to prevent it. I do not believe it possible for the republicans to beat us this fall, but we can easily beat ourselves and in my judgment the way to do it is to renounce Governor Holcomb. If nominated I believe he will be beaten and I am afraid his nomination will beat the whole ticket. It will bring into the campaign some outside issues that are very dangerous. Our people must take kindly to a third term. They think he has been there long enough and that some other good man ought to have a chance.

REMEMORANCE GOVERNOR HOLCOMB FOR A POLICEMAN.

Central City Democrat (dem.) Judge Howard of the Populist Times says that Governor Holcomb will be remembered for the truth which he does not fight as if he desired to prevent it. I do not believe it possible for the republicans to beat us this fall, but we can easily beat ourselves and in my judgment the way to do it is to renounce Governor Holcomb. If nominated I believe he will be beaten and I am afraid his nomination will beat the whole ticket. It will bring into the campaign some outside issues that are very dangerous. Our people must take kindly to a third term. They think he has been there long enough and that some other good man ought to have a chance.

REMEMORANCE GOVERNOR HOLCOMB FOR A POLICEMAN.

Central City Democrat (dem.) Judge Howard of the Populist Times says that Governor Holcomb will be remembered for the truth which he does not fight as if he desired to prevent it. I do not believe it possible for the republicans to beat us this fall, but we can easily beat ourselves and in my judgment the way to do it is to renounce Governor Holcomb. If nominated I believe he will be beaten and I am afraid his nomination will beat the whole ticket. It will bring into the campaign some outside issues that are very dangerous. Our people must take kindly to a third term. They think he has been there long enough and that some other good man ought to have a chance.

STAPLE PRESS ON STATE POLITICS.

One of Dewey's subalterns, known as Bill Savage, struck the fortification of Old John Baylors in the vicinity of Cavite the day after Montenegro jumped the bridge and absorbed enough of it to banish from his vocabulary every word but "hurroo," which he mumbled incessantly. A court-martial found Bill's conduct positively outrageous, probably because none but he got in on the ground floor. He was given fifteen days in chains. The sentence was certified up to Commodore Dewey, who wrote on the record as follows: "The proceedings of the court are approved; the sentence is approved, and the accused, William Savage, is ordered returned to his post in consideration of the glorious victory won by the fleet under my command."

MEN OF THE HOUR.

Commander McCalla of the Marblehead is doing more service than any of his associates in the tropics. He is everlastingly hammering away at the Demos wherever they approach within his range. He allows no opportunity to escape him and he covets and generally gets the most dangerous assignments for a gusboot. He has recovered the numbers lost through condemnation by a court-martial a few years ago. Abused members of his crew placed him on the black books of the navy. Now no man in the navy has a more loyal, brave and devoted crew than Commander McCalla. Adversity is a great teacher.

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

STAPLE PRESS ON STATE POLITICS.

One of Dewey's subalterns, known as Bill Savage, struck the fortification of Old John Baylors in the vicinity of Cavite the day after Montenegro jumped the bridge and absorbed enough of it to banish from his vocabulary every word but "hurroo," which he mumbled incessantly. A court-martial found Bill's conduct positively outrageous, probably because none but he got in on the ground floor. He was given fifteen days in chains. The sentence was certified up to Commodore Dewey, who wrote on the record as follows: "The proceedings of the court are approved; the sentence is approved, and the accused, William Savage, is ordered returned to his post in consideration of the glorious victory won by the fleet under my command."

MEN OF THE HOUR.

Commander McCalla of the Marblehead is doing more service than any of his associates in the tropics. He is everlastingly hammering away at the Demos wherever they approach within his range. He allows no opportunity to escape him and he covets and generally gets the most dangerous assignments for a gusboot. He has recovered the numbers lost through condemnation by a court-martial a few years ago. Abused members of his crew placed him on the black books of the navy. Now no man in the navy has a more loyal, brave and devoted crew than Commander McCalla. Adversity is a great teacher.

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

STAPLE PRESS ON STATE POLITICS.

One of Dewey's subalterns, known as Bill Savage, struck the fortification of Old John Baylors in the vicinity of Cavite the day after Montenegro jumped the bridge and absorbed enough of it to banish from his vocabulary every word but "hurroo," which he mumbled incessantly. A court-martial found Bill's conduct positively outrageous, probably because none but he got in on the ground floor. He was given fifteen days in chains. The sentence was certified up to Commodore Dewey, who wrote on the record as follows: "The proceedings of the court are approved; the sentence is approved, and the accused, William Savage, is ordered returned to his post in consideration of the glorious victory won by the fleet under my command."

MEN OF THE HOUR.

Commander McCalla of the Marblehead is doing more service than any of his associates in the tropics. He is everlastingly hammering away at the Demos wherever they approach within his range. He allows no opportunity to escape him and he covets and generally gets the most dangerous assignments for a gusboot. He has recovered the numbers lost through condemnation by a court-martial a few years ago. Abused members of his crew placed him on the black books of the navy. Now no man in the navy has a more loyal, brave and devoted crew than Commander McCalla. Adversity is a great teacher.

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

STAPLE PRESS ON STATE POLITICS.

One of Dewey's subalterns, known as Bill Savage, struck the fortification of Old John Baylors in the vicinity of Cavite the day after Montenegro jumped the bridge and absorbed enough of it to banish from his vocabulary every word but "hurroo," which he mumbled incessantly. A court-martial found Bill's conduct positively outrageous, probably because none but he got in on the ground floor. He was given fifteen days in chains. The sentence was certified up to Commodore Dewey, who wrote on the record as follows: "The proceedings of the court are approved; the sentence is approved, and the accused, William Savage, is ordered returned to his post in consideration of the glorious victory won by the fleet under my command."

MEN OF THE HOUR.

Commander McCalla of the Marblehead is doing more service than any of his associates in the tropics. He is everlastingly hammering away at the Demos wherever they approach within his range. He allows no opportunity to escape him and he covets and generally gets the most dangerous assignments for a gusboot. He has recovered the numbers lost through condemnation by a court-martial a few years ago. Abused members of his crew placed him on the black books of the navy. Now no man in the navy has a more loyal, brave and devoted crew than Commander McCalla. Adversity is a great teacher.

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

WAR NOTES OF THE WEST.

Indians in the West. "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?" "What's in it for me?" "I don't know, but what if I can't get you willing to take any risks for your country?"

STAPLE PRESS ON STATE POLITICS.

One of Dewey's subalterns, known as Bill Savage, struck the fortification of Old John Baylors in the vicinity of Cavite the day after Montenegro jumped the bridge and absorbed enough of it to banish from his vocabulary every word but "hurroo," which he mumbled incessantly. A court-martial found Bill's conduct positively outrageous, probably because none but he got in on the ground floor. He was given fifteen days in chains. The sentence was certified up to Commodore Dewey, who wrote on the record as follows: "The proceedings of the court are approved; the sentence is approved, and the accused, William Savage, is ordered returned to his post in consideration of the glorious victory won by the fleet under my command."

MEN OF THE HOUR.

Commander McCalla of the Marblehead is doing more service than any of his