LEAGUE CONVENTION TODAY

Everything in Readiness for the Republican Clubs to Gather.

DELEGATES WILL ASSEMBLE THIS MORNING

President Conaway is on Hand Ready for Business—Outline of the Work of the Convention.

Everything is in readiness for the convention of the state league of republican clubs, which will be called to order this afternoon at the Dohany opera house at 2 o'clock by F. R. Conaway of Des Moines, president of the league, who arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, together with E. W. Weeks of Guthrie Center, the general and popular secretary of the organization.

Although in point of numbers the convention may not be as numerously attended as at first expected, everything points to it being one of the most enthusiastic ever held in the history of the league. The local committee on arrangements, consisting of Postmaster I. M. Treynor, Judge Walter L. Smith and A. S. Hazelton, ably assisted by the members of the several subcommittees, have been hard at work and yesterday completed the details. The opera house has been tastefully decorated with bunting and the national colors and the stage banked with potted flowers and palms.

The committee on music has secured the services of Whaley's orchestra of fourteen pieces, which will enliven the proceedings with patriotic airs and campaign music. The league rooms at the Grand hotel have been arranged as headquarters for the officers of the state league and the officers will proceed in a body this morning from the hotel to the opera house, headed by the band and escorted by the members of the McKinley republican club of this city.

The first session will be devoted mainly to the address of welcome by Hon. John N. Baldwin of this city and the response by Hon. Sidney A. Foster of Des Moines. Among the matters to come before the convention will be some strong resolutions, incorporated in which will be one endorsing the present status.

The reception committee, composed of the following well known republicans of this city, L. M. Treynor, chairman; Jacob Sims, E. W. Hart, F. E. Everest, J. N. Baldwin, J. J. Steadman, A. T. Flickinger, John Matthews, Ed Brown, Ernest E. Hart, William Shepard, A. S. Hazelton, Victor E. Bender, William Arnd, C. S. Byers, Judge W. L. Smith, George S. Wright, J. P. Greenhills, C. M. Harl, C. G. Saunders, Freeman L. Reed, Charles R. Hannan, John S. Morgan, James A. Pauson, J. C. Cleaver, Theodore Gutzav, W. M. Pauson, R. M. Hill will meet all the incoming trains from the east this morning and escort the delegates to the headquarters at the Grand, where they will register. There are 1,200 republican clubs in the state, all of which have been invited to send delegates to the convention.

Sullivan's victory, while not such a glorious thing as that of Sewey or Schley, is nevertheless a big event in commercial lines. He has succeeded in inducing the people of Council Bluffs to eat more fish than they do in other cities of this size, hence its good record in the health statistics of the country.

MATTERS IN THE DISTRICT COURT. Judge Smith Renders Decisions in a Number of Cases.

In the district court yesterday Judge Smith handed down a number of decisions in the suit of Leonard Everett, executor of the estate of Horace Everett, against the city, county auditor and county treasurer to enjoin them from assessing and collecting city taxes on certain property within the city limits, which the plaintiff claimed was used solely for agricultural purposes, the court granted the relief sought for with the exception of a small part of the property listed in the petition.

In the injunction suit of N. P. Nelson against Justice of the Peace Ambrose, arising over a land deal the motion of the defendant for a new trial was overruled.

In the damage suit of Mrs. Jennie F. Kassing against the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway company, in which the railway secured a verdict, the plaintiff's motion for a new trial was overruled.

In the suit of James Doyle against James F. Burns, the defendant's motion to quash the original notice was overruled. This is the suit arising from the organization of the Portland Cement Association of Colorado, in which the plaintiff sues James F. Burns, president of the company, for $20,000, which he alleges to be the value of certain shares of stock in the company and dividends paid on these shares, which he claims by right belong to him, but are being unlawfully held by Burns.

In the superior court yesterday the case of Thomas C. Kennedy against M. E. Edgerton was tried before a jury. The suit is for possession of a house and lot in Williams' first addition.

By agreement judgment was entered for the Cady Lumber company against G. M. Jarvis and the Jarvis Manufacturing company in the sum of $2,223.

President Conaway and Secretary Weeks decided late last night that as the majority of the delegates would not arrive in time there would be no use in holding a morning session and the convention will not be called to order until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

President Conaway, Secretary Weeks and Chairman Byers of the executive committee went to Omaha last night to pay their respects to the officers of the national league.

As between the two it has been demonstrated that fish is considerably cheaper than meat. Another thing to be considered is that good fresh fish is much healthier.

Send in your order to Sullivan, the grocer, 343 Broadway, and have a mess of fish for dinner. You cannot come to the store just call 161 by phone.

More Difficulties. Indianapolis Journal: "No, sir," said the congressman with the lay-down collar and the large feet, "the idea of taking care of these tropical islands is utterly impractical."

But it would add to our wealth and power and be the means of broadening the influence of our institutions.

"I don't care. The Agricultural department is having trouble enough now keeping the farmers posted on weevils and Canada thistles. I don't know who's to be if they had to go to work and educate the masses in raising mangoes and breadfruit trees as things like them."

Hall Association Incorporates. Articles of incorporation of the Southwestern Iowa Hall association were filed in the office of the county recorder yesterday. The object of the association is to insure growing crops against loss or damage by hail and its territory embraces the counties of Pottawattamie, Mills, Montgomery and adjoining counties in the state of Iowa. Its principal place of business is Council Bluffs and the limit of assessment is 2 per cent of the amount insured, and in the event of greater loss than this, the 2 per cent is to be assessed and divided proportionately among the losers. The officers are: President, O. L. Barritt; vice president, F. T. Company; secretary, E. H. Olsenford; treasurer, A. N. Miller. The above officers with the following will constitute the board of directors: C. H. Vandruuff, Charles T. Handy, H. C. Brandes, H. O. Bruce, J. A. Farrington.

Conaway Arrives. F. R. Conaway, president of the state league, arrived yesterday afternoon accompanied by Hon. J. S. McQuiston, auditor of Polk county, who has just secured a renomination after a hard fight. Hon. H. W. Byers of Harlan, chairman of the executive committee, arrived yesterday morning and E. W. Weeks of Guthrie Center, secretary of the league, arrived last evening. Mr. Weeks will, it is generally expected, be rewarded for his loyalty to the league and the efficient manner in which he has discharged the duties of the office of secretary by being elected to the presidency of the state league.

Mr. Weeks said to a representative of The Bee that the officers of the league expected a large attendance at the convention, although politically this was an off year. "The campaign of the year is not so charitable," he said, "We want to bring the fellows back who went off on political tangents and show them the error of their ways. The object of the republican league is to look after the details of the republican party in all parts of the state, at all times during the year, to interest the young men who are about to reach their majority and to teach the principles of republicanism by the formation of clubs. The growth of the league in Iowa as throughout the whole country has been marvelous and its success has been due to the fact that it is one thing the league never does, that is to interest itself in the candidacy of any candidate until he secures the nomination. Then the league puts forth all its strength to aid in the election of such candidate."

On arriving here yesterday President Conaway found the following letter from Hon. John A. T. Hull, chairman of the congressional committee on military affairs, awaiting him: "HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES U. S. WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8.—F. R. Conaway—My dear Sir:—In favor of the 2d instant received. It will be possible for me to attend the convention at Council Bluffs. I hope that you will have a large attendance and that the enthusiasm in club work will continue unabated in Iowa; at least I think you have done great good for the party in the past year. regard the club as an invaluable unit in promoting republican success. It reaches the individual voter more directly and personally than can be done in any other way and stimulates ambition in every locality. I sincerely hope that your work, supplemented by the regular campaign of the party, will result in an overwhelming republican success in Iowa this year. I am, yours very truly, "J. A. T. HULL."

Hon. John P. Lacey, chairman of the committee on public lands, writes to Mr. Conaway regretting that he is unable to attend and says: "The club organizations have done a great work in the past and there will be good opportunity for them again this fall to assist the party of protection, progress and sound money."

W. Kynett has purchased a League Bicycle from Cole & Cole.

As the days roll round the big fish deals of Sullivan's grocery store are getting larger and larger. Each week necessitates the engagement of his orders until they have assumed mammoth proportions. Fish is a staple diet, healthy and palatable, and the people are beginning to recognize this fact more than ever. This week his shipment will be larger than ever.

Marble and Granite Dealers. The joint convention of the marble and granite dealers of Iowa, Nebraska, Illinois, Kansas, Missouri and South Dakota opens in this city today and will continue until Friday. Headquarters have been secured at the Ogden house, where the sessions will be held. The convention will be called to order this afternoon at 2 o'clock by J. M. Graham of Des Moines, president of the Iowa association, who is expected to arrive here early this morning.

ANNIVERSARY OF A TREATY

Sixty-Eight Years Ago Since Western Iowa Was Bought by the Whites.

AMOUNT RECEIVED BY THE INDIANS

Sacs, Foxes, Ottos, Omahas, Sioux and Missouris Were All Paid for Their Lands—Sum Compared with Present Values.

It will be just sixty-eight years on July 15 since that part of Iowa including Woodbury county was ceded by the Indians to the United States, says the State Journal. On that day in 1825 the Sac, Fox, Western Sioux, Omaha, Iowa and Missouri Indians sold a tract of land along the western Iowa slope for which they received the following as a consideration: Sacs, $3,000; Foxes, $2,000; Sioux, $2,000; Yankton, $2,000; Santee, $2,000; Omaha, $1,500; Ottos and Missouris, $2,500. These amounts were paid annually in installments for ten years and provision was also made for farm implements for the Indians and schools for their children.

From that day forward these beautiful and fertile lands have been under the control of the United States government. The Indian made no further claim to the property as tribes, but small bands indulged in frequent outbreaks. At times it was necessary to call upon the federal troops for assistance, but generally the Indians were peaceable and some of the companies of pioneers, Sioux City men and some who are still living here, have engaged in campaigns with scattered bands of Indians. From that time on the valuable lands passed into the possession of the white men, but it was many years before settled.

For generations the Indian had traversed the spreading prairies of northwestern Iowa and hunted the buffalo, elk and deer, fished in the streams and lakes unmolested by the onward trend of civilization. The time came when the natives were obliged to part with their lands, and they were not driven out of Missouri river to the west, but to the Missouri river and passing the sources of the Little Sioux and Floyd rivers, to the fork of the first creek that falls into the Big Sioux river, or Calumet, on the east side; thence down said creek and Calumet river to the Missouri river; thence down the Missouri river to the Missouri state line above the Kansas; thence along said line to the northwest corner of the state; thence to the highlands between the waters falling into the Missouri and Des Moines, passing to said highlands along the dividing ridge separating the waters of the Missouri from those of the Des Moines, to a point opposite the source of the Boyer river and thence in a direct line to the upper fork of the Des Moines river, the place of beginning.

This treaty was made by William Clark, Winthrop Morgan, of the First United States Infantry, and came into effect February 14, 1825, by proclamation. It does not appear that any fort was erected on these lands. The Indians after ceding their lands to the government lived on the reservation were under the control of the government.

Settlement Begins. Prior to that time white men had been in this section of the country, but no man had made any attempt to locate in the present site of Woodbury county. It was nearly eighteen years after the cession, and when Winthrop Morgan, of the First United States Infantry, and came into effect February 14, 1825, by proclamation. It does not appear that any fort was erected on these lands.
