Superior Court Notes.

In the superior court yesterday morning the jury in the case of Kennedy against Edgerton, after being out all night, brought in a verdict for the defendant. Thomas C. Kennedy, the plaintiff, held a mortgage on a house and lot owned by Mrs. Edgerton. To avoid foreclosure proceedings Mrs. Edgerton deeded the property to Kennedy. who in turn executed a lease for sixteen months to Mrs. Edgerton and gave bond to redeed the property to her if she should pay the amount of the mortgage and interest. She failed to pay and suit to secure possession was brought by Kennedy. In the suit of R. Holt Besley, trustee against. J. N. Casady, judgment was granted by default for $466.16, the amount of the notes sued on.

George H. Mayne was granted a restraining order against the city, county treasurer and county auditor, preventing them from collecting city taxes on certain property claimed to be agricultural land.

Henry W. Lewis was granted a decree of foreclosure against A. W. Darling and wife. The jury was excused until Friday, July 22, when the case of John L. Templeton sgainst C. B. Jacquemin will be taken up.
