East Omaha Trains Again Delayed. The Omaha Bridge and Terminal Railway company will not commence to run trains between here and the exposition before Sunday at the earliest. Superintendent Nichols stated yesterday that he hoped, however, to have the service in running order by that date. The track is all ready, but delay had been caused by putting in some of the crossings which had not been figured on at first. A temporary depot or platform has been erected at the Omaha end of the line and by Sunday a similar arrangement will, it is expected, be completed at this end, General Manager Webster is preparing a time card which will be published in a few days.

Clatterbuck Loses Cattle.

C. L. Clatterbuck, a stock buyer of this city, lost four head of cattle yesterday by agreement until August 15, owing to the morning. While driving along the Crescent City and Hazel Dell road the cattle went too near the edge of a steep embankment and tumbled down to their death. Mr. Clatterbuck says it was impossible to see the danger owing to a rank growth of weeds and other vegetation, and was in consultation yesterday with a view to bringing suit against the township officials for the loss sustained.

BUSINESS

Council Bluffs Merchants Well Pleased with Present Prospects.

the Implement Men Expect to Do a Greatly Increased Business This Fall.

The present condition of trade, although not in any wise savoring of a boom, is deemed satisfactory and even above the average for several years past by both the wholesale and retail business men of Council Bluffs. The prospects, they say, for a large increase in all lines of business this William B. Fisher, a well known printer large increase in all lines of business this of this city, is said to be a candidate for fall appear very bright, and they are looking for this increase earlier than usual. The reason they give is that harvesting commenced at an early date and in consequence the farmers will begin to make their purchases this fall at least a month before the general time. "Crops are good and the farmers of Pottawattamie as a rule will be this fall, and we look for them to buy liberally and not confine themselves to the bare necessaries, as the have been compelled to do for a few years past," is the explanation given by a retailer whose busi- on First avenue for paving were rejected ness to a great extent depends upon his trade among the tillers of the soil. Inquiry among the implement firms and jobbers shows that they are all preparing for an increased business this fall. The spring trade was one of the best for many years, but this fall they are looking for even better. The farmers, they say, will "money to burn" and big sales in their different lines are anticipated. For several years the farmers in this county as throughout the state have not been heavy purchasers of farming machinery as they have economized and tried to get along as fall, however, the jobbers expect that the farmers will be purchasing wagons and fall plows and many of them new carriages.

Business houses say that collections have held up remarkably well this summer and that people as a rule seem to have more money. One of the biggest retail grocers in the city said: "The prices of groceries, especially flour and sugar, have gone up, but people continue to buy just the same. Fruit has been plentiful and consequently cheap this year, and the housewives of Council mile from home and lay all night uncon-Bluffs are canning more preserves than they have done for a number of years past, at least I judge this must be the case from the immense quantities of sugar we sell. I also find my customers pay their accounts more promptly this year, and this goes to show that existing conditions are certainly more prosperous than they were this time last year." At other retail and wholesale stores simlar reports were forthcoming, and the general opinion among business men of all classes in the city is that Council Bluffs can look forward to a most prosperous fall and winter trade this year.

War Against Avaricious Concerns. The retail druggists of Council Bluffs have been asked to join a boycott instituted by the Iowa Pharmaceutical society against convert the war tax into a source of rev enue to themselves by increasing the cost of the article considerably more than the tax amounts to At the recent meeting of the State Phar maceutical society the matter was brought up for action and a set of resolutions were prepared and forwarded to every retail druggist in the state, the most pertinent among them being the following:

Resolved, That we appeal to the fairness of the manufacturers to reconsider their er of justice to the retail druggists of the facturer, and we candidly and firmly agre that to such manufacturers as will not recognize this just claim we will decline to sell, offer for sale or display any article of their manufacture upon which they have advanced their prices to the retailer be-cause of the stamp tax, and to carry out the purpose of this resolution the under-signed individually and collectively agree. The boycott will not be made general until 75 per cent of the retail druggists in FOR SALE—Good second-hand bicycle at the state agree to refuse to handle such bargain. Call at The Bee office, Council proprietary and patent medicines on which the price has been raised since the war tax vent into effect.

All of the retail druggists of this city who have been seen say they are in favor of the movement. They would not object to share part of the burden of the tax, but certainly bject to be called upon to stand it all.

In the district court yesterday H. B Wycoff filed a petition for divorce-from his wife, Artie M. Wycoff, whom he married July 4, 1893, in Manhattan, Kan. The divorce is asked for on statutory grounds. In the superior court yesterday in the case of Kennedy against Edgerton the motion on the part of the plaintiff for a new trial was sustained by Judge Aylesworth. By agreement the trial was set for the second day of the August term.

In the case of George H. Scott against George A. Gregory, the examination of the defendant as to his property was continued

Deserted by Her Husband.

Mrs. E. Howell, living at the corner of Ninth street and Avenue F, called on the police yesterday to assist her in locating her husband who she alleged had deserted her and had, she thought, gone to Omaha in company with another woman. Mrs. Howell and her husband came here from Wisconsin few months ago and Howell earned a livwork both for color and finish. 520 Pearl ing by peddling. According to Mrs. Howell's story her husband informed her before he left that the marriage ceremony they had performed in Wisconsin was a mock one and that she was not his legal wife. Mrs. Howell is penniless and she and little baby for several days past have been supported through the kindness of neighbors. Omaha authorities have been requested to locate Howell, as he is thought to be living

> Veteran Union Encampment. Island No. 1, command No. 14, of the Union Veteran Union has elected E. R. Fonda as representative and Scott Rice as alternate to the national encampment of the union, which will be held at Rock Island August 9 o 12. V. E. Davis, commander of the local camp, is by virtue of his office also a delegate to the national encampment. The question of railroad rates to the encampment has not yet been fully settled, but it is understood that the western roads are figuring on making a one fare round trip, while the east-

Rock Island will be the thirteenth of the order and promises to be the largest gathering of members since the organization was perfected. The citizens of Rock Island, Davenport and Moline are making great preparations to entertain in royal style the visiting veterans.
