THAT FAMOUS SUNDAY FIGHT Captain of the Brooklyn Adds an Interesting Chapter to the Story. RECEIVED SURRENDER OF THE COLON Other Naval Commanders Add Their Reports, Giving in Detail Features of the Engagement.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—The Navy department has made public the reports of Captain Cook of the Brooklyn, Lieutenant Usher, commanding the Ericsson, and Captain Cotton of the Harvard, giving the details of the destruction of Cervera's fleet.

U. S. F. B. BROOKLYN, First Rate—At Anchor, Guantanamo Bay, July 7.—Sir: At 9 a. m., July 7, I gave orders for general arrangements to be made for the enemy were telegraphed by the Iowa as coming out. At the same time they were discovered by the quartermaster on watch, N. Anderson of this ship, and reported to the officer of the deck. The executive officer, Lieutenant Commander Mason, who was on deck about to execute the order for general arrangements, gave the order, "Clear ship for action and general quarters."

2. The head of the Spanish squadron, in column, was seen at the entrance of the harbor of Santiago, heading about southwest. The Spanish squadron consisted of the Maria Teresa (flagship), Vizcaya, five-inch and six-inch gun destroyers. We opened fire on the leading ship in five minutes from the discovery.

3. The port battery was first engaged, as we started with port guns, and the leading ship and giving them a raking fire at about 1,500 yards range. The enemy turned to the westward in close into the land, and the starboard battery into action. The enemy hugged the shore to the westward.

4. The Brooklyn leading, was followed by the Texas, Iowa, Oregon, Indiana and Gloucester. The Vixen, which had been to the southward on the blockade, ran to the southward and eastward, and opened fire some time off our port side, distant about 1,000 yards, evidently intending to guard against torpedo attack upon this ship. The shells passing over us fell very thick about her, some passing over her. At this time the firing was very fast and the whistling of shells incessant and the blowing report of little injury was made, and can only be attributed to bad marksmanship on the part of the enemy. The Maria Teresa, which had dropped anchor, was seen wearing under the heavy fire of our fleet, ran ashore.

5. The Vizcaya, Oquendo and Colon continued on and gained in distance. The Brooklyn was engaged with the three leading ships of the enemy, the Oregon, Oregon, and the Texas, Iowa and Indiana keeping up a heavy fire, but steadily dropping astern. The Oregon was keeping up a steady fire and was firing rapidly, but the Texas, Iowa and Indiana were firing more slowly. The Oregon was firing more slowly than the Texas, Iowa and Indiana.

6. Firing immediately ceased and we both closed in to the enemy. The Oregon was firing more slowly than the Texas, Iowa and Indiana. The Oregon was firing more slowly than the Texas, Iowa and Indiana.

7. The Oquendo, soon after the falling out of the Texas, dropped astern and fired. The Oregon was firing more slowly than the Texas, Iowa and Indiana. The Oregon was firing more slowly than the Texas, Iowa and Indiana.

8. Firing immediately ceased and we both closed in to the enemy. The Oregon was firing more slowly than the Texas, Iowa and Indiana. The Oregon was firing more slowly than the Texas, Iowa and Indiana.

9. The Oquendo, soon after the falling out of the Texas, dropped astern and fired. The Oregon was firing more slowly than the Texas, Iowa and Indiana. The Oregon was firing more slowly than the Texas, Iowa and Indiana.

10. Lieutenant Hudson was on the bridge coolly and deliberately taking bearings and measuring and giving range. He was assisted by Chief Yeoman George E. Ellis with a stadiometer until Ellis was killed by a passing shell.

11. The officers of divisions, Lieutenants T. G. Griffin, W. E. Rush, S. Stimpson, J. C. Doyle, B. W. Wells, and Ensign Webster all performed their full duties deliberately and efficiently. The crew of the division were cool and efficient. Naval Cadets Halligan, Marble, Able and Cronan having especially been noticed for good service. Lieutenant B. W. Wells, who was a volunteer for command of a division and was given the fourth division, thus enabling me to station a commissioned officer in charge of the division.

12. Too much praise cannot be given the engineers' department for the hard work done by all in steadily raising the steam to the speed rose from twelve to fifteen knots.

13. The marines did splendid service at the guns and at their stations. The Oregon was firing more slowly than the Texas, Iowa and Indiana. The Oregon was firing more slowly than the Texas, Iowa and Indiana.

14. The boatswain, Hill, was continually about the forecastle, ready for any duty of staff, and from him received orders to remain in the vicinity until further orders. The signal was made by the Iowa, then just to the seaward of the Indiana, we sighted the leading vessel of the Spanish fleet coming out. The name of the Iowa first shot. We then headed the ship to the eastward, but had not got her steady on her course before a ten-inch shell struck the Iowa on the starboard side, and the Iowa of the ship across the pilot house, and a minute later a six-inch shell struck about twenty feet astern of the ship. The next five minutes a number of projectiles struck the water beyond and about her. Making the best possible I headed for Altair in order to communicate with the commander of the ship, and the Iowa of the ship across the pilot house, and a minute later a six-inch shell struck about twenty feet astern of the ship. The next five minutes a number of projectiles struck the water beyond and about her. Making the best possible I headed for Altair in order to communicate with the commander of the ship, and the Iowa of the ship across the pilot house, and a minute later a six-inch shell struck about twenty feet astern of the ship.

20. I would call to your especial attention the valuable and conspicuous services rendered by the crew of the Iowa. The crew of the Iowa were cool and efficient. Naval Cadets Halligan, Marble, Able and Cronan having especially been noticed for good service. Lieutenant B. W. Wells, who was a volunteer for command of a division and was given the fourth division, thus enabling me to station a commissioned officer in charge of the division.

21. The Oquendo, soon after the falling out of the Texas, dropped astern and fired. The Oregon was firing more slowly than the Texas, Iowa and Indiana. The Oregon was firing more slowly than the Texas, Iowa and Indiana.
