BUTCHER CARROLL ROBBED

Burglars Do a Clean Job and Get But Little to Reward Them.

SAFE BLOWN AND CONTENTS IRANSACKED

Thieves Enter by a Rear Window and Get Out of the Front Door Taking Everything They Fancied on the Way.

When T. C. Carroll opened his butcher shop at 510 Broadway yesterday morning he made the unpleasant discovery that the place had been visited by burglars during the night. The fact was made manifest when he found the front door, which had been locked the night before at the close of business, unfastened. It did not take Mr. Carroll long to find that his safe had been broken open and the contents thoroughly ransacked. The small cash box inside the safe, which only contained small change to the amount of $3, had been taken. This box contained some papers valuable only to the owner, and Mr. Carroll says he will be content to let the thieves keep the small change if they will return these papers. Examination of the store shows the burglars effected entrance by forcing a rear window. As the front door was opened from the inside, the thieves evidently made their departure by it. The shop is close to the Metropolitan hotel, where people are passing in and out at all hours of the night. The police were notified as soon as the discovery was made, but they have no clew to work on.

BYRNE BROUGHT UP FOR HEARING.

Man Charged with Forging Checks Tells His Story.

John T. Byrne, alias Tony Vade, charged with being Karl Harbert's accomplice in the robbery of David Bradley & Co.'s mail box at the postoffice and in forging the firm's endorsement to stolen checks, had a partial hearing before United States Commissioner George F. Wright yesterday. The authorities are anxious to introduce the evidence of another witness who could not be located yesterday, and the hearing was continued for a week.

The principal witness against Vade was Harbert, who has been bound over to the federal grand jury on the same charge. He testified that the checks were given him by Vade with instructions to try to get them cashed. He said that Vade told him to get the rubber stamp made with the firm name of David Bradley & Co. on it, and that Vade stamped the checks and forged the signature of W. W. Leominis.

Bad blood has existed for some time between these parties, and the trouble was not unexpected.

NO PROSECUTIONS AT PRESENT.

Hon. Lewis Miles, United States prosecuting attorney for the southern district of Iowa who was in the city yesterday, when asked if he intended taking action against the local express agents for alleged violation of the war revenue law in compelling shippers to pay the cost of the 1-cent revenue stamps on freight receipts, said he did not. There were two or three cases pending and until a decision was reached in these it was useless, he said, involving the government in the expense of bringing other prosecutions. In one way the war revenue law was being complied with inasmuch as the required stamp was being placed on all freight receipts, but if any express agent refused to accept a shipment from any person who declined to pay the cost of the revenue stamp, then that party could file an information before a federal officer and the government would be obliged to prosecute the case. He did not advise this, however, until the cases now pending were disposed of. The matter, he said, would be definitely settled before long.

MURDERER ARRESTED.

WEBSTER CITY, Ia., Aug. 5.—(Special Telegram.)—A 5 o'clock this morning the marshal of the little town of Jewell made $1,000 in less than an hour. It was the reward offered for the capture of a murderer. He faced bullets as they sped from the revolver of the hunted man and he sent back the whizzing lead to him know he did not fear his firing shots. He was fired. A terrible battle was fought between the contestants, which resulted in the murderer being safely landed behind the bars at Jewell Junction. The story of the capture is the story of an arrest that will pass into history as the most important one ever made in Hamilton county. On July 26 two tramps attacked four young men from DeWitt who were stealing a ride in a Northwestern box car from that city. The tramps robbed the young fellows, beat them terribly and forced them to jump from the train, one of them, Frank Baird, being killed. The governor offered a reward and with what the DeWitt citizens offered it made $1,000. Marshal Sam Riddle saw a tramp get out of a box car this morning at Jewell Junction and as he talked with the description of the murderer he arrested him after a running fight.

HORSESHIP JUSTICE IN IOWA.

WEBSTER CITY, Ia., Aug. 5.—(Special Telegram.)—This town has had two sensational horsehipings, the first being occasioned by the alleged slanderous utterances of Oscar Lytle against Mrs. J. M. Lytle. Mrs. Lytle became wroth, and taking a carriage whip, set out hunting for Lytle. On Monday he and his wife were in Webster City, and he snatched her down in handsome style. The second case was even more sensational. Mark Bedford, aged 65 years and wealthy, has lived unhappily with his wife and a short time ago thrashed her. They settled matters by agreeing to a divorce as soon as possible, he paying her a snug alimony. But the women of the town were not satisfied and hired four men to horsewhip Bedford. They captured him, did the work well, administering twenty-five lashes, and have not been interfered with since.
