BELL'S THREAT PARTLY REALIZED

Twenty-Five Painters Quit Work When Called on by the Walking Delegates—Status of the School Repairs.

The strike among school board mechanics which was threatened by President Bell of the Central Labor Union Monday night when the school board did not consent to employ only union labor, was started yesterday, but has not yet progressed to the entire satisfaction of the labor leader.

President Bell started out in the morning to make good his threat. He secured a list of the school board laborers from Superintendent of Buildings Harter. He visited each of the schools and delivered his message. It was received in good part by the painters, but the carpenters kicked.

The painters, however, obeyed the summons, and quit their jobs at noon and eighteen more went out before night. The walkouts occurred at the following buildings: Lake, four men out of seven; Central Park, all five men; Forest, three men out of four; Dupont, all six men; Bancroft, two men out of four; Kellom, five men out of nine.

There are four plasterers employed at the Bancroft school and one at the Kellom. All are union men and it is not probable that they will walk out. There are four bricklayers, one of whom is a union man and is expected to stick. There are nine carpenters, all but three union men, but they are all expected to stay.

The board employs at present about sixty-seven men. Over forty of these are special employes, as the permanent working force numbers only twenty-two. The additional men were taken on to make repairs during vacation time to get them in proper shape for the opening of the next school year.

Since he has no instructions from the board regarding the action he is to take under the circumstances, Superintendent Banker intends to hold out against the strikers and the unions. He declares he will go on with the work on the school buildings with the men that stick by him or employ others who are not affected by the strike.

REVENUE LAW HAS NO REMEDY

Common Carriers May Easily Evade the Payment of the Tax on Bills of Lading.

In answer to an inquiry made by N. B. Kelly, freight commissioner of the Trades League, Philadelphia, Revenue Commissioner Scott said the following telegram with reference to the duties of common carriers in the matter of supplying stamps for bills of lading and receipts issued.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Business of the Body Transacted in a Very Short Session.

POLICE BOARD'S ATTORNEY BILLS

Claim for Fees Earned in the Cases of Cox and Shoop Against the Board is Referred—Routine Matters.

The council did not have a great bunch of business on hand last night and rushed through with what it had with great expedition. Things ran so smoothly that little more than an hour sufficed to clean up the grist.

The Herdman Board of Fire and Police Commissioners presented for approval a bill of $555.90 from George A. Day and J. Duna for services rendered in the case of Cox against the board in the district and supreme courts, and the case of Shoop against the board in the supreme court. The bill has been approved by the board. It was referred.

City Attorney Connel presented a communication in which he declared that the plan recently adopted of issuing special assessments sinking fund warrants to take up and make payment of district bonds and coupons as they mature, each month is a bad piece of financing and unless changed will result in a great loss in the rate of interest to the city.

Mayor Moores returned the July appropriation sheet with his approval except an item of $50 for salary as temporary assistant clerk of the Board of Public Works in favor of J. C. Coburn and $25 of the $150 salary in favor of Street Commissioner Beverly. The assistant was considered necessary by the board and Beverly's $25 is an increase of salary, added by the board because he has done a horse to do his job.

St. Helen's hall, one of Portland's private schools, founded in 1869, has a creditable record in the history of the city. The school catalogue one sees several views of the "hall," Mount St. Helen (after which the school was named) just across the Columbia in Washington, and a charming view of Mount Hood, with its cloud-capped peaks.

RED MEN CELEBRATE TODAY

Another Great Secret Society Will Take a Turn at the Exposition.

This is the day set aside for the Red Men, who, although pale faces, have adopted the buckskin, feathers and tomahawk of the American aborigines and engage in the battles for which Nebraska was at one time famous. Tribes in Tennessee, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska and many other states are represented in this coming together on the Omaha hunting grounds.

The exercises of today will begin at a o'clock this morning with the formation of the parade in front of the Continental block. The parade will move east on Douglas to Eleventh, south on Eleventh to Farnam, west on Farnam to Sixteenth, north on Sixteenth to Twentieth, east on Twentieth to Eleventh and north on Twentieth to the exposition grounds.

There were roses—thats flower sacred to the muses—of many shades and colors. The rose is always ornamental, but when heaped in vast rose banks "elbow deep" they become imposing in their elegance. However, the roses of the exhibition are styled and arranged in the most graceful compliment in his power by likening it to the red tints of Aurora's fingers as they peeped from between the curtains of the east.

There was a harmony in shades of orange which was very gorgeous, stylish and very complete in every way. The effect of the whole was like a rich mosaic which our northern eyes seldom witness—and that what a gentle, balmy Nebraska gale kept up a continual rustling of the petals!
