

AMUSEMENTS.

The season of darkness at the Boyd is about over. It had been the intention of the management of this house to open it last week in July for three weeks of light opera before the regular season, but the difficulty came when the effort was made to secure a suitable company for the purpose. Many of the companies had disbanded for the season and those which had not were at summer resorts with proprietors which could not be broken. After weeks of searching and correspondence a contract has been closed with the Dorothy Morton company which has been filling a successful summer engagement at the Boyd for the past three weeks, commencing one week from tomorrow, August 22. Previous to going to St. Louis for the summer the company played a long engagement in Chicago and bears the reputation of being one of the strongest repertory companies in the country and one of the best equipped by reason of the large number of operas in its repertoire to successfully fill a long engagement. Just what the opening bill will not have been definitely decided but it will be entirely satisfactory to the management. "Robert le Diable," "Dorothy," "Gerardo Gerardo," "The Duchess" or "Bohemian Girl."

The Creighton during the last week has presented in "Faust" what in many respects was its most ambitious production. It has been a great success and there is every indication that it could have run another week to good business, though the management was somewhat fearful of the result of attempting to break the hitherto unvaried rule of one week's production. A portion of the due to the cooler weather and the popularity which "Faust" has always enjoyed in this city, and to the further fact that the number of strangers in the city in search of amusement is gradually increasing. The great measure of its success, however, must be attributed to the excellent of the performance. Mr. Montague is not a stranger to the part of Mephisto, having been leading man in Mr. Morrison's company and having also starred in the part. This enabled him to give an interpretation of the very difficult role which the limitations of ordinary stock company study and rehearsal would not ordinarily render possible. The progress of the week only emphasizes the statement made opening night that Miss Kennard's Marguerite was the best ever seen in the city. Mr. Enos in the comparatively limited appearance of Valentin, the comedy role, Miss Berkeley was clever as the gossip of the village, and incidentally the devotedly affectionate widow, a role similar to many in which she has been seen, but in strong contrast to the uncouth, mountain woman whom she so admirably portrayed in the past. Mr. Green as Faust was good, though not by any means the best thing he has done since he has been a member of the company, notably a thankless part in "A Fair Rebel." The scenic effects were much better than could have been expected, considering the elaborate nature of the production and the short run the piece was to have—in fact, they were ample for the purpose.

The week at the Trocadero has been a prosperous one, though the bill was not so good as those which preceded it. After the opening night it was strengthened somewhat. It is to be regretted that no clever as Graele Emmet in acts which are suited to her should adapt anything so dreary as the alleged comedy sketch in which she appeared. Her German lullaby was a redeeming feature of the act, simply because it was in the line of her past successes. The Flood brothers are exceptionally clever and graceful athletes and Mary Linn, operatic vocalist, contributed a pleasing number to the program. Moore and Karcher, musical comedians, and the Watson sisters and Zamboni on the trapeze were not new acts and have been amply commended on before. Haji Leask, the gun spinner, and Ali Zada, the neocomancer, were good in their way but not acts over which the observers are likely to grow enthusiastic.

The Woodward stock company, opening with the matinee today, and the show-going public are promised an entertainment far above the average and in keeping with the precedent hereof. The company, managed by Manager Cole at this fashionable and popular place. In vaudeville parlance no less than four distinct "head liners" are notable in the makeup of this week's bill, notably the first appearance in Omaha of Howard's famous performance ponies, four in number. These ponies are conducted by every manager throughout the country to be the greatest in the world and particularly the one named Sparkle, who does some very clever high school work in company with his three companions. He has, however, a Corbett-Fitzsimmons type of wrestling match as a catch-as-catch-can wrestling match with his trainer, who is decidedly bested, who, although a powerful man, is absolutely no equal with the pony. Horwitz and Dowers, America's representative travesty stars, are an especial feature on the week's bill and are recognized everywhere as the leaders in their particular line of work. Frederick brothers and Tenny in their original comedy musical act come direct from the Chicago opera house, where they were the "talk of the town." Their execution upon the many instruments is superb and truly enjoyable. Billy Arnold of minstrel fame in association with Miss Gardner will offer their fetching comedy sketch, which invariably meets with approval for originality. Zoyarra, an equilibrist of more than ordinary merit will introduce for the first time here his wonderful ball evolutions. Miss Constance Windom, the vivacious and charming singing comedienne, and the Sisters Laurence will complete the strongest vaudeville bill ever given in the Omaha public. This in conjunction with the delightful orchestral music by the Trocadero Challenge orchestra, under the direction of J. J. Blackford, will make beyond question the best performance ever given in this city.

Admiral Dewey and the scene of an ostrich driven to a buggy will be an interesting feature. The "Flemish Military Cafe," just opened on the West Midway, is destined to be one of the most popular places at the exposition. Colonel von Beaver, the manager, takes great pride in announcing that his is the only place in the exposition that handles the most famous of beers, "Tony Faust," "Budweiser" and "Anheuser-Busch." He is located directly opposite the Seenic Railway and has fine instrumental and vocal music day and night.

Heaven and Hell, the new attraction of the Midway, which is seeking a new name, is nearing completion in all its magnificent detail and will open as promised tomorrow night. In the Cataret de la Mort pretty girls dressed in widow's weeds will serve eatables and drinks to patrons seated at tables. Leaving here a guide leads the way through the weird, startling and sensational passages of Dante's Inferno and after passing through the throne room of hell raps on St. Peter's gate. Convincing evidence is gazing at the scene, which has passed through hell unscathed, the gate is thrown open and the ascent is made up the golden stairway and upon reaching the top a paradise true to its name bursts upon the view, in form resembling the beautiful blue front of song and story and radiant in its brilliant array of crystal stalactites and glitter of gold. Here an appropriate performance takes place upon the bosom of a beautiful lake under vivid and grand effects.

The Chinese theater, the "Streets of All Nations" and "Schlitz Pavilion" are crowded daily and becoming more and more popular as places of entertainment and resort. The "Mammot Whale" is attracting large crowds. It is the only exhibition of its kind in the world, and is creating very great interest, especially among the children. It is a monster fifty-five feet long, weighing 88,000 pounds.

Hagenback's is the constant delight of young and old. New features are being constantly added and no two performances are alike. People are still a-guessing how the wonderful tricks of the Chinese magician are performed. The operas and dramas on the stage of the Chinese theater are ever attractive novelties.

There is only one cyclorama on the Midway and it more than holds its own with all the pictorial representations on the row. The German Village has been drawing largely during the past week. Kirchner's lady orchestra is proving quite a success for a full and the party, headed by Mabel Lynch, Florence Harvey, Irene Franklin, Len Pearsley, Ella Kirchner and the kings of the horizontal bar, Starkey and Rathbun, the village is the most popular resort on the East Midway.

The Mystic Maze still creates great amusement for the visitors to the East Midway. It is one of the most wonderful and artfully arranged double systems of mirrors ever undertaken and the thousands of visitors to the maze daily attest their full appreciation of its features as a fun making and pleasing place of entertainment, where the beautiful woman defies discovery although $100 stands as the prize for anyone solving the puzzle.

The Streets of Cairo is a grand living exemplification of the customs of the people in every nation on the face of the earth. It includes a typical oriental cafe, a perfect panorama of the orient, a continuous performance in the Streets of Cairo commencing at 10 o'clock a. m., with the Mohammedan grand wedding procession headed by the Mohammedan priest, the greatest feats of the native aviator fighters, whirling dervishes, gun spinners, wrestling acrobats and the great Persian magician, Hassan, with the famous Egyptian and oriental theatrical entertainment of Egyptian dancing girls. There are upwards of fifty performers employed in the Streets continually, also a large number of booths, carrying a full line of oriental goods and trinkets. Camels and donkeys are also in grand demand.

The new East Midway Casino will give a grand opening entertainment today. This new place of entertainment has been very popular and known as "Clifford's Casino," but has just undergone considerable changes in general appointments, as well as management. It has been remodelled, refurnished, and set of scenery alone costing over $2,500. Also a $6,000 orchestra playing a repertoire of thirty-two tunes has been added. Chris Butler, the newly appointed manager, has already secured James T. Kelly, the well known comedian, as stage manager, with a troop of twenty-two new people from San Francisco.

"Tribby," Astley D. M. Cooper's celebrated painting, has arrived in the city and is now being placed in position in the new and elegant building especially constructed for it on the East Midway. It will be known as "Tribby Temple," and will be a most attractive addition to the exposition. "Tribby" comes here with the highest endorsements of the eastern press. In New York and Boston the picture was the talk of the town. It is said to be the most wonderfully realistic picture ever placed upon exhibition. Cooper has represented Du Maurier's heroine as posing for the "Altogether" for the art class in Paris, and so true to life is it that one can hardly believe it is a painting. It seems almost to breathe and to have a life of its own. Indelible about it, for it is purely beautiful. The figure stands in an alcove and the relief is so wonderful it seems to be right in the room instead of on the canvas. The picture has been visited by more than 2,000,000 people in the last three years and will be likely to draw large crowds here. The exhibition opens Tuesday.

Visitors to the exposition are of one accord in their expressions of the great novelty, excitement and pleasure combined in a ride upon Griffith's Seenic Railway. It is double tracked for the distance of a mile, running through a tunnel of over a quarter of a mile, passing lakes and most beautiful mountain scenery. It also passes the famous battle ground and reproduction of the city of Manila with Admiral Dewey and his fleet of war ships occupying the harbor of Manila. Mr. Griffith has just secured the services of a brass band, which number of pieces does not equal the national marine band but displays a fairly good music and has been mistaken for Phineas or Sousa's famous. The Seenic Railway, like that of the chutes, is considered the strongest attraction on the Midway.

"Chute the Chutes" on the great incline is daily becoming a most popular pastime on the West Midway. It is certainly a most exhilarating and exciting ride, and one which captivates and entices the participant into a repetition of the taking of a second ride before leaving, so great is the novelty and the pleasure. It is conceded the greatest attraction with the scenic railway that there is at the exposition.

The ostrich farm business is getting to be enormous. Everybody visiting it once or so well pleased they always return, bringing a crowd of friends with them. That's the reason for the enormous business at this new doing. They are now training Admiral Dewey, one of their finest birds, to drive. The Studabaker Wagon company are now making a beautiful buggy for the bird. Mr. Pearson, the manager, has already made a harness for
