

WAY LOOKS DARK TO THEM

Populists Discouraged at Their Present Political Prospects.

RESULT OF THE ELECTION IS FORECASTED

Leaders Already Admit the Defeat of Poynter and Practically Concede the Legislature to the Republican Party.

LINCOLN, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—The prospects of the southeast part of the state are discouraged over the prospects in the coming campaign and many of them admit that they are in danger of losing the offices of governor and lieutenant governor and that the legislature will be republican. There is a disposition to claim that the state officials who have been re-nominated will be elected, but this claim is made in a weak and halting tone. Among them all there is a realization that the return of prosperity, the successful conduct of the war, and general conditions over the country will have an effect on the vote of this state. It is conceded that every man who voted the republican ticket in 1897 will vote the same this year and that the present campaign will be one in which the republicans will be on the defensive and will be a struggle to see how many or how few of the voters will go to the republican ticket. In many of the legislative districts the populist members were elected two years ago by narrow margins and a few changes in each case will give the majority to the republicans.

One county heard from today where the prospects for republican success are flattering is Webster, where two years ago the populist county attorney was elected by only three majority and the populist candidate for the legislature had less than 200 votes to spare although the republican candidate made no campaign against him. This year the republicans have nominated a strong man and believe they will win easily as a majority of the population here are announcing a change of faith. In Merrick, Howard and many other counties the revolt against populism has not yet begun, resulting in significant local victories.

Some Significant Changes. Those who have figured over the situation fail to find a single locality in the state where the populists can hope to make a single new convert, while the new changes in favor of the republican party come from all parts of the state. It is related that at the recent republican convention in Colfax county four precincts were represented by Republican delegates, a majority of whom had heretofore been identified with the other parties. A number of the delegates who took part in the state convention last Wednesday were ardent populists a year or so ago. One of these was Captain O. F. Brown of Merrick county, who served in the legislature of 1892 as a democrat. He was proudly wearing a republican badge, when an old acquaintance met him and expressed surprise that he should be taking part in a republican convention. Captain Brown said: "Well, I tell you what it is, I got enough of the fusion crowd. When I attend a circus, I want to be under one tent and with only one show, so I can watch the show. The fusion crowd managers are engaged in an attempt to fool the people, and I am not going to stay with their show any longer."

In the spring of 1897, right after the legislature had adjourned, H. A. Edwards, the first assistant secretary of the senate, and who is reputed to be one of the shrewdest men in the populist party, publicly expressed his opinion that the next legislature would be republican, partly because of the change in conditions over the country and partly because of the record of the session just closed. A few days ago Mr. Edwards was in the city and was heard to repeat the prediction made over a year ago. He thought the indications were not good for populist success. Secretary Edwards is not the only one who has been heard to thus frankly express himself on the subject. The members of the state house party do their best to explain away the difficulties in the fusion path and the explanation of the belt of the Cass county democrats at the Plattsmouth convention is a sample effort. They say that the men who walked out of the convention "are men without character and who do not have enough political influence to control their own votes." There is no excuse offered why such men as these are said to be allowed to occupy seats as delegates in the convention.

Teachers Are Interested. The state superintendent has just returned from a visit to three or four institutions in the interior of the state and he reports that there is an unusual interest among the teachers. The attendance of male teachers is smaller than usual on account of the fact that a large number of the enlisted and went to the front with the three Nebraska regiments. Mr. Jackson expressed much pleasure over the news of the success of the excursion of the school children to the exposition and said there was no doubt that such excursions from all parts of the state would be immensely popular.

The Young Women's Christian association has for several years operated a home for young women, the idea being to furnish a place where young women who were without relatives in the city could be furnished a home with safe and pleasant surroundings. The institution was not operated as a money making scheme and its popularity has grown so much that the society has found it necessary to move into larger quarters. The place selected is the McBride block, a short distance from the State university, and the move will be made September 1. After which the society will take up the work on a more extensive basis.

Louis Kamm, a farmer in Centerville precinct, was arrested last evening on complaint of his sister, Mrs. John Doody, charged that he has been guilty of criminal relations with his sister, Amelia, a 14-year-old girl. Kamm asserts that he is innocent of the crime. The preliminary examination has not yet been held.

Mrs. D. McHenry and Miss Margaret Cooke of San Francisco are the guests of Mrs. H. B. Tomson at the Lincoln. They have been making a trip east, spending the summer at Boston, Newport and Niagara and will make a visit at the exposition before returning home.

Miss Margaret Gayford, whose talent as a soprano has attracted much attention, will leave next week for New York, where she has been engaged to sing in Dr. Lyman Abbott's church during the coming year. At a recent meeting of the city council a resolution was passed authorizing the city attorney to compel the school board to pay paving taxes on the property belonging to the district and abutting on paved streets. The payment is disputed and there is some doubt expressed of the power of the council to enforce the collection of the taxes. It is probable that the matter will be settled in the courts.

The Wisconsin veterans will hold a picnic at Lincoln park Monday, to which all Wisconsin people, old and young, are invited.

Little Interest in Campaign. FREMONT, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Never before this year has there been apparently so little interest shown in the preliminary attending the campaign in the Third congressional district. It is generally conceded that Judge Norris of Ponca will receive the nomination on the first ballot if he is not chosen by acclamation. Up to a few days ago he was the only man in this part of the district that was talked of for the place. When mentioned, the gates to the congressional convention from this country, though uninvited, were Norris men. Recently other names have been mentioned, among them Fred W. Vaughn, who was one of the gold demagogues that was mentioned in the convention of 1896, but who has this year come out as a full fledged republican. Vaughn's candidacy was sprung rather late and will not affect Norris' nomination.

Considerable opposition of a very active kind has developed against Judge Marshall. A large faction of the democrats insist upon naming the man and are for Judge Robinson of Madison. Before his nomination for governor, Poynter was being talked of by the populists. Since then the indications point to the entire possibility of his nomination being thrown to him and as that section of the party has a majority in the convention and several democratic county delegations are instructed for him it would appear as though he had the nomination all right. The republicans are fighting change in this district, although there is a big opposition majority to overcome. Norris is a man of high character and standing throughout the district—one of those people who command the respect of all who know him and who improve on acquaintance. The result of the campaign will depend or rather will be indicated by the quality of harmony that may prevail in the fusion convention at Norfolk on the 15th.

Golden Wedding. FREMONT, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—A social event of much interest to the older residents of the city was the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hayes, which was celebrated this afternoon at the residence on Thirteenth street. Although both have nearly reached the allotted four score years they are as active and strong as many people fifteen years younger. Both are New England people. Mr. Hayes being a native of Concord, N. H., and Mrs. Hayes of Bedford, Mass. They were married at New Bedford, Mass., August 13, 1848. They came to Nebraska about thirty years ago and a few years later to Fremont, where they have since resided. Mr. Hayes followed his trade of carpenter and building contractor. They have four children, three sons and one daughter, Mrs. Carrie Nye of this city, and several grandchildren. Over 200 invitations were issued for their reception of this afternoon and evening and a large number of their friends from all over the state were invited. They were the recipients of many valuable presents. Mr. Hayes has been for many years a member of the various lodges of the Masonic fraternity, including the Knights Templar and these organizations all remembered him with handsome presents.

House Struck by Lightning. WEST POINT, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Last night lightning struck the house of William Grunke, a farmer living southeast of the city, and in some manner filled the house with gas and but for the presence of a neighbor the children, who slept upstairs, would have been suffocated.

The newly installed county clerk has appointed A. A. Peterson as his deputy. R. Peterson as assistant. Mr. Carl Beckenbauer of West Point has been employed to make up the tax list of the county. Rev. Samuel Pearson, pastor of the Congregational church of this city, has announced his intention of resigning the pastorate. The contract for the building of the new Congregational parsonage has been let to John Hoffman for $1,500. Work will be begun on the structure immediately. The lot upon which the building will stand was donated by R. C. Peters of Omaha.

Rain at Harvard. HARVARD, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Rain came yesterday morning in the amount of 1.10 of an inch, which with the two inches or more that came one week ago, has greatly helped the corn, and given farmers a chance to begin their plowing for fall wheat.

The ticket dominated at the great convention of the republican party this week gives great encouragement to party members that the ticket will be elected at the November election.

Reports to the Mad Stone. FAIRMONT, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—One week ago tonight Mr. J. H. Campbell of Mason, Mo., was bitten by a mad dog. He arrived here last night and went to the hospital, where he had the madstone applied. It stuck like a leech seven different times, when it would let loose. It was soaked in sweet milk and applied again each time it was soaked. It turned the milk a dark green color. The eighth time it was applied it refused to stick. Mr. Campbell leaves for home today.

Fatal Accident. GLENWOOD, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Charles Tolles, living south of Glenwood, was caught between the engine and "tender" of his steam thrasher last evening and a leg mangled. He had finished threshing for A. J. Harmer, a Lyons township farmer, and in making a grade his coupling chain broke. He threw his throttle open and went back after the tender with a rush that lost him his limb and his life. He leaves a family.

Adams County Corn Crop. EASTINGS, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—The cool evenings accompanied by heavy dews are doing considerable towards bringing Adams county's corn crop around in shape. The present indications are that it is toward a yield of nearly 60 per cent. The recent heavy rain put the soil in excellent condition for plowing and nearly all of the farmers are taking advantage of it.

Rain at Edgar. EDGAR, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—A nice rain fell here last evening. Half inch rain for a few minutes, but no damage was done in this locality. Corn is doing nicely and looks promising. Many farmers think the crop, even in this section, which has, perhaps, suffered more for rain than any other part of the state, will considerably exceed last year's crop.

Farmers Busy Stacking. TRENTON, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—The farmers are very busy stacking their large loads of grain and in thrashing. The crop of straw is unusually good and is turning out the amount that has been expected. Corn is growing well, but a good rain would be of great benefit. We are having Indian summer weather and the best of the season. The second crop of alfalfa is in the stack. A half dozen new buildings will be put up a little later. All lines of business are gradually improving and this county is putting on an odd time appearance.

RUSSELL IS HELD FOR ASSAULT Preliminary Hearing Had Before Judge Howard—Sensational Testimony Introduced.

PAPILLION, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—The preliminary hearing of George Russell, charged with assaulting Susie Key, was held before Judge Howard today. Sensational testimony was introduced and Russell was bound over to the district court under $2,000 bonds.

Cass County Democrats. ATLANTIC, Ia., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—An attempt to hold a county democratic convention at the Cass county democratic convention this afternoon. The Chicago platform of 1896 was adopted, resolutions approving McKinley's war administration, condemning County Board of Supervisors and republicans but not yet got any members of the Board of Supervisors, specially in regard to printing board proceedings. They named Dr. M. J. Emmett, member of the State Board of Health, as their candidate for congressional honors of the Ninth district and gave him the privilege of selecting the members of the State and judicial delegates were named. County officers selected to go to their defeat were: John Haddock, county attorney; J. O. Pudge, county recorder; J. A. Totton, county clerk; Ned Haffensberger, county auditor; C. M. Blakely and John Swanson were named members of the Board of Supervisors.

The populists held their county convention in a separate hall, but endorsed the democratic nominees. John Blaks was elected county chairman.

Boy Missing. PLATTSMOUTH, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—Horace, the 11-year-old son of Orrin Smith, who has been living at home going to school, left home yesterday without supplies for a journey and no tidings of him can be found. Fears of foul play or that he may have been drowned are entertained by his parents. His father went to Omaha this morning to see if he could learn anything there.

Tonight some local interested itself in the Salvation Army meeting in a characteristic manner and the police were called. Officer Murray placed a Plattsmouth man, a printer named Nick Hames, under arrest and when taking him into custody Hames was attacked by a Salvationist, Drake, Officer Murray placed him under arrest also and conducted both to jail.

Narrow Escape. SEWARD, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—While two small children of H. D. Water, south of town, were driving to the city this morning they had a narrow escape from being killed by a B. & M. passenger train going west. They were crossing the track and did not see the train as it came around the curve, but the horse did and became unmanageable, overturning the buggy and throwing both children on the track. The engineer saw them and applied his emergency brakes, stopping the train within a few feet of where the children lay. The child was picked up and taken to the depot, but beyond a few bruises they were uninjured.

Murdered for His Money. LINCOLN, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—A despatch from the coroner of Frontier county at Stockville, Neb., tells of finding the dead body of Thomas Jansen in a well on the farm of Andrew Hawkins, near that place. Jansen was a wealthy money lender from Beatrice, who made a trip to Frontier county last week and was never seen since. He was known to have over $1,000 in cash and negotiable securities. The coroner wires that the inquest develops that Jansen was murdered for his money. Hawkins has been held and other arrests will be made.

Successful Teachers Institute. TRENTON, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—The two week institute for the county school closed today with an examination of the teachers for certificates to teach. This has been a very successful institute and the teachers speak in high praise of the instructors, Prof. Stevens and Mrs. Tucker. Mrs. Tucker lectured on Tuesday evening on a full house on the subject "The Point of View." A social for the visiting teachers last night called out a very large crowd.

Water System Completed. CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—The water and sewage systems at the government Indian school in this city have been completed and accepted by the government. Work is now in progress on several additional buildings. The regular term of the school commences the first Monday in September, by which time it is expected the school will be filled to its capacity.

May Have New Depot. HASTINGS, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—There is a rumor afloat in Hastings to the effect that the B. & M. Railroad company contemplates erecting a large new depot in this city before long. It is thought that work on it will be commenced about the first of October. There are various places mentioned as to its probable location.

Teachers Institute. TEKAMAH, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—One of the most successful of the county institutes ever held in Hart county closed here today. There were thirty-two teachers enrolled. This institute was conducted under the direction of C. S. Laurin, county superintendent, assisted by an able corps of instructors and lecturers.

Peace Celebration. WEEPING WATER, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—The proclamation of peace was celebrated here tonight with artistic fireworks, bonfires and speeches by numerous citizens. A martial band furnished music and a large concourse of people were present to show their patriotism and participate in the ratification.

Work on the Wing. HASTINGS, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—The work on the new wing at the asylum has gone more than half way and is now being pushed with great rapidity. Every thing is moving along smoothly and it is almost a certainty that the new wing will be finished and ready for occupancy about the first of September.

Disease Among Hogs. NELSON, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—The farmers of the vicinity have called Dr. Peters of the Nebraska experiment station to diagnose a disease which is now very fatal. The disease somewhat resembles cholera.

Money for Sick Soldiers. TEKAMAH, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—The Women's Relief corps of this city gave an entertainment entitled "Carnival of Nations" and an ice cream social in the opera house last night, the proceeds to go to the benefit of sick soldiers. The receipts were $67.

Shuffle Club Organized. HASTINGS, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—A rifle club has just been organized in this city. It is composed of eight young men and eight men. The club held its first target practice last night at its range north of the city. Several large scores were made by the women as well as the men.

New Brick Building. NELSON, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—William Stansbury is erecting a large two-story brick building, to be occupied as a hardware store. The Commercial bank will build a similar one just beside it on the north.

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.

The special election held on July 26 last for the purpose of voting on the proposition to build a city hall to cost not less than $40,000, cost the taxpayers $75.50. This amount in bills has been allowed by the council, so that there is no going behind the records. The judges and clerks were paid $4 each for the day's work and this item alone amounted to $72. The same room for nine voting places at 12 per room, which added $108 to the cost. The mayor's election proclamation was printed in both of the local dailies at a cost of $75 each, making $150. Then comes the bill for printing the sample and official ballots at the rate of $5 per 1,000, adding $70 to the expense. The next item is for stationery and ink, $25, and the next $19 for printing the ordinance calling the special election. Last of all is the small item of $15.00 for erecting and taking down the voting stalls. Thus the total is a little over $750.

All of the talk of the mayor making an effort to get the judges and clerks to serve for nothing, and trying to induce owners of rooms to give the rent of their places free for this purpose, seems to have been for naught. The bonds were defended by a vote of more than three to one, and as it was known several days before the election what the result would be, the council would have saved this expense by calling the election off. It is evident that the people want to see the city officers removed to some other building, but the general opinion seemed to be that $40,000 was too much money to spend for the purpose at this time. The lease on the present quarters expires on December 1 of the year, and it is understood that an effort will be made to find suitable quarters before long.

Postoffice Needs More Clerks. Postmaster McMillan has not received a reply yet to his request for a reinstatement of the two clerks removed on August 1. The clerks leaving here the other day the inspectors sent to check up the office stated privately that they would certainly recommend that two more clerks be added to the present office roster. How the work would be done with the help at present employed was more than the inspectors could understand. The business at the office is on the increase daily, and it is impossible for the help now employed to take care of the immense amount of mail received and sent by the packing houses, to say nothing of the balance of the mail matter. It is expected that some answer will be received from the department during the present week. The office here is now one of the first class, the receipts from stamp sales and box rent amounting to over $40,000 a year.

Promises to Make Trouble. B. F. Huddelson was tried in Justice Foster's court in Omaha yesterday for the larceny of a slot machine from F. H. McDonald. The testimony went to show that McDonald was considerably surprised at this turn of affairs and his remarks would not look well in print. He says that unless he is permitted to operate a slot machine here no one else will be allowed to do so. The slot machines all over the city have been in operation for the last day or two with the understanding that a continuance would depend upon the outcome of the Huddelson case.

Kunden Accidentally Shot. C. Kunden, one of Cudahy's employees, was accidentally shot by the police yesterday, but he was only slightly wounded. Several officers were engaged in shooting dogs and four shot entered the breast of Kunden, who happened to be walking along the street at the time. The injured man was taken to the office of Dr. Fursy, who removed the leaden pellets and Kunden went
