A crowd of 500 people from Iroquois, Vermillion, Kankakee and adjoining counties crowded on the temporary grand stand, which had only been erected for the occasion. The seats were filled in a few minutes, but this did not prevent others from crowding in the aisles of the gallery and occupying every available inch of space. The tremendous weight overstrained the beams and the grand stand gave way. A warning cry was uttered and this precipitated the accident. His words were received with great applause The big fight was over the temporary chair manship between H. C. Ferguson, a colored man, and Judge Ogden of San Antonio.

At 9 o'clock tonight the eccutive committee reported recommending Henry Ferguson of Fort Bend county for temporary chairman. This is virtually a victory for the opposition to State Chairman Green, who favored the selection of some one else by the Hawley faction. There will probably be no state ticket nominated. The populists are endeavoring to secure a republican endorsement of Barnett Gibbs for governor but the executive committee will not consider the proposition. The appointment of committees on credentials, resolutions and platform was then taken up.
