MANY BALLOTS TO NO RESULT

Ninth Congressional District Deadlock is Now Well Under Way.

Hold Three Sessions and Finally Adjourn Till This Morning, When They Will Try it Again.

After holding three sessions and casting 199 ballots the convention of the Ninth congressional district of Iowa failed to nominate a candidate yesterday to succeed Hon. A. L. Hager of Guthrie county in congress. From the informal to the last ballot taken the different delegations stood pat to their instructions and when the convention adjourned last night shortly after 8:30 o'clock the situation remained unchanged and the outlook just as problematical as at the commencement.

Where or when the break will come none of the candidates or the delegates venture to prophesy, although after the adjournment the impression seemed to prevail that the first delegation to go to pieces would be the Pottawattamie. This however, the men from here say is not so and that they intend to stand by Byers to the last. The name of Judge Macy of Harlan bobbed up strong again last night and it was the general opinion that if his name is presented today he will be the nominee of the convention, which means election to congress. The Curtis men are not wavering and the same can be said of the other delegates and the situation is still as complicated as it was before the opening of the convention. A break is hardly looked for this morning and the delegates themselves say they intend standing by their candidates as long as they tell them to do so. Some active caucusing was being done at the Grand last night and the general opinion is that some change will take place today, although in what direction the change will strike none can say. When J. H. Wilson of Greenfield, chairman of the congressional committee, called the convention to order yesterday morning. promptly at 11 o'clock, every seat and available inch of standing room in the superior court room was occupied by the delegates from the different counties and a large crowd of interested spectators. Mr. Wilson wasted no time, but at once pro ceeded to business by introducing Rev. A. E. Walburn of Malvern, who opened the convention with prayer. The reverend gentleman paid an eloquent tribute in the ported to the police yesterday that some one had stolen his prize bull dog. The canine ley, offered thanks for the nation's victory was a valuable one and Sullivan has offered in arms and the establishment of peace again. He concluded with asking a blessng on the republican party at the polls this fall and on the convention then in session. Immediately following the prayer Hon. Shirley Gillilland of Glenwood was introduced as the temporary chairman of the convention and Victor E. Bender of this city as temporary secretary. Mr. Gillilland over a dispute to the ownership of certain made an eloquent address, during the course land in Rockford township. of which he was frequently applauded, reference to any of the heroes of the war with Spain. Turning to the present political conditions, the speaker said that the unpitying logic of events since 1896 has killed free silver and that "that other pet nightmare of the populistic dream, federal interference or government by injunction," is no is the fourth time that Smith has been ar-rested for bootlegging and he has served longer a factor to be counted upon, for the one term in the state positentiary for a like reason that the fellow who stands at the switch-yard or railroad crossing now receives remunerative employment and goes to his work with as merry a heart as the whistling farmer boy. When Bryan made use of his distorted figure from holy writ he had forgotten that the crown of thorns was pressed down upon the brow of Christ before his death, while Labor had been dead in the United States for three full years when Bryan made that speech. (Cheers.) Labor has, however, laid aside its grave clothes, rolled away the stone from its democratic tomb and is once more seen by its followers, while the cross of gold is found again in shining tens and twenties, not only on bank counters, but mention of President McKinley's name or in the pockets of the people." In conclusion the speaker said: "Whoever may be the proud bearer of the honors of this body let him understand in advance that we expect of him the broadest tatesmanship; that we cannot afford to be selfish and vindictive, even with those who have done us injustice; that revenge only repeats wrong, rarely ever rights it; that the great trust with which the party stands charged, both at home and abroad, is higher than any since the civil war; that he must help to fulfill to the people all the pledges we have made, and thus prove to the nations of the earth both the art and the beneficence of republican government when visely administered." Some Committees Named.

The following usual committees were then named and the convention adjourned until 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon:

Credentials—W. B. Burget, Adair; J. C. Bonewell, Audubon; Sam Holliday, Cass; P. E. Crooks, Guthrie; Clay Harshbarger, Harison; J. B. McKown, Mills; John Reeves Montgomery; H. L. Robertson, Pottawat-tamie; John Stephens, Shelby.

Permanent Organization-W. B. Martin, Adair; H. B. Herbert, Audubon; B. A. Goodspeed, Cass; T. J. Burns, Guthrie; William Arthur, Harrison; H. S. Fleming, Mills; D. B. Miller, Montgomery; A. L. Preston, Pot tawattamie; N. Booth, Shelby.

Resolutions-W. H. McClure, Adair; John A. Nash, Audubon; G. M. Lyon, Cass; H. K. Dewy, Guthrie; J. H. Claver, Harrison; C. M. Fellett, Mills; T. D. Murphy, Montgom-ery; Frank Everest, Pottawattamie; Charles

Immediately on reconvening in the afternoon the committee on credentials reported that all the counties were represented by full delegations and that there were no contests.

The committee on perm. ...t organization reported the selection). P. Patrick of Mills county for permanent chairman, T. E. Crooks of Guthrie for permanent secretary, W. W. Guyton of Harrison for assistant secretary and F. F. Everest of Pottawattamie for reading clerk. The report was favorably received and Mr. Patrick was called to the chair. He made a few re-

Resolved, That the improved agricultural, industrial, commercial and financial condidom of republican principles as enunciated in the national platform of 1896, which we hereby reaffirm, and demand the retention of protection and the present gold standard of value.

Following the adoption of the resolutions. the congressional committee was named by roll call of the counties as follows: W. B. Burget, Adair; H. B. Herbert, Audubon; George M. Lyon, Cass; H. K. Dewey, Guthrie; G. W. McCord, Harrison; L. S. Robinson, Mills; T. D. Murphy, Montgomery; E. C. Brown, Pottawattamie; C. R. Benedict, Shelby.

Informal Ballot Taken.

On motion it was then decided to take an informal ballot, which resulted: Byers, 48; Hager, 39; Curtis, 13; McPherson, 12. Then Delegate Traver of Harrison arose n his seat and moved that the convention proceed to the business for which it was here and take a formal ballot on candidate for congress and continue to ballot until one would be nominated. This was received with loud cheering by the Byers delegates. but the chairman put the motion to take formal ballot, leaving off the latter proiso, which carried.

The first formal ballot showed no change in the situation, and one ballot followed another until 126 had been taken without effecting the slightest change in the voting of the countles. The 126th ballot was cast at 4:15, and by this time the delegates were perspiring freely, the atmosphere of the court room having become decidedly hot, and a motion to adjourn till 7:30 o'clock in the evening prevailed on the roll call of the countles being taken.

The evening session produced no change in the voting and seventy-three ballots, one after the other, were cast with unvarying monotony. After Reading Clerk Frank Everest had drawled out the result of the 199th ballot Hon John Y. Stone, who had previously been in consultation with the chairmen of several of the delegations, moved that an adjournment be taken until 9:30 o'clock this morning. There was no opposition and the convention was declared | September. adjourned accordingly.

Clerks Want to Close Early.

The agitation for early closing of the stores in this city during the summer months is being renewed. The Retail Clerks' association recently organized partly succeeded at the Congregational church. Six young in securing the desired object, but has failed to induce all the merchants to close evenings so as to afford their help an opportunity to visit the exposition. The following letter on the subject was received by The Bee yesterday from an employe of one of the local retail stores:

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Aug. 18.-To the Editor of The Bee: Since the agitation last spring for early closing the matter seems to have been allowed to drop. This is a question that can only be settled right by all participating. The people thought the would push it through to success, but they apparently have failed. If those who still hold out cannot be induced to enter into the places open to grasp just one more dollar at the expense of their helps' nerves and constitutions, an effort should be made at ence to force them into it and hold them up for public condemnation. On this exposition year, when everybody is being visited by their relatives and friends, it is only just that the retail slaves should be allowed their evenings, and any em ployer who cannot see the point should be made to feel it. There are enough hours during a day, say from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m. to complete a city's business transactions and if the public were given to understand that during the hot summer months all tusiness would close at 6 p. m. they would get their business attended to.

Are we not as a city big enough to drop these country ideas of business hours? Is the Retail Clerks' association dead, or does the work? The public should be taught to shun business houses who keep long hours and compel their clerks to suffer in the manner outlined. There are only two and one-half months more of the exposition, and many have not been able to see it yet on account of the insatiable greed of their employers. The laborers are worthy of a rest this summer.

Notes from the Courts.

J. J. Hess commenced a replevin action against James L. Smith to secure possession of a horse and set of harness on which he asserts he holds a chattel mortgage. The suit is a sequel to the case in Justice Vien's court in which a man named John Hagwood was charged by Smith with selling him a horse and harness which he had previously mortgaged to another party. Smith now re fuses to surrender the horse and harness.

The Windsor Savings bank of Vermont brought action against J. W. Squire, asking that he be ordered to make a general accounting as between them. The suit is a sequel to the foreclosure action brought by the bank against David Ratliff and others in which Squire is named as one of the defendants. In this latter case the bank alleges that Squire, who is trustee of the mortgage, has not made a proper accounting of the funds received by him as such. County Attorney Saunders filed notice of suit on behalf of Pottawattamie county for the use of the permanent school fund against S. B. Wadsworth, administrator of the estate of Katrine Donohue, deceased, to foreclose mortgage for $705.28.

Another Revenue Ruling. Ohio Knox, deputy collector of internal revenue of this city, received the following letter yesterday from Commissioner of Internal Revenue N. B. Scott: Sir: I am in receipt of your letter of August 9, inclosing a letter from W. M. Shepard, recorder of Pottawattamie county, inclosing two instruments and asking as their taxability under the war revenue law. The first is a release of mortgage. It does not revest title and is not such a conveyance as is taxable. The second is a satisfaction of mortgage which states that in consideration of the payment of the debt named therein releases the mortgage .ipon the following described lands in Pottawattamie county. This instrument does not re-vest title and is not taxable. The notary's certificate must be stamped. This ruling of Commissioner Scott reverses rulings already received here on these points. Doctors in Convention. About forty doctors, members of the Southwestern Iowa Medical association, gathered yesterday at the Grand hotel, where they held two sessions in the league rooms. Dr. Andrew Jolly of Hamburg. president of the association, was present and presided over the meeting, at which umber of papers on subjects interesting to the medical fraternity were read and

and not for a speech from him and assuming | discussed. The afternoon session was cut the gavel asked the further pleasure of the short somewhat, as many of the visiting medics expressed a desire to take in the exposition. Dr. F. S. Thomas was the only member from this city on the program.

Investigation Goes Merrily Along. The investigation by the State Poard of Control into the management of the Iowa School for the Deaf goes merrily along. The board was in session the entire of yesterday and the investigation will last over today and possibly tomorrow. Of the witnesses so far subpoenaed, with the exception of two, all were examined yesterday, but as far as could be learned, nothing of a startling nature developed. The general impression is that the investigation will end in smoke and from statements made by the members of the board themselves there appears to be nothing in the charges filed against Superintendent Rothert. The following additional witnesses were subpoenaed yesterday: Mrs. Mamie Poole, J. B. Atkins, Mrs. Carrie Morrisett, D. H. Harle and Max Mohn. When the board has gotten through taking the testimony of these witnesses it is understood that Superintendent Rothert will have a

To press this matter to a hasty conclusion will bring to our officials the lasting gratitude of our citizens and of the mothers and fathers of the sick soldiers in the camp. SIOUX CITY, Aug. 18 .- (Special.) -- Sioux City is much disturbed over the reports from Chickamauga Park over the serious condition of health in the regiments encamped at that place. Companies H and L, Fifty-second Iowa, are from Sioux City and most of them are men from here. The citizens have manifested considerable indignation on account of the lack of proper care for the men. Every day one of the men comes back to Sioux City, broken in health and showing the sad condition of affairs at the park. The men tell harrowing tales of suffering for lack of proper care and medicines. Sioux City has three doctors at the park, but only one is assigned to duty in the whole regiment. Word comes from this one, Dr. V. B. Knott, that he has more than he can do and that he is about tired out from the strain.
