EMBROIDERED MOUSSELINE DE SOIE GOWN FROM HARPER'S BAZAR Gowns of embroidered mousseline de sole have been extremely fashionable this summer and as they always are made up on silk linings, will be quite warm enough for autumn wear. These gowns are too dainty as well as too elaborate for general use and are only suitable to be worn in afternoon and evening. The smart costume shown in our illustration, taken from Harper's Bazar, is made of mousseline de solo embroidered with a chenille polka dot. The skirt in bell shape is trimmed with scant ruffles of the material, with a satin ruche at either edge; these ruffles are close together at the waist, but broaden out at the foot of the skirt and go entirely around it at the back; across the front breadth there are three rows of the ruching.

The waist is very odd in design, made of heavy white lace and trimmed with straps of corded black satin, the bands of different sizes broader at the bust than at the neck or waist; the belt, however, made also of the corded satin, is quite wide. The vest, stock-collar and large bow at the back of the collar are made of plain white mousseline de sole. The sleeves are tight-fitting and strapped with sating ruches from the shoulder to the wrist, with epaulettes of the heavy lace to match the body of the waist, while at the wrist are ruffles of finer lace. The hat worn with this costume is of fine pale yellow straw trimmed with long ostrich plumes and directly in front a rosette of black satin ribbon; under the brim, quite far back at the left side, is another satin rosette.
