WOODMEN WILL CELEBRATE

The members of the local lodge of Modern Woodmen of America are making arrangements to turn out in full force and take part in the celebration at the exposition on Woodman day, Thursday, September 22. It is expected that every member in Council Bluffs will turn out that day and help swell the crowd.

In the evening there will be a grand display of fireworks, including among the set pieces portraits of Head Consul Northcott and Head Clerk Hawes of the Modern Woodmen and Mrs. Watts, supreme orator of the Royal Neighbors. The emblems of the craft will also be shown in fire.

The railroads have offered reduced rates for Woodmen day and numbers of the craft throughout all parts of the country are expected to take advantage of them and visit the exposition on that day and help make the attendance the banner one.

Part 2 of The Bee's photographs of the exposition is now ready and can be had at the Council Bluffs office.

RICHES FROM THE KLONDIKE

Three of the Lucky Goldfinders Are Robbed of $23,000 in Sacks of Dust on Way Down. SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 30.—The steamer Roanoke arrived here today from St. Michael, Alaska, with 499 passengers and gold dust which a conservative places at $1,500,000.

A majority of the passengers were men who went to Dawson in last year's rush. They have no gold, but lots of experience. The fortunate passengers numbered about seventy-five. Of these probably twenty-five had probably $15,000 each. The amount held by the remaining fifty men range from $500 to $5,000. Following is a list of the richest ones and the amounts they brought back:

M. W. Jenkins, $53,000; Theodore Anderson, $50,000; George Carmack, $35,000; "Sticket" Jim, $35,000; "Taggish" Charley, $35,000; Ike Powers, $15,000; H. Doane, $15,000; F. Renaud, $15,000. These men were among the first who went into the Klondike. George Carmack was the discoverer of the Klondike. He located the first claim on Bonanza creek. "Sticket" Jim and "Taggish" Charley are full blooded Indians.

An unusual incident attending the arrival of the Roanoke was the holding and searching of the passengers and the baggage for individual packages of stolen gold dust. Each individual passenger was examined as he came off the steamer, but the missing gold was not found. The bags contained about $24,000. The owners of the stolen gold were Albert Fox, whose sack contained $14,000; William Folmer, $9,000, and Dr. C. F. Adams, $1,000. The gold was taken from a state room on the Roanoke while it was lying at St. Michael. There is no clue to the thief. A search of the vessel was made at St. Michael before it left, but with no better success than was achieved today.

Another robbery is reported to have occurred on the river steamer Cudahy between Dawson and St. Michael. Some one got hold of a sack belonging to "Sticket" Jim, an Indian, containing $700. They dumped out the gold and filled the sack with shot. The contents were not discovered until St. Michael was reached.

Among the Roanoke's passengers were Dr. Sheldon Jackson, United States commissioner of education for Alaska, and P. B. Wear of Chicago, general manager of the North American Transportation and Trading company.

The Roanoke brings news of the loss of the whaler Rosario last July while endeavoring to get out of the ice.

OFFICERS DERELICT IN DUTY

Investigating Committee of the Knights of Pythias Has Its Report Ready. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 30.—The committee appointed to investigate the administration of the officers of the supreme lodge Knights of Pythias will make its report tomorrow morning. The report will be lengthy and will show that the supreme officers have been derelict in their duties, but not guilty of any wrongdoing. The election of John A. Hisey of Chicago as treasurer of the Endowment Rank is conceded. The lodge passed a resolution asking congress to make the Uniform Rank a National Guard of the different states.

SOLDIER BOYS COME HOME

Fifty-Second Iowa, Eight Hundred and Fifty Strong, Returns. TWELVE PER CENT OF THE MEN ARE SICK. All but Three Dones Seriously Ill Go Into Camp and Entire Number Will Be Mustered Out Within a Month.

DES MOINES, Aug. 30.—(Special Telegram.)—The Iowa, a strong, under command of Colonel Humphrey, arrived this afternoon on a train of thirty-three sleeping cars run in three sections. One hundred were sick, thirty-five of them bordering on the seriously sick. The latter were taken to the College hospital, while the others were taken to the hospitals at Camp McKinley. The regiment traveled three days and three nights through a hot and dusty country and this afternoon the day here was the hottest and dustiest of the summer. The boys all seemed glad to get back to Iowa. Large crowds met the trains at the depot, but because it was known that 12 per cent of the men were sick no great demonstration was made. The regiment will be mustered out within a month. The city Board of Health this afternoon quarantined Camp McKinley. The morning fifty-three flights were made in fifty-four minutes upon a tract of 1,230 acres located in Palo Alto and Clarke counties. Some eight or ten persons took their station last evening and remained at the federal building all night, among the number being one woman, Miss E. B. Allen, of Palo Alto county. The greater number of these persons reside in the district that has been opened and they appeared anxious to get the first file on their land, although they strenuously assert that they virtually own the land, having squatted on it prior to any others. The opposing claimants are the original squatters who will be declared null and void under the law and all given an equal show. The strip of land which has been opened to homestead entry was formerly erroneously included with Lost Island lake. This being discovered, a new survey was made in the spring of the present year by special order of the commissioner of the general land office. The land office has not as yet given any decision or opinion and it is probable the question will be contested.

Governor Shaw and a large number of prominent left for Dubuque this evening to attend the republican state convention.

NOVEL SUIT TO BE TRIED IN IOWA

Two Women Contending for the Right to Be a Dead Man's Widow. ADEL, Ia., Aug. 30.—(Special.)—There are some true stories that surpass novels in their strange, thrilling and developments. One of them was to have been tried in the next term of the district court in Adel, beginning next week, though it is now likely to be postponed until another term.

In the early 50s Henry Lawrence and his wife, Sophia, were living together in a southern state. There was very few years years difficulties arose and he finally sorted her about 1857. He kept out of sight till the war broke out and enlisted in the service, remaining till the close of the conflict. Then he settled in Kentucky and married a young woman who, as Agnes Lawrence, is defendant in the present case. They live together in peace for many years, none of their neighbors, nor, indeed, the wife herself, suspecting that their marriage was illegal. But one day the bolt fell. Wife No. 1 appeared in Madison, Ind., where the couple resided, and asserted her claim to be the legal wife of Henry Lawrence. He denied the charge and she was a kupooster. Nevertheless the record was returned to longer live with him unless he would clear himself of the imputation of bigamy. So he left Madison and came west, locating first in Dubuque, and afterward near Dawson, in this county.

While here he secured a divorce from wife No. 1 and then No. 2 came on from Madison and they were again married. Health failed and he soon returned to Madison and lived there till his death, two years ago. His widow applied for a pension and it was granted. Afterward, wife No. 1 applied also, but was informed by the pension agent that she was no longer the legal wife of Henry Lawrence. This was news to her, so she claimed and employed attorneys to investigate the matter. The result is this suit asking that the divorce secured by Henry Lawrence from Sophia Lawrence be declared void on the ground that it was secured by fraud and misrepresentation. Ordinarily the court would decide to decide which of the women is entitled to be considered the widow of a dead man, but in this case it is different. Lawrence left no estate, so that it is not now the subject matter of the controversy. The reason each woman is so anxious to be declared the legal widow of the much married man is that the widow is entitled to the pension during her lifetime, unless she be married again. The controversy is apt to be a warm one and some interesting things are likely to be dug up.

DEPRAVE CRIMINAL ARRESTED

NEVADA, Aug. 30.—(Special.)—Marion Ricketts of this city, who was arrested when he captured William Odell, the fellow in jail in this city awaiting trial for larceny, for this Odell, as he claims to be, is proved to be one of the worst criminals in the state. He is a member of an organized band of thieves, known as the "Moles" and several other places have identified him and the warden of the Wisconsin penitentiary has written that Odell, or rather a fellow with several aliases answering the description of this Odell, has been in the penitentiary there and his last term was for breaking out of the penitentiary, but he was captured in Sioux City.

WASTING FINE WHEAT

HUMBOLT, Ia., Aug. 30.—(Special.)—Of forty-eight crops grown and harvested in northern Iowa not one of them was superior to that of 1898, but there never has been such reckless waste as now. Field after field of excellent wheat and oats still stand in the shock (except where the shocks have fallen down) all as black as the soil. Another ruined with rains and heat and all waiting for their turn to come to thresh without stacking. This condition comes from that habit of threshing from the field. The farmers who do thresh get from 40 to 50 cents for what was when cut No. 1 wheat. In the good old days when farmers cut wheat with a cradle they stacked it all—they could not then afford such a waste as is now seen.

MANAWA

In Tama county were taken ill. Within fifteen minutes several persons were prostrated. One of the Studenbaker boys was halted and he came to town as quickly as possible after a doctor. When the doctor arrived he found the people lying around the house and yard, in all stages of misery and pain. All symptoms indicated poison and he administered antidotes to the seven persons. Within two hours all were better, though all were in bed. By Sunday morning nearly all were able to be around, though weak. The doctor could learn of nothing they had eaten that was at all poisonous. He suspected the water, which came first from a deep well, then from a cistern into which the windmill forced it. Samples of the water and milk used were sent to Davenport for analysis and the report shows a fungus growth in the water, which is very poisonous.
