25,000 Pounds of Butter

All Sold to Hayden Bros. Minnesota wins the contest. Hayden Bros. bought all the creamery butter from Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Kansas, Wisconsin, Nebraska, and all the states that were in the contest. Mr. W. D. Collier, the butter expert from Chicago, awarded the diplomas yesterday. Mr. Collier said: "It is as fine a lot of butter as I have ever seen, the whole lot is excellent."

Mr. James A. Harris, superintendent of the exhibit from Minnesota, (speaking to Hayden Bros' buyer), said in all his experience as a butter expert, which is over thirty years, that the state of Minnesota never had a finer lot of butter on exhibition. Minnesota ought to be proud of it. Mr. S. C. Ha-sett, superintendent of the Dairy building, delivered the butter to Hayden Bros. yesterday. He only awarded diplomas to those scoring 90 and over, the average being between 90 and 98. This whole lot will be on display in HAYDEN BROTHERS' Butter Department.

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.

After Mayor Ennor had issued a call for a special meeting of the council for 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon it was learned that Kelly had not returned from Detroit and so the meeting had to be declared off, as without one more member there would be no quorum. This special meeting was called for the purpose of passing a funding bond ordinance in order to make up $17,000 of outstanding obligations. It is expected that all the members of the council will be here by Tuesday night when the next meeting is called for. The obligation under consideration becomes due October 1 and as it will be necessary to authorize and sell the bonds before that time it will be seen that action of some sort must be taken shortly. Two-thirds of the amount due next month is on the general indebtedness of the city, while the balance is for intersection paving. The fact that this large sum has been allowed to fall due without any preparation for its payment does not look well for the city, but it is a fact that no effort has ever been made to create a fund to take up maturing bonds. Every year the city has to hustle around and either borrow money at the banks or else issue funding bonds in order to meet the payment on its bonds. The need of a sinking fund is becoming more apparent every day, especially as large sums will be due in the next few years and the banks may not be so accommodating. One city officer, who is a sportsman, said yesterday that he favored the making of a levy of at least 5 mills each year for a sinking fund, in order that a portion at least of the outstanding obligations might be taken care of. On the present valuation 5 mills would bring in between $100,000 and $300,000 a year and this would be quite a help toward paying off the city's debt. If this plan was followed out for ten years a large proportion of the debts, along with interest, would be disposed of. As time goes by the financial condition of the city becomes worse. In 1901 there will become due the sum of $50,000 on intersection paving bonds. No provision has been made for meeting this debt and it will most likely have to be taken care of by the issue of new bonds. Viaduct bonds to the amount of $75,000, refunding sewer bonds for $25,000 and $25,000 in straight funding bonds will be due in ten years from now and the question naturally arises as to how these vast sums are to be paid. The city will establish sinking fund there would be little trouble in taking care of these obligations. One of the first questions bond brokers ask when a new issue is placed on the market is about a sinking fund. Experience has shown that bids for bonds are not as high under existing circumstances as when provision is made from year to year for the payment of outstanding obligations.

POPOCRATS TO MEET TODAY

"Fashion" Conventions Will Be Held This Afternoon for Douglas County.

DEMOCRATS DETERMINED TO DICTATE

Will Name All the Candidates and May Make Them All Democrats—Populists Expect to Submit to Anything Offered Them.

The fusion parties will again hold county conventions this afternoon. The work to be done is to nominate candidates for the legislature, county attorney, and county commissioners in two districts. As the democrats will take the bulk of the nominations, the principal interest will center in that convention. They will not only name their share of the legislative candidates, but will attempt to name those they may consent to give to the other parties, and in doing this will also have to nominate a formidable element in their own convention which will be fighting for a straight democratic ticket.

RESULT OF POPULIST PRIMARIES.

Names of the Delegates Chosen to Attend the County Convention.

The only interest in the populist primaries this evening was a little friction in the Ninth ward, where the old rivalry between the Strickler and the Thomas-Yeiser factions of the party again came to the front. The latter had control of the election machinery and declared its ticket elected and the Strickler party will contest. There is no significance in the fight other than a contest for supremacy in the ward. Following are the delegates chosen: First Ward—M. J. O'Connell, J. W. Barnett, D. Rowden, O. Wendt, C. Smrkovsky, M. Cavanaugh, J. Woloshansky, C. Pospisil, C. Young.

Second Ward—Tom Bennett, P. L. Quintin, T. C. Kelsey, J. B. Jones, Joseph Kattacker, John McAlly, C. E. Fields, S. J. Coan, H. E. Schack.

Third Ward—John C. Tierney, Jesse Hinke, Louis V. Gure, Chuck McDermott, W. B. Hopkins, J. C. Burns, M. McGuire.

Fourth Ward—P. P. Burke, V. H. Wilson, J. H. Peabody, H. C. Richmond, Willis Hutspeth, H. J. Morrow, C. F. Wagner, J. P. Kelly, Charles Ward.

Fifth Ward—Joseph Redman, J. W. McCarthy, J. T. Patch, W. B. Franklin, P. J. Mohan, John E. Emblem, B. Sackse, P. J. Dalton, H. D. Pilgrim.

Sixth Ward—M. E. Adams, T. G. Kellogg, Charles Johnson, George W. Woodby, J. M. Robinson, William Strickling, H. F. McIntosh, N. Stevens, D. Clem Deaver.

Seventh Ward—Ed F. Morearty, J. J. Everingham, Carl Carlson, Frank Magee, Hamlin Barnes, Murray Seacomb, J. C. Whipple, Charles Moran, H. Cohen.

Eighth Ward—John Jeffcoat, W. J. Welshans, C. F. Erickson, A. V. Spaulding, L. J. Ihm, Jeff Rasmussen, Dan Althens, A. G. Gale, George A. Magney.

Ninth Ward—Thomas-Yeiser ticket: John O. Yeiser, Elmer E. Thomas, E. Rawcliffe, Pat Tully, R. H. Davey, August Dold, Albert Jones. Dyer, A. Clark, Strickler ticket: A. Miller, P. S. Condit, R. H. Davey, G. Burbanks, V. O. Strickler, Thomas George, David Condit, John Callahan, J. W. Hackthorn.

South Omaha—J. Bliss, R. W. Wheeler, W. Hughes, J. C. Graham, Joseph Mander-ville, T. J. Smith, G. W. Butterfield, A. Adams, Charles Curtis, F. Luellien, C. S. Hubbard, J. L. Eversall, A. Collins, John Womsey, W. Grimm, G. W. Neer, B. Little, B. Terry, J. Rominger and J. Gillespie.

are they will be outvoted when the test comes.

The silver Republicans will be simply the freak side show to the general circus. The honest man, the fat boy and the bearded woman will be on exhibition as usual and the splendors will make a great noise, but the show itself will not be worth seeing. What were called "primaries" were held in the various wards in the city by the "silver republicans" last night, but they were as much of a farce as those held a month ago. They met at private houses and on the curb stones. Forty-five delegates were chosen by less than that number of voters and the credentials were made out with as much dignity and formality as if the delegates represented a real live political party. In a few cases it was necessary to put names of parties on the delegation which was known would not attend the convention.

entions entertainment will be furnished the visitors.

It is reported from Chicago that the marching club will come to the exposition in full force. It has been making numerous trips over the country during the past few days, notably to the Nashville exposition and to New York City during the city campaign for Greater New York, on both of which occasions it created a furore. The trip west is said to be the result of a challenge from the Republican marching club, which also expects to come to Omaha, and if the rivalry continues Omaha people are doubtless destined to see something brilliant in the way of political pageants. The County Democratic Marching club is a tremendous organization and its numbers on the Omaha trip will be limited by the capacity of the trains to carry them.

Berlin Not a Candidate.

There is no truth in the statement that Superintendent Berlin of the Agricultural building is a candidate for office this fall. He is too busy to go into politics. He says: "There has been a rumor during the last few days that I am a candidate for the office of county commissioner from the Second district. I want to state that I am not seeking that or any other office. Under no circumstances would I become a candidate. William Kierstead, the present incumbent is entitled to a re-election. He has made a good official and I am for him, first, last and all the time."

First Ward Republicans.

The First Ward Young Men's Republican club opened the fall campaign last night with a well attended meeting in Grandview hall, Third and Pine streets. The club has recently elected new officers—R. K. Paxton, president and C. C. Sunblad, secretary—and intends to enter upon active work in the republican cause. The speakers on the program were: E. J. Cornish, Dr. W. H. Hanchett, A. J. Swanson and P. J. Boyeson. It was decided to bring out the social side of the club by giving an informal dance in the hall on September 10.

CORA NASH KILLS HERSELF

South Omaha Domestic, Consumed by Jealousy, Commits Suicide by Shooting.

Cora Nash's little 17-year-old heart beat warm last night with the full tide of her young life's blood, but it broke when she saw her lover in company with another girl and now she lies cold and still in the morgue at South Omaha, a bullet fired by herself having pierced her heart.

Cora Nash was a domestic employed at the home of F. A. Cressley, Twenty-fifth and J streets, South Omaha. Her mother, a widow, lives at Creston, Neb. About four months ago the girl came to South Omaha to live with her uncle, Nate Johnson, at Twenty-sixth and L streets. She formed the acquaintance of a young man named L. C. Jackson, who is employed around livery barns. Her uncle forbade her to see Jackson and prevented Jackson from coming to the house to see the girl. To get around this difficulty the girl sought employment as a domestic and found a place at Mr. Cressley's. Here she worked until last evening. She had a tiff with her lover during the day. Just to show her there are others, Jackson took another girl as a companion and promenade past the Cressley home several times during the evening. This was more than Cora Nash could stand.

About 10 o'clock she took a revolver and slipped it into the back yard, where she fired a ball through her heart. She left a letter which Mr. Cressley has and which he refuses to allow anyone to see till it has been delivered to the coroner. The girl's mother has been notified.

Reilly at Last Arrested.

After the dodging the police of Chicago and other cities for nearly a year Daniel

H. Reilly, wanted in Chicago for the embezzlement of $1,000 from the firm of Ira J. Mix, a merchant, was captured by the Chicago police.

Reilly has been in Omaha since the exposition opened under the name of Rudinger. A reward of $50 had been offered for Reilly's capture.

tract first they went through one of the exits, expecting to reach the state buildings by that route. They had paid four admissions and found themselves in the street after a mere glimpse of the main court. About half a dozen similar cases occur every day and the officials are puzzled to know the way to prevent it. The only effective preventative collection that is kept a guard at every exit to call attention to the sign and this would be a pretty expensive system.

Showing Fresh Vegetables.

The people who visited the Agricultural building yesterday were surprised to see so many of the exhibits containing fresh vegetables. A few days ago Kansas commenced showing vegetables grown this year and now they have been in Omaha since the exposition opened under the name of Rudinger. A reward of $50 had been offered for Reilly's capture.

Models in Butter.

Mrs. McDonald of Minneapolis, Minn., is another butter artist who is doing some modeling in the Dairy building. Her first work at the exposition was placed in the cooling rooms on the south side of the building yesterday and elicited much favorable comment. She does not do statuary, but instead devotes her time to building up flowers and fancy designs out of butter. Yesterday she modeled some bunches of roses, a cluster of fruit and some flowers. Her work attracts a crowd and is regarded as fine as has ever been seen at any exposition.

Barns for Live Stock.

Animals that will come to the live stock show is being pushed along at a rapid rate. It was the intention to locate these barns on the north side, but as all of this space has been used by the buildings required by the fire department, it has been found necessary to make a change. The change has resulted in locating the barns west of the Dairy building on the tract that was originally set aside for the sporting grounds of the Indians.

BIDDING FRIENDS FAREWELL

Mr. and Mrs. Keeshen held a Good-bye Reception at Patterson Hall Last Night.

F. H. Keeshen and wife, old residents of Omaha, gave a farewell party last night in Patterson hall to their friends of the city. Mr. Keeshen has been in the employ of the Union Pacific for thirty-two years, being during all this time in various important capacities for the company. Mr. Keeshen resigned his position with the Pacific and accepted a place as superintendent of the northern division of the Kansas City, Pittsburg & Gulf railroad, where he will move this afternoon. About 200 guests, friends of the family, met at Patterson hall last evening and enjoyed a good time, with plenty of ice persons taken in were in a serious condition, as most of them were simply exhausted or partially overcome by the heat. There was a man from the Wild West who had a broken leg, but it was a fracture of a former setting. He was sent to one of the down town hospitals. The same course was pursued with reference to a man from Midway, who was afflicted with heart failure. He had been in the emergency hospital half a dozen times.

Indians Dance at Night.

High winds and clouds of dust blowing across the grounds yesterday had about the same effect upon the Indians as it did upon the white people and instead of stirring about the camp and participating in games and dances, they pulled down the flaps of their tepees, crept inside and waited for better weather. During the evening they got out and put up some dances that were highly enjoyed by the spectators. There were no new arrivals at the Indian camp yesterday, but a number are expected today. More ponies are needed, but arrangements are being made to secure them and with the addition of a few more men and some interesting sham battles are expected to be slated for the near future.
