Louis C. Schicketanz Loses His Life Early Sunday Morning.

FALLS BETWEEN THE MOVING CARS

Well Known Young Painter Undertakes to Board a Train in Motion and is Crushed to Death Under the Wheels.

Louis C. Schicketanz, a painter, was run over and instantly killed yesterday morning about 9 o'clock at Twenty-fourth avenue and South Ninth street, while attempting to board a moving train on the Lake Manawa line. He missed his footing and fell between the cars, which passed over his chest, cruehing the life out of him.

The victim is a son of John Schicketanz ar, the well known Broadway barber. He was 25 years of age and unmarried, but was engaged to a young woman of this city, to whom it is said he was shortly to be married. Since returning from Clinton a few days ago he had been stopping with his brother, William Schicketanz, at 2402 South Ninth street. Yesterday morning, desiring to come up town to see his father on a matter of business, he ran out of his brother's house, which is on the car line, just as the Manawa train was approaching, going north. Engineer Jacob Peterson was sitting on the right side of the cab and in order to attract his attention Schicketanz crossed the street just in front of the engine, at the same time signalling the engineer to stop. Peterson slacked up the train and, according to Conductor Morris' statement. Schicketanz, who had hold of the rail of the first car, waved his hand to him, which he took to be a signal to go ahead. The next thing the conductor knew was the train passed over some object and on looking back he saw the body of Schicketanz lying in the middle of the track. The body was brought to Undertaker Estep's establishment and Coroner Jennings notified, who, after learning the circumstances of the accident, decided to hold an inquest this morning at 9:30 o'clock. The body was later removed to the residence of the young man's brother, William Schickethe Grand Plaza this season. The Robinstella do a very interesting turn on the Spantella do South Ninth Street. The Schicketanz family are old residents of Council Bluffs and Louis was well known and had many friends. It is only a short while back that he had a narrow escape from death. He was employed in painting the exterior of the Washington Avenue school at the time the scaffold gave way and Burt Musselman fell seventy-five feet but managed to escape with a few bad bruises. Schicketanz had just stepped from the scaffold when it gave way.

CAMP WIKOFF TO BE REDUCED

onvalescent Soldiers Are to Be Shipped Homeward as Rapidly as Transportation is Provided.

CAMP WIKOFF, Montauk Point, Sept. 4 This great camp will dissolve during the three coming weeks and by October 1 will have shrunk to slender proportions. The well men, according to the War department's set designs, will leave the camp as fast as transportation can be conveniently provided, probably at the rate of 3,000 or 4,000 a week. The convalescents from the hospitals, instead of being sent again into camp with their commands, wiff go to their homes. The president, Secretary Alger and General Wheeler had a talk about it yesterday and although General Wheeler thought the men would do well it camp until October I it was determined t continue sending the men away. The regulars taken from the posts east of the Mississippi will, according to the resent directions, be sent where they were before the war. The War department has not transmitted the order to General Shafter yet, but it will no doubt be received by Tuesday. The Eighth Ohio and Firs Illinois will break camp Tuesday. The Rough Riders will muster out toward the end of the week, probably, and will no parade. The Rough Riders had religious services in their camp today. Colonel Roosevelt, after Chaplain Grown had concluded, rose and made a little speech, sort of farewell some of the men took to be. Colonel Roosevelt commended th daring and gallantry of the men, their

All such men had been rejected. The Rough Riders had all the forces of individual strength and in battle were as coherent and effective as a projectile. PANDO ARRIVES IN NEW YORK

Passengers of Philadelphia from Havana Are Regaled with General's Experience in City of Mexico.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4 .- The story from Havana that General Luis N. Pando, the former commander of the Spanish troops at Manzanlilo, had secretly fled from Havana on a French steamer for Spain, with 12,000, 000 francs, was proved to be unfounded to day when the Ward liner Philadelphia came to its dock on the East river front. General Pando was the first of the forty-two passengers who arrived from Havana on the vessel to land. He was plainly dressed and were nothing to indicate his high rank in the Spanish army. He looks more like a Frenchman than a Spaniard. He claims to speak no English, and after arranging for the removal of his five pieces of baggage drove to a hotel, where he engaged a suite

The customs officer who examined General Pando's luggage said that the visitor was well supplied with funds.

Chatting with some of the Spanish passengers during the voyage General Pando is said to have told of his recent experience in Mexico. While at the City of Mexico according to the story, General Pando was the guest of the Marquis de Casmera. One night the general was aroused by the Marquis Casmera screaming that there were thieves in the hacienda. In the dark corridor General Pando grappled with a man whom he found there and was stabbed in the neck before he discovered that the supposed burglar was really the marquis, who had returned late from the theater. The wound was slight. Owing to remarks made concerning the occurrence and reflections made on the character of the enarquis by Baron Starke, the iron king of Durango the Marquis de Casmera challenged him to a duel with pistols. The men met at Piedra Loma in the state of Hidalgo and both were wounded. The Marquis de Casmera was sho in the body and Starke lost one of his eyes The Mexican authorities, upon hearing of the duel, arrested the principals and the seconds. Pando said he was anxious to know the outcome of the prosecution.
