General Zurlinden admitted when he took office that if he was not a Dreyfusite he at least had an open mind and felt great sympathy for the Dreyfus family. A deep study of the dossier, however, had absolutely convinced him that Dreyfus was guilty.

Finalty a division occurred, in which M. Faure did not take part. A semi-official note explains that General Chanoine only had a conference with President Faure after his appointment to succeed General Zurlinden had actually been signed.

The decision of the committee appointed to consider the matter of revision will be in no way binding upon the cabinet, which will still have to decide the actual question of revision.

Stirring events are impending. General Zurlinden is credited with the belief that there is a Picquart mystery and it is believed he fully intended Picquart should be prosecuted. According to Colonel Picquart's written statement to the minister of justice four secret documents were submitted to a court-martial held in 1894 behind the backs of Dreyfus and his counsel. LONDON, Sept. 19 .- David Christie Murphy publishes today a long story regarding the Dreyfus affair. The author vouches for the truth of the story, but declares that he cannot disclose the source from which he obtained his information. The article states in effect that Dreyfus was engaged as a spy in the employ of a secret department of the French army against those suspected of trafficking with Germany and other powers. His zeal, so the story goes, led him to become the victim of revenge on the part of Colonel Henry, Comte Esterhazy and Colonel Paty du Clam, who themselves were concerned in treasonable practices. sand immunes from Fort Thomas will be in

Brace of Robbers Relieve Several Unsuspecting Citizens of Their Wealth.

The tall man and the short man opened the fall campaign last night by holding up the a special car. The patients were from the citizens of the south side in a wholesale fashion. Within half an hour they stopped four men at the point of a revolver and First Rhode Island and Second West Virforced them to deliver all cash and valuables ginia regiments. Chief Surgeon Girard beon hand.

The first victim was James Rooney, a clerk who resides at 547 South Twenty-fifth avepark, Fifteenth and Vinton streets, and at 11 o'clock had started home, walking west from the Vinton street gate. The walk is shadowed by trees and Rooney was almost in the arms of the footpads before he observed them. The tall robber sprang from behind a tree and thrust a large revolver in Rooney's face. The latter, observing the stranger's size and manner, at once submitted and raised his arms obediently when the brief command came. He stood quietly while the second robber made a careful search of his clothing with small results. Everything of value on his person was represented by a gold watch chain. The robber took this and with an oath at their meager success the men ran toward Thirteenth street.

After a safe interval they halted another be James Sip, a tailor living at 1911 South Fourteenth street. They awaited Sip at a Sip on his way home at a run.

Their expedition was still a failure from a monetary point of view and they made another effort in the hope of increasing their ready cash. This time the victim was Anton Franci, 1218 South Fourteenth street, whom they met on Fourteenth street, one block north of the scene of the robbery next preceding. Franci was strolling toward home unsuspiciously and was taken by surprise. He succumbed without a struggle and gave up 45 cents, which the end of the evening still found in his pockets. The method used in his case was similar to the

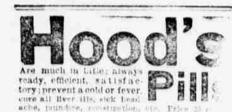

The money on hand was still deemed insufficient and a further levy was made upon P. Harrington as he passed a dark alley on Fourteenth, near Pierce street. The Woodward Stock company at the Creighton yesterday matinee and evening presented "Lost Paradise." It is a story of the workers in which the conditions of he toilers and those who live in luxury are brought into strong contrast as well as the act that each lives on without understandng the other until some crisis forces the cnowledge upon them, only to find that if conditions were mutually understood the nisunderstandings would be fewer and more easily adjusted. Mr. Montague as Reuben Warner is one of his best efforts. He takes kindly to manly, unselfish roles and with considerable of the heroic is able to secure generous applause. Miss Berkely, as in a "Fair Rebel," has an uncouth character, which, but for her success in that, would have been a surprise. Miss Dunn as Polly Fletcher, a bit of country freshness and onesty injected into the sham of city life, has a very clever part very cleverly done. Miss Creighton as Margaret Knowlton is a character which one hardly knows at times whether to admire or not, though the fault f any is not with its presentation. Wilson Enos as Schwartz, the leader of the work nen, has but little, but that is a good piece of character work. The remainder of the company by conscientious effort round out he performance, "Lost Paradise" will be the bill for the remainder of the week.

The Trocadero presents this week the ngest and in many respects the best bill n the history of the house. There have een better things at the house than any one act of the present bill, but at no time have they been so uniformly good. One number which is not strictly vaudeville is especially worthy of mention and that is the wonderful exhibition of memorizing given by little 8-year-old Gertie Cochran, There is no pretense that the little one has studied out and has the profound knowledge of the savant, but simply that she possesse wonderful powers of memorizing and the faculty of calling instantly to her command crobatic specialties which are all first class entertaining bill the house has ever presented.

"Hogan's Alley" commenced the second week of its engagement at the Boyd yesterday to the same crowded house which greeted it throughout the previous week.

In Platte county the popocrats were not satisfied with Judge Albert the man selected for them by Governor Holcomb, and turned him down in the judicial convention, nominating Hollenbeck in his place. The Humphrey Democrat pours a doubtful balm on the sores of the Albertites by printing the following editorial in its last issue;

The time between now and election day will be put in by "Judge" Albert in looking for something "just as good." Perhaps he can get Hollenbeck to make him court re-porter, or bailiff, or semething. You can't lose Albert as long as there is anything like an office in sight

The McCook Tribune tells of the new declaration of independence in Red Willow. the home of Treasurer Meserve, in this language

The democrats of Red Willow county hav ing wearled of being a very small and insig-nificant tail to the populist kite, and, this year, by formal resolutions, absolved them selves from supporting any particular party nominees. It will be a go-as-you-please with them this election.

In the meantime the democratic Mirror a Arapahoe, in the county adjoining Red Willow, carries at the head of its editorial column a sample democratic ticket which contains the names of C. J. Smyth for attorney general, C. M. Kelley for county attorney and Dr. Butler for coroner. The patriot from Red Willow who is claiming so much credit for having paid off part of the state debt with money belonging to the state treasury and turned over to him by Joe Bartley, does not seem to be a popular prophet in his own country, judging from the local democratic organs. Pittful Wall.

But the most pitiful wail is heard in Custer county. Senator C. W. Beal, who got $1,799.50 out of his legislative office while Company L died Saturday morning and scared over the condition of things in his remembers that he is a candidate for reelection, and the senator's Custer County Beacon in its last issue prints a warning to the "reform forces" in the county, under the caption, "High Time to Awake."

It cannot be denied that there is now more or less apathy among the populists of Custer county. That vim and energy which characterized the movement in the early 20's and other places where farmers were wont to gather. Now, while political questions are discussed to some extent, there are other questions that seem to absorb the attenion of our farmers, and in which they seem nore interested than in politics.

This condition of things is just what the professional politician likes to see. It is just what the republican party wants, and so long as it exists, the general tendency of prices will be downward. That is the tendency at this time and if farmers cease to be interested in politics they'll finally reach the low level prepared for them by those In Custer county the cradle of populism there is even open talk among some popu-lists of voting part of the republican ticke at the coming election. What does it mean It means that these populists have resolved to help fasten the gold standard permanently upon this country with all its attendant evils, and when this is done, that is the end of hope for an upward tendency of prices. The most reliable news that comes from Custer, however, is that the farmers of the county believe Senator Beal's principal tendency is "to control the volume of our money" to his own personal benefit, and a large number of former populists will refuse to support the legislative ticket headed by Beal this year. Lincoln Local Notes.

This plan has been carried out. It is now hoped that with the return of more prosperous times the coming session of the legislature will see fit to make proper provisions for this important department of university work.

The audience was largely with Brown, who delivered a dispassionate, cleaand magnificent speech. > Confusion Among Popocrats. DAKOTA CITY, Neb., Sept. 18 .- (Special.) Confusion instead of fusion now pervades the ranks of the populist and democratic parties of this, the Eighth senatorial, district, caused by the refusal of William A. Morgan, formerly of this county, now of the firm of Armour & Morgan, general merchants at Allen, to accept the fusion nomination for senator which was given him at Emerson two weeks ago. Mr. Morgan gives as his reasons for not accepting the nominaion a lack of ambition to become a legislator, also lack of funds and time to conduct a campaign. Mr. Morgan was a candidate for county clerk of Dixon county on the populist vicket last fall and suffered defeat and in this respect he thinks he has served his party. A meeting of the committeemen of the populist and democratic parties of the several counties will likely be called and the vacancy filled. In that event it is very ikely one of the several democratic candidates before the joint convention will be chosen, of which Dakota county had three aspirants-Thomas Sullivan, jr., E. B. Wilbur and D. C. Hoffman.

Republicans Take Counsel. WEEPING WATER, Neb., Sept. 18.-(Special.)-The republican county central committee convened here yesterday. Plans were formulated for a vigorous campaign and from reports of committeemen there is perfect harmony the country over. The secretary of this congressional district, Ed Sizer, was present and stated that they were leaving no stone unturned to secure the election of E. J. The republicans have n this county a majority over fusion and his constituents got nothing, is so badly if they allow a prize to escape them it will scared over the condition of things in his be on account of the fusionists centering district that he can see nothing but defeat all their strength on one candidate and in the coming election.
