Session of the Delegates Held at the First Methodist Church.

CHILD-SAVING PLANS UNDER DISCUSSION

Methods to be Followed in Dealing with the Problem of How to Provide for the Youngsters Who Need Charitable Assistance.

The session of the Transmississippi Conference of Charities and Correction, held last evening at the First Methodist church, was the most largely attended of any of the meetings so far.

The objects of a local meeting are substantially the same as those of a national conference. We want to know at the best methods in dealing with the unfortunate of every class.

The national conference interests itself in all classes. But the different members and societies to which they belong are interested in their particular lines of work.

Thorough Supervision Needed.

The first speaker, Major W. S. R. Burnett of New Mexico, said in a hearty way that it is now well understood that the best place for a child is the family home.

The next address was by Horace Fletcher of Chicago, the secretary of the national conference, commenting especially on that of London and other cities of Europe that he had visited.

The meeting closed with a few words by H. H. Hart, the secretary of the national conference, telling what work had been done in Chicago on the child-saving question during the last few years.

Officer Musselman, who Saturday night shot John Coyne, a 17-year-old boy, through the arm because he refused to halt when the officer demanded that he should, will have to explain his conduct to the board at its next meeting.

HOW A CHICAGO MAN VIEWS FAIR.

Letter from a Recent Visitor to an Omaha State Fair.

The manner in which the exposition impresses the intelligent visitors is very pertinently indicated in a letter which S. W. Lindsey of this city received the other day from G. W. Barnett, a prominent Chicago commission merchant, who spent several days on the grounds some time ago.

I believe that the citizens of Omaha may justly feel proud of their creation. To say that it was surprised in putting it exceedingly mildly, that the transmississippi states should have such a showing exceeded my expectations.

The Chicagoan sets up for comparison in the matter of exhibition, which of course is the World's fair, yet every thoughtful and reasonable man will know that it is the question of the respectability of our country to rival that wonderful creation. We had not only the great city of Chicago as a foundation, but we had the untimely loss of our common center, the government and the assistance of the civilized world to make a record that possibly will never be exceeded.

Excuse these words of eulogy, but they are not uttered in vain. Personally, I feel a pride in the effort our own state has made, and the object lesson set in our beautiful state building, which appears to me to be the gem of all the state buildings, the quiet restfulness, the unobtrusive elegance and homelike air pervading it, and the magnificent paintings of our own exhibition seem to me so worthy the great state of Illinois.

Nebraska did well and other states, too. The whole, I was more than pleased, and could have spent another day to good advantage in studying the exhibition as a whole and in detail.

FRESH FRUIT ON DISPLAY TODAY.

Exhibitors in the Horticultural Building.

The interior of the Horticultural building on a neat and tasty appearance yesterday, all of the exhibitors devoting their time and energies to cleaning up and preparing for the rush that is coming this week.

In the Nebraska exhibit, the tables that had been occupied by the grapes and peaches, given away to the children last Saturday, were filled with new fruit, including apples, peaches, pears, plums and grapes, and there was nothing to indicate that the exhibit was for the day before.

The season has advanced to the point where now until the close of the exposition Superintendent Youngers will show nothing but the best in the fruit line. Exhibits are being put in in great quantities, which enables him to be liberal in accepting the best and rejecting everything else.

Superintendent Lane, who looks after the interests of the exhibit from Otero county, Colorado, is in receipt of almost enough complimentary replies to his exhibit. He is showing some of the finest peaches ever seen in the building, together with samples of the Heath cling, which are almost as white as milk and are about as large as ordinary teacups.

Superintendent Driscoll of the Idaho exhibit has added very largely to his showing during the past few days and now has the state's space completely filled with as fine fruit as has ever been seen in this locality. Recently he has received a large consignment of peaches, apples, grapes, plums and prunes. The prunes that are attracting the most attention are the Americans, about as large as eggs and as black as ink. They are of fine flavor and in the west are general favorites.

While not in the Horticultural building, the Dominion of Canada is putting in a very fine fruit exhibit in the International hall. Most of the fruit comes from British Columbia and Ontario, furnishing pretty conclusive evidence that these two provinces can raise all of the varieties grown in the states. The exhibit now on the table contains numerous varieties of apples, peaches, pears and grapes, together with plums and prunes.

GIVES UP THE CHORUS.

The plan of Superintendent Kelly to have a great chorus in connection with the exposition during the current week has been practically abandoned. The failure is said to be due to the inability to secure railroad rates that are satisfactory to the central organizations whose participation is essential to make the chorus a success.

When the matter was first suggested Superintendent Kelly was assured that a rate of one cent a mile would be granted to bring the chorus to the exposition. This has not been done and most of the prospective participants refuse to pay any more.

PROGRAM FOR GOVERNMENT DAY.

The program for the celebration of Government day has been completed with the exception of one or two possible changes after the distinguished guests arrive. The senatorial delegation will make its headquarters at the Millard hotel, from which it will be escorted to the grounds in carriages at 10:30 o'clock. The exercises of the day will occur at the Auditorium at 11 o'clock and Senator John M. Thurston, chairman of the special senatorial committee, will preside.

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION.

We have a fresh pure stock of all kinds of preventions and all kinds of cures, and there is no one in Omaha that is more conscientious in the compounding of physician's prescriptions or family recipes than we—we use nothing but the freshest—chemically pure drugs—blood purifiers, etc., of our own concoction that will prove highly efficacious.

BICYCLE THIEVES ARE BUSY

H. S. Muenctefering lost his favorite racing wheel by trusting it for a few minutes on his sight on Saturday afternoon. He left it standing at the curb in front of his house, 120 North Twenty-sixth street, and it had disappeared upon his reappearance.

Ed Nelson, 1411 Douglas street, was the victim of a wheel thief last night while he was on duty as a waiter in the Calumet restaurant. Nelson has been in the habit of storing his bicycle in the rear of the building while he is occupied on the inside and supposed that it was sufficiently well hidden in the shadow of a high fence. The thief located it, however, and carried it to the open door to the alley in the rear.

SET TEETOTALERS ARIGHT

Governor Tanner Points Out There is No Desecration in Christening a Battleship with Wine.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 18.—Governor Tanner has decided the battleship Illinois shall be christened in champagne. Today he sent a letter to the committee of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, which had protested against christening the battleship with wine, in which he says:

"In the matter, however, of following the time-honored custom of christening battleships there is no desecration of the laws of temperance. The ceremony is not one from which any evil could possibly be set forth and the most sacred religious ordinance, the sacrament, which the world commemorates with deepest solemnity and honor, is one in which wine is used as a symbol. Therefore, I dismiss the subject as one unworthy of so much agitation. If left to me the battleship Illinois will be christened according to the time-honored custom."
