

AMUSEMENTS.

The new plays, which before the opening of the season were heralded as so full of promise, have not as a rule come up to the standard of the managerial announcements.

With the most pretentious new productions a rule being set down as dramatic failures or bad in their tendencies the lesser lights have as a rule been fortunate in their selections and have brought out some choice, clean drama and are reaping their reward.

The last week has kept up the record of the one which preceded it in the way of phenomenal business at the local places of amusement.

Outside of the amusement feature little Miss Gertie Cochran, one of the attractions last week at the Trocadero, is worthy of more than a passing notice.

Senators Allen and Thurston, Congressman Mercer and a party of distinguished friends were interested spectators at a special performance at the Palace of Mysteries on Government day and before leaving complimented Manager Tebbetts in the highest terms on the beauty, interest and general attractiveness of the show in general and of Lunette, the Maid of the Moon, in particular.

The Libby Glass Blowers and Engravers are having a great attendance. The Glass Dress is the wonder of the age and neckties made of spun glass.

Mr. Henry Miller, well known here as leading man in the Lyceum and at the Trocadero, will make his first appearance here as a star shortly at Boyd's theater.

Commencing with the matinee today the Woodward Stock company at the Creighton will be seen in an elaborate revival of "The Two Orphans."

At Boyd's opera house this afternoon the Hanlons will open with a new production of their pantomime spectacle, under the old caption of "Superba."

Owing to the exceptional success of the cake-walk last week the management of Gull's Concert garden has decided to repeat it at the conclusion of the big benefit performance given in honor of Gillihan and Delmore on Thursday evening next.

The current week brings forth an exceptionally strong vaudeville performance, and beginning with today's matinee the management of the popular Trocadero will offer the following well chosen high-class and society vaudeville performers.

Along the Midway. Mr. Fritz Mueller, the proprietor of Schritz's pavilion, Twentieth and Midway, has opened a new resort at the cattle exhibit or live stock exchange, near the Indian village.

That the public enjoys exhibitions of things that are mysterious and difficult to understand is shown by the continued success of the Automaton Psycho.

MUSIC.

"Le Roi est Mort! Vive le Roi!" Enters the Mexican band. Enter the Innes band.

For six weeks the musical people who have visited the exposition have had a treat. The concerts which have been given by the Mexican band have elicited the hearty applause and commendation of all who are interested in the better class of musical compositions.

The band has made a magnificent impression upon all those who are interested in music of the high grade, and it is with feelings of great regret that the word goodbye is said.

But while the Mexican band leaves, Innes, the great bandmaster of New York, arrives and his band will be heard in concert today at 3:30 p. m.
