

A personal invitation is extended to you to attend our

Festival of Fall Fashions

Which takes place Wednesday, Sept. 28, From 9 a. m. to 10 p. m.

On this occasion we will make a special exhibition of all the new styles in Fall Clothing and Furnishings—and we shall be glad to see all our friends and particularly you. There will be music by Kaufman's Orchestra for the general enjoyment. The store will be beautifully decorated and we shall give away handsome souvenirs of the occasion. On this our Fall Opening Day we shall have some "special bargains"—but you will not be asked to buy—we want you to come—and look over the handsomest stock of Fall and Winter Clothing, and Furnishings ever shown in Omaha. The date is Wednesday, September 28th. Will you favor us with a call—Out-of-town visitors are especially invited.

HEROES OF EL CANEY COMING

Twenty-Fourth United States Infantry is to See the Exposition.

ARRANGEMENTS MADE TO TREAT REGULARS

Exposition Managers, Army Officers and Railroad Co-Operate to Give the Colored Veterans a Chance to Visit the Great Fair.

The Transmississippi Exposition will have as its guests today the Twenty-fourth infantry, U. S. A. The regiment of colored regulars that won such warm praise from the highest military authorities for deeds of heroism and valor throughout the Cuban campaign, particularly at El Caney and Santiago, is to stop here on its way from Camp Wikoff, Long Island, to Fort Douglas, Utah, to see the exposition.

Arrangements for the visit of the brave soldiers to the exposition are being perfected. President Wattle has given his assurance that the regiment will be admitted to the grounds free of charge. Captain Baxter, acting quartermaster of the Department of the Missouri, says there will be no objection to the slight delay in the movement of the troops in order that they may see the exposition. The Union Pacific railroad has shown its good will toward the troops by agreeing to carry them westward from here after they have visited the exposition instead of starting them out as soon as they arrive here.

It is expected that the Twenty-fourth will arrive here about 9 o'clock this morning. The regiment is traveling in two special trains, and will come into Omaha over the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad. The route from New York to Salt Lake City is over these lines: The West Shore, the Nickel Plate, the Rock Island and the Union Pacific. There is no great hurry about the movement as it is shown by the fact that the soldiers left New York on Sunday evening and will not arrive here until Wednesday morning. The regiment occupies two special trains, one of fifteen cars and the other of nineteen cars.

Reception at Salt Lake City. The citizens of Salt Lake City are planning a mammoth reception for the Twenty-fourth on its return to the Mormon capital. The regiment was stationed there at Fort Douglas at the outbreak of the war, and on its return will be given a great welcome home. Had the original schedule of sending the regiment through here in the morning been carried out the soldiers would have reached Salt Lake City in the evening, an inopportune time for any public reception. By stopping here today to spend the day at the exposition they will arrive at Salt Lake City in the morning, pleasantly breaking the long trip here, giving them their only opportunity to see the exposition and landing them at their home city in much better season. The thoughtful change in the program is due to the foresight of S. A. Hutchison, assistant general passenger agent of the Union Pacific railroad.

The First regiment of cavalry, U. S. A., left Camp Wikoff, Long Island, yesterday for the west. The headquarters of the First will be established at Fort Meade, S. O. One troop of the cavalry will go to Fort Niobrara, this state; another troop will go to Fort Robinson, this state, and a third troop will go to Fort Washkie, Wyo. These troops will relieve troops of cavalry belonging to the Eighth regiment of regular cavalry which are to be sent at once to Huntsville, Ala.

Oppose a Paving Tax. Attorney General Smyth, W. C. Orr and other property owners residing on Thirty-sixth street between Cumby and California streets have begun an action in the district court to have special taxes assessed against their property in 1888 for the paving of the street set aside on the grounds that the paving was not authorized by a majority petition.

GENERAL CHILDREN'S DAY

Friday Proclaimed a Holiday Throughout the State for Schools.

RECOMMENDED TO VISIT THE EXPOSITION

Acting Governor Harris Issues His Proclamation and Superintendent Jackson Urges that All Schools Take Advantage.

County Superintendent Bodwell says the idea of having a school children's day at the exposition is being taken up with enthusiasm by the parents and teachers, and that the indications are that Omaha will see one of the prettiest as well as grandest spectacles of its history when the thousands of school children from all over the state are gathered at the exposition.

school children's day, and a proclamation was issued by Acting Governor Harris recommending that that day be observed as a holiday generally throughout the state, and urging upon the school boards, principals and teachers the importance of encouraging the attendance of the school children at the exposition on that date.

There is every indication that Friday will see a host of little ones on the grounds. W. K. Fowler, superintendent of schools at Blair, will bring a special train carrying 1,000 children from that place. Those who would otherwise have been unable to come have been provided for by liberal subscriptions by the citizens of Blair. The management has decided that on that day and on October 15, which will also be given over to the youngsters, the admission shall be 15 cents for children between the ages of 5 and 15 years. Another movement having been started by the Home Fire Insurance company of this city. The company has proposed to make arrangements that will allow the poor children to see the exposition free. It will raise enough money by subscription to pay the expenses, see to its assembling of the children, pay their street car fare, give them admission to the grounds and provide them with lunches while there. The executive committee has approved of the proposal and has made the price of admission 10 cents. The board has set October 8 as the date for the outing of the poor children of Omaha. It is expected that at least 700 will be given one day of pleasure and sight-seeing.
