> Would Devise Some Scheme to Help Tenants.

WATERLOO, Ia., Sept. 29,-(Special.)-A correspondent interviewed the deputies Ex-Governor Horace Boies made an interin Kingston. They said that when the Maesting address last week to the farmers of oons signed the treaty of peace with the this county. The following extract has progovernment they took an oath, drunk in voked much comment: blood, never to fight the whites again.

He who can devise and put into practice a system of farm tenancy that will secure as they were being robbed of territory and provoked by the white men. On their re-turn, their people, they said, would seize the land by force, and if the millary interfered, a judgment day would follow, as the indeed to a constantly increasing and entirely worthy class that has come to dwell permanently among us.

It has seemed to me that this is a sub-BY A CLOTHESLINE ject too much neglected by the farm jour-nals of the country and also in public gath-ings where matters pertaining to agricultural pursuits are chiefly discussed. Much good I believe would result from

People Shut Out from Stairway by a system of debates arranged for our state and county fairs, or a day to be properly designated, at which representatives of both classes could meet and compare opinions tached to a window saved the lives of a number of people today in a four-story of tenant farming that would tend to make more permanent the relations between ownerns and occupants of the soil and by which the just rights of each could become more clearly understood and more fairly adjusted women and children, slid down and escaped. than they are in very many instances at

Such discussions could well be arranged to include a variety of subjects, such for instance as the best methods of arranging a farm that is designed for use by a tenant. The best method of conducting the business of farming by those who live upon leased lands. The best plan for making as perma-nent as practicable the relation between landlord and tenant when once established. The question of the relative rights of each to the income derived from the cultivation debts. of the soil which would include the very im-line of farming, or in other words the rela-tive value of the use of agricultural lands for dairying for instance and the growing of live stock, in which the products of the soil would be largely consumed on the farm, and sold in the open markets.

These and many other kindred subjects could well be made entertaining and instructive alike, for it is a well known fact to those whose attention has been called to the subject that a vast number of the owners of farm lands who hold them for rent have nost imperfect ideas of what is due from themselves to their tenants and even more imperfect views of any plan designed to con-serve the fertility of the soil, a subject in which the state and the nation as such ar intensely interested.

The convention caused great excitement because of the contest for the attorneyship between Chantland and Magowan. Chantland resigned the position to go to the war at the head of Company G of the Fifty-second Iowa. Upon the company's return Chantland was charged with abusive and improper conduct toward his subordinates during service and Corporal Magowan was put up to beat him for county attorney. Chantland's nomination practically vindicates him from the charges.

As to lowa's State Debt.

Clinton Herald: The free silver press of Iowa is greatly exercised because Iowa is paying the state debt. They say if it had not been for the republicans there would have been no debt to pay. According to the same authority, on the 1st day of January the state debt was $1,000,000. Now the state treasurer is paying off the last $100,000 due. leaving only $300,000 undue warrants to pay. There is this difference between lowa and some of the democratic states. In Iowa 🗬 the republicans made a debt by large ap-propriations for permanent buildings for state institutions and they are paying the debt. In Missouri and other democratic states there are millions of indebtedness. nothing to show for it and no attempt being made to pay their obligations. Half the democratic states have repudiated their
