

DAY FOR INSPECTION

Yesterday at the Fair Given Over to Sightseeing Exclusively.

MANY PEOPLE ENJOY THE EXPOSITION

Good Crowds at the Grounds During the Morning and Afternoon.

DOUBLE STATE CELEBRATION FOR TODAY

Ohio and Pennsylvania Will Have the Stage All Day Long.

TOPEKA'S KARNIVAL KNIGHTS COME ALSO

Kansas' Capital Sends a Gallant Crew of Merry-makers and Queen They Crowned During Their Festivities to Join with Omaha.

Total Admissions Yesterday 19,999 Total to Date 1,700,821

All roads seemed to lead to the exposition grounds yesterday and from early morning until late in the afternoon there was a steady stream of humanity pouring through the gates.

Most of the visitors yesterday were from a distance and having little time to remain during the balance of the week.

There was all kinds of weather yesterday, but none of it interfered with the pleasures of the exposition visitors.

Aside from the Indian sham battle in the afternoon there was nothing of a special nature to attract the attention of the exposition visitor.

The evening attendance at the exposition was about the lightest in the history of the big show.

Today promises to be a red letter day in the history of the exposition, as it has sunny and numerous special features.

Merced county, Illinois, sends in a delegation of several hundred people, all of whom come on a special train.

One of the big parties and one of the swell ones comes from Topeka, Kan.

MISSOURIANS WILL BE ON HAND

Gov. Will Head the Party Coming to the Exposition.

The exposition grounds were as quiet as the grave last night.

THEY MEET PRESIDENT FAURE

American Public Commissioners Are Presented to the Head of the French Republic.

(Copyright, 1898, by Press Publishing Co.) PARIS, Oct. 4.—(New York World Telegram—Special Telegram.)—Patrie publishes an interview with Abaza and Cerero.

Cerero says: "The expected peace must have the effect of complicating all western questions, as America evidently wants to play a preponderating part in the world's events."

While the Spanish commissioners were digesting the American proposals respecting the Philippines, the American commissioner at the hotel station at the hotel today, when the Cuban and Porto Rico questions engaged their attention.

Everything connected with the ceremonial was marked by republican simplicity and the whole affair was over in half an hour.

WILL PLEAD HER INNOCENCE

Mrs. Guilford Denies All Complicity in the Death of Miss Emma Gill.

(Copyright, 1898, by Press Publishing Co.) LONDON, Oct. 4.—(New York World Telegram—Special Telegram.)—The first information of the arrest made in the United Kingdom of Mrs. Emma Gill was conveyed to Dr. Nancy Guilford today by her lawyer.

She now presents a confident demeanor and has declined authority that she intends to make a separate defense.

Her line is to be that she is innocent of any dealing with Emma Gill and that the American police are endeavoring to get her entangled in this charge to make her amenable for past offenses.

Spokane of the character of the roads from the coast to the points occupied by the Americans, he said that with such attention as they were able to give to them they were very good.

"General Shafter," he said, "deserves great credit for the results achieved in this respect. He devoted himself to the task, and I think there is no doubt that he succeeded. We used pack trains and there was comparatively little suffering because of the shortness of quartermasters supplies."

General Wheeler said, in response to a question that Cerero had asked, that he had made a sortie from Santiago, and he had asked General Toral after the surrender why he had not attacked.

ENGLISH CAPITAL IN HAVANA

Establishes Five Large Cigar Factories and Gives Work to a Syndicate.

(Copyright, 1898, by Press Publishing Co.) HAVANA, Oct. 4.—(New York World Telegram—Special Telegram.)—English capital has established five of the largest cigar factories here and combined with a syndicate of American capitalists to form a syndicate.

The systematic extortion employed by attorneys here has been officially laid before General Butler by the United States commissioner by the British consul.

SAGASTA ASKS FOR ADVICE

Consults His Colleagues Concerning Late Dispatch Wafted from the Peace Commission.

(Copyright, 1898, by Press Publishing Co.) MADRID, Oct. 4.—(New York World Telegram—Special Telegram.)—Senor Sagasta had a conference with several of his colleagues today on receipt of lengthy telegraphic dispatches from the peace commissioners at Paris.

General Wheeler said he had no control over any of the supplies which were taken to Santiago on the transports when he left Tampa.

WHEELER GIVES TESTIMONY

Brave Old Veteran Appears Before the Investigating Committee.

TELLS WHAT HE KNOWS OF THE CAMPAIGN Gives a Detailed Account of the Santiago Campaign and Punishes a Lot of Lies About Camp Wikoff.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The war investigation commission began the taking of testimony today and Major General Joseph Wheeler was on the stand the greater part of the day.

TEMPERATURE AT OMAHA

Table with 4 columns: Hour, Deg., Hour, Deg. showing temperature readings for various times of the day.

TODAY AT THE EXPOSITION.

- List of events at the exposition including: At the Grounds: Pennsylvania Day, Toluca Day, Mercier County, Illinois Day, etc.

Takes the Oath.

When General Joseph Wheeler took the stand Chairman Dodge stated to him the scope of the commission's duties and asked General Wheeler whether he had any objections to being sworn.

General Wheeler took up the common report that the Cubans stole goods thus discarded. It was not fair, he said, to thus accuse the natives, for there was so much sickness and death among the regulars that they were not to be blamed for helping themselves.

Regulators More Sifted. Replying to a question from Colonel Denby, General Wheeler said the regulars had shown a greater ability to take care of themselves than the militia.

Care of Wounded and Sick. Discussing the plan of campaign, he said he doubted whether any more effective plan could have been devised.

Men Complained of Heat. Speaking of the sleeping apartments on the transport, General Wheeler said they were quite warm and there was some discomfort.

Shortage of Transportation Facilities. There was also a shortage at this time of transportation facilities. The deficiency of transportation after the landing was the reason why the tents were not brought up.

Men Complained of Heat. Speaking of the sleeping apartments on the transport, General Wheeler said they were quite warm and there was some discomfort.

Shortage of Transportation Facilities. There was also a shortage at this time of transportation facilities. The deficiency of transportation after the landing was the reason why the tents were not brought up.

Men Complained of Heat. Speaking of the sleeping apartments on the transport, General Wheeler said they were quite warm and there was some discomfort.

Shortage of Transportation Facilities. There was also a shortage at this time of transportation facilities. The deficiency of transportation after the landing was the reason why the tents were not brought up.

Men Complained of Heat. Speaking of the sleeping apartments on the transport, General Wheeler said they were quite warm and there was some discomfort.

Shortage of Transportation Facilities. There was also a shortage at this time of transportation facilities. The deficiency of transportation after the landing was the reason why the tents were not brought up.

PENNSYLVANIA DAYS ORATOR.

Support of Conkling, and so replied to Mr. Blaine. His position was that he would act with the state and its convention.

Sketch of the Career of the Present Postmaster General.

Trained in a Newspaper Office.

Schooled in Politics Among Masters of the Craft with Whom He Ranked as Peer-His Service to the Government.

A public reception will be given in the Bee building tonight in honor of Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith.

His first experience was on the Express, which carried his pen soon made him in great demand and he then became the editor of the Journal as an owner of one-eighth interest in the latter paper.

His native state was Connecticut. He was born in the northwestern part of it, at Mansfield. His grandfather had established himself in a manufacturing business at Albany.

He was in the northwest part of it, at Mansfield. His grandfather had established himself in a manufacturing business at Albany.

He was in the northwest part of it, at Mansfield. His grandfather had established himself in a manufacturing business at Albany.

He was in the northwest part of it, at Mansfield. His grandfather had established himself in a manufacturing business at Albany.

He was in the northwest part of it, at Mansfield. His grandfather had established himself in a manufacturing business at Albany.

He was in the northwest part of it, at Mansfield. His grandfather had established himself in a manufacturing business at Albany.

He was in the northwest part of it, at Mansfield. His grandfather had established himself in a manufacturing business at Albany.

He was in the northwest part of it, at Mansfield. His grandfather had established himself in a manufacturing business at Albany.

He was in the northwest part of it, at Mansfield. His grandfather had established himself in a manufacturing business at Albany.

He was in the northwest part of it, at Mansfield. His grandfather had established himself in a manufacturing business at Albany.

He was in the northwest part of it, at Mansfield. His grandfather had established himself in a manufacturing business at Albany.

He was in the northwest part of it, at Mansfield. His grandfather had established himself in a manufacturing business at Albany.

He was in the northwest part of it, at Mansfield. His grandfather had established himself in a manufacturing business at Albany.

CHARLES EMORY SMITH.

OF CHARLES EMORY SMITH

Sketch of the Career of the Present Postmaster General.

Trained in a Newspaper Office.

Schooled in Politics Among Masters of the Craft with Whom He Ranked as Peer-His Service to the Government.

A public reception will be given in the Bee building tonight in honor of Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith.

His first experience was on the Express, which carried his pen soon made him in great demand and he then became the editor of the Journal as an owner of one-eighth interest in the latter paper.

His native state was Connecticut. He was born in the northwestern part of it, at Mansfield. His grandfather had established himself in a manufacturing business at Albany.

He was in the northwest part of it, at Mansfield. His grandfather had established himself in a manufacturing business at Albany.

He was in the northwest part of it, at Mansfield. His grandfather had established himself in a manufacturing business at Albany.

He was in the northwest part of it, at Mansfield. His grandfather had established himself in a manufacturing business at Albany.

He was in the northwest part of it, at Mansfield. His grandfather had established himself in a manufacturing business at Albany.

He was in the northwest part of it, at Mansfield. His grandfather had established himself in a manufacturing business at Albany.

He was in the northwest part of it, at Mansfield. His grandfather had established himself in a manufacturing business at Albany.

He was in the northwest part of it, at Mansfield. His grandfather had established himself in a manufacturing business at Albany.

ALL HAIL THE KING

His Most Christian Majesty Ak-Sar-Ben IV Enters His Capital City.

MIGHTY LORD OF QUIVERA NOW REIGNS

Brilliant Train of Courtiers and Beautiful Pageantry Accompany Him.

DREAMS OF THE MOON TOLD IN PICTURES

Poetry of Granada Embalmed for Delight of Admiring Scores of Thousands.

ALHAMA'S PALACE AFFORDS THE THEME

Glorious Legends of the Wonderful Building from the Founder to Bonaldi Illustrated with Unusually Artistic Effect.

"Hail, all hail to the King." The rapturous cry resounded through all the kingdom of Quivera last night as a loyal people greeted the advent of King Ak-Sar-Ben IV and rendered homage to his illustrious face.

From every corner of his broad domain the people came to greet their king. The knight in his robes of blue and ermine, the humble peasant clad in the habiliments of toil, the queen of beauty and the lovely dame, jostled each other in the surging crowd and bent the knee in fealty to him.

Soon after the electric illumination succeeded the sunlight the people began to gather in the public places and the triumphal entry of King Ak-Sar-Ben IV.

The parade was led by the Board of Governors on horseback, clad in riding boots, white trousers, red coats and black caps.

The first float represented the title of the pageant, "Alhambra." It presented a portrait of the old palace which Idris built in the mountains of Spain, near Granada.

Where the King Rode. Float two was that of King Ak-Sar-Ben IV, and showed the gracious and devoted monarch riding in a golden chariot drawn by lions.

Where the King Rode. Float two was that of King Ak-Sar-Ben IV, and showed the gracious and devoted monarch riding in a golden chariot drawn by lions.

Where the King Rode. Float two was that of King Ak-Sar-Ben IV, and showed the gracious and devoted monarch riding in a golden chariot drawn by lions.

Where the King Rode. Float two was that of King Ak-Sar-Ben IV, and showed the gracious and devoted monarch riding in a golden chariot drawn by lions.

Where the King Rode. Float two was that of King Ak-Sar-Ben IV, and showed the gracious and devoted monarch riding in a golden chariot drawn by lions.

Where the King Rode. Float two was that of King Ak-Sar-Ben IV, and showed the gracious and devoted monarch riding in a golden chariot drawn by lions.

Where the King Rode. Float two was that of King Ak-Sar-Ben IV, and showed the gracious and devoted monarch riding in a golden chariot drawn by lions.