

COUNTIES PAYING FOR IT

Wonderful Increase in School Money is Partly Accounted For.

POPCRATS INCREASE THE TAX LEVY

Raise a Greater Sum by Direct Taxation and Then Boast of Their Great Business and Economic Management.

LINCOLN, Oct. 5.—(Special.)—In order to help make their claim good of increasing the school appropriation of the state the popular officials have found it necessary to take advantage of every favorable condition brought on by good crops and McKinley prosperity, and at the same time have quietly increased the burden of the counties in the matter of school levy to furnish part of this increase. For instance, in 1897 the amount to be raised by the counties out of the regular levy for school purposes was increased $2,000 and in 1898 there was a further increase of $5,500. The school levy for the last eight years is as follows:

Table with 2 columns: School Levy, 1891, 1892, 1893, 1894, 1895. Values range from 141,232 to 144,532.

It will be observed that the counties of the state, and incidentally the county treasurers whom Mr. Meserve in his recent speech declared "were getting away with the money," were obliged to help make the showing for which the state officials now take all the credit upon themselves. A further examination of the school fund figures for 1897 shows that two of the items that helped to make up the appropriation for the year were as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Interest from school lands sold, 1897, 1898. Values are $29,045.25 and $11,278.60.

Living on the Principal. During the same year, 1897, the counties of the state paid in $701,794.12 as revenue derived from the lease, interest and sale of school lands, which indicates that $258,470.81 was from the sale of lands.

In connection with this subject of collections for the school fund, it is well to state that Land Commissioner Wolfe took The Bee correspondent to task a few days ago because of the story about Edmisten's school land deal, and in the course of his remarks the land commissioner said that his office was not responsible for the deal.

Concerning the State Appropriation. The state officials in their "place and applause-seeking" tours over the state are still making the statement that the penitentiary under their control has been self-sustaining and some of them have been heard to say that for the last ten months the penitentiary has only cost the state only $450 per month.

preme court, as contained in the recent decision, and pass upon the vouchers in the regular manner. The amount of these claims cannot be obtained at present, but they will run well up into the thousands and if allowed before election day will cut quite a figure in increasing the "per capita expenses" of the state institutions and will call for a revision of the circulars that are being circulated at the expense of the general government.

Open Fusion Campaign. DAVID CITY, Neb., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The fusion forces opened their campaign in Butler county last evening by a rally at the opera house. Although the meeting had been extensively advertised and the crowd hand expected to play upon the streets before the meeting, the audience did not exceed seventy-five voters, a fair share of these being republicans. Hon. J. V. Wolfe spoke first and for nearly an hour he praised the honest and ability with which he had conducted the affairs of his office and asked for the suffrages of the voters on the showing he made in his own behalf. Hon. W. A. Foynter was then introduced. He made no attempt to discuss the issues of the day, but contented himself with reading portions of the republican platform, giving his own explanation of what it might mean if applied as he wished it to be applied. The meeting was without enthusiasm and the audience was continually growing smaller when, with a public effort at applause, the meeting was closed.

EPISCOPAL COUNCIL OPENS

Brings Together a Distinguished Body of Clergy and Laymen.

Venerable Bishop Whipple of Minnesota the Senior Bishop Present—Business Sessions of Both Houses Commence.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—With impressive ceremonies the triennial council of the Protestant Episcopal church of the United States opened at 11 o'clock this morning at that old landmark of Episcopal worship at the national capital—Epiphany church. The sessions, beginning today, have a far-reaching interest and importance to the Episcopal organization of the country and indeed to the church world at large, for aside from the distinguished personnel of the bishops, clergymen and laymen, the subjects which will engage the attention of the two governing bodies of the church have a present and vital interest in the church in general, and to the Episcopal church in particular. A great concourse of people gathered for the opening services, far exceeding the capacity of the church, and overflowing into the adjacent street. Conspicuous in the throng were the silver-haired, black-garbed bishops forming the house of bishops, the chief governing body of the church. The actual participants in the council, including bishops, clergymen and laity, was so great—some 500 or more—that but little space remained for the congregation not officially connected with the proceedings. Inside the chancel were arranged the seats of the bishops. Immediately in front of the chancel were the seats of the surprised choir of fifty-five voices while the body of the church was occupied by the entered officials and laymen. The State Episcopal delegates were observed Chief Justice Fuller of the United States supreme court of the lay delegation from Chicago; J. Pierpont Morgan, William Bayard Cutting, Francis Pickens, and Captain A. C. Mahan, representing New York; George C. Thomas and S. Biddle of Philadelphia, while the clergy was represented by many prominent in the church work of the country, including Rev. Morgan Dix of New York, who will probably officiate as presiding officer of the house of clergy and lay delegates.

Formal Opening of Conference. Promptly at 11 o'clock the strains of the great church organ and the mixed voices of the choir floated through the edifice, initiating the council with the imposing entrance of the bishops. Following the choir came the stately body of ecclesiastics occupying the highest places in the churches. They entered according to their length of service as bishops, walking in pairs to the chancel. The venerable Rt. Rev. J. Williams of Connecticut, the patriarch of the body, was necessarily absent by reason of his advanced age and infirmity, and so, too, was Bishop Clark of Rhode Island. First in point of service came that white-haired pillar of the Episcopacy, Rt. Rev. Bishop Whipple of Minnesota, somewhat bowed with his years of eminent service in the church, but still vigorous in action and strong in intellect. To the white robes and wide black collar of his office were added the crimson academic hood, hanging like a cap down his back and the purple cap of the senior presiding bishop. Following him came Bishop Wilmer of Alabama, Bishop Neely of Maine, Bishop Tuttle of Missouri, Bishop Whittle of Virginia and the other heads of the church, the young and new members of this high office closing the procession.

Bishop Whipple conducted the service and in fervent tones led the opening prayer. Then followed the service of the Episcopal church, Bishop Neely reading the epistle, Bishop Wilmer the gospel and all the bishops uniting in repeating the creed. Rev. Dr. McKim of Epiphany made the announcement of the business sessions of both houses were announced to begin at 2:30 p. m. Bishop Tuttle of Missouri then ascended the pulpit and delivered the sermon.

BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS. Reports Show Material Progress in the Work, Particularly in the Orient.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 5.—Today's session of the American Board of Foreign Missions opened with devotional exercises led by Rev. Clarence Swift of Lansing, Mich. President Lamson appointed committees to report on home department and surveys of missions. Rev. James L. Barton, D. D., finished reading the surveys of missions, begun yesterday by Secretary Judson Smith. William Mulick of San Sebastian, Spain, gave an account of the mission there and its removal to Biarritz, France, which was occasioned by the war. When the treaty of peace is signed, the mission will be transferred to Madrid.

Rev. H. A. Stimson, D. D., New York, made a thrilling address, advocating utilization of opportunities and outlining additional obligations for missionary work occasioned by the unexpected issue of the war. He was repeatedly applauded. The con-operating committee for district of the interior made its report. Rev. C. C. Cregan, secretary of the middle division reported a gain of $7,244, an increase of 36 per cent over the collections of last year; also an increase of 163,369 in legacies.

Rev. Charles H. Daniels, D. D., read a paper on "Young Manhood and Womanhood in Mission." Mr. Daniels reported from his mission in the foreign department, read a review of its work in which he said:

Upon the work of the twenty missions of the board the sun never sets. Located in 101 different stations and work, there are 109 ordained missionaries, 163,410 and 17 single women, making an American missionary force of 731, thirty-eight of whom are physicians, twelve less than reported last year. There are 229 ordained pastors, 147 preachers, 1,173 teachers, 200 bible women, and 37 other native helpers, making a grand total of 2,327 trained native laborers, twenty-one more than were reported last year.

There are 435 organized churches with a membership of 412,130, an average of 340 members to each church. There are 59,700 pupils in the Sunday schools. These churches report as additions to their membership an increase of 17,448, a percentage larger than has ever been reported.
