Register of Deeds Thomas Crocker Gives Some Figures on County Mortgage Record.

Register of Deeds Thomas Crocker has been able to make a shortening of general prosperity for the political barometer very well contrast. Some time ago The Bee published some figures on mortgages for the past three years, showing how, since 1906, the cancellations had constantly increased in the aggregate amount of obligations released while there had been a steady decrease of the total amount of new mortgages filed. The figures for September have kept up the rate most encouragingly.

The new mortgages for last month amounted to $154,359 for city property and $13,700 for farm property, while the cancellations were $201,469 for city property and $22,000 for farm property. This is almost 33 1/3 per cent in favor of city cancellations and about 69 per cent in favor of farm releases.

Overcoat Tricks.

Shoddy and flocks are not wool. Pressed wool scrapings are not kersey. One of the meanest tricks of the clothing business is the trick of calling cheap goods by the names of well known fabrics—fabrics that have a reputation for service and reliability. Don't go by names. Go by quality. For 3.75 we sell a very decent ulster of Vermont gray handle cloth, heavy, warm, serviceable, but not all wool. If we called it a frieze or a kersey or a melton, it would sound better, but it wouldn't make the coat any better. If you want to buy your winter overcoat from a straight house, from a house that calls a spade a spade, from a house that never resorts to petty deceptions or trickery. Come in here today, if possible, and look over the greatest line of overcoats we have ever shown—that's saying something. If you want to see the best overcoat ever sold in America, for five dollars, we have it. It is a dark blue coat made from genuine kersey, made as it ought to be made to fit, made to wear, made to hold its shape and its color. We have hundreds of them. If you want to pay more money we can show you some at 6.00, at 7.00, at 8.00, at 8.50, at 11.50, that we aren't ashamed to sell you or afraid to have taken around anywhere for comparison. While we are on the subject of overcoats let us tell you about some we are selling very fast at fourteen dollars. They're melton—genuine melton. There ain't any better wearing fabric made than a genuine melton.

Amusements. The attraction of Boyd's theater for the first three nights of next week will be Mr. Henry Miller, who returns to this city after an absence of four years, during which time he has been evolved from the leading man of Charles Frohman's Empire Theater Stock company to that of star in high class romantic comedy. The transition which is not a startling one when Mr. Miller's former work is remembered, has been a successful one through the eastern cities, where he has traveled with his own company for the past two years. The play "Heartsease," which he offers here, was his first starring venture and ran for over 100 nights at the Garden theater, New York.
