WELCOME TO THE BEE BUILDING.

No visitor to Omaha and the exposition should go away without inspecting The Bee building, the largest newspaper building in America...

Now Chicago will take up the Peace Jubilee refrain.

The heroes of Santiago, Porto Rico and Manila are now also the heroes of the exposition.

It seems that after all a few people have heard of the exposition through the work of the Department of Publicity.

Omaha is today the best advertised city in the United States. Put that down as one of the great results of the exposition.

The man who was positive the exposition could not be made a success seems to have disappeared suddenly from the face of the earth.

The French government is again distorting plots against the stability of the republic. France may need a peace commission of its own some of these fine days.

It is plain that the position of high private in the American volunteers is altogether too much for a popocratic colonel on the staff of the populist governor.

If any one ever doubted the patriotic loyalty of the west, the continuous ovation accorded President McKinley on his transmississippi tour should dispel all misapprehension.

The weather men must not be allowed to imagine they have concluded their part just because their convention has come to a close. The exposition remains open until November 1.

J. Sterling Morton's word mint is responsible for coining the term Bryan-archist, which certainly fits quite a number of popocratic lights that are twinkling in this vicinity.

Another lot of big gold nuggets is said to have been fished up in Canadian Alaska. This is only another bait for people who want to get rich without a patient, persevering labor in their own vocations.

We were never so well off as we are today; we have gone from business depression to business activity; we have gone from labor hunting employment to employment hunting labor.—President McKinley.

When he says "there was no malice in our conflict, no bitterness or resentment connected with it," President McKinley emphatically repudiates the theory that the war was carried on to avenge the Maine.

Through the timely and telling speeches delivered by President McKinley on his way east from Omaha the patriotic inspiration of our great peace jubilee is being happily infiltrated through the entire country.

All the cities and towns that have prevailed upon President McKinley for speeches on his trip to and from Omaha should join in a resolution of thanks to the exposition management for inducing the president to come west.

With fair weather the exposition is assured of scoring over 2,500,000 admissions at the gates and it is within the range of probability that by November 1 when the gates close the total figures will exceed that number by 100,000.

The labor problem is still to be solved. Arbitration has proved a remedy where both parties are willing to arbitrate, but where either of them is determined to fight out its differences, we land at the point where brute force or starvation is the deciding factor.

THE BATTLE FOR SOUND MONEY.

Representative Dockery of Missouri, who expects, if the democrats carry the next house of representatives, to be elected speaker, said in a recent interview that the campaign of 1898 is to be the campaign of 1898...

It is the one supreme issue upon which the great battle will be fought. There can be no doubt that this is the feeling of nearly all the democrats who supported the Chicago platform and candidates two years ago.

It is not surprising that the democratic conventions of this year have reaffirmed the Chicago platform and in the states where this was not done all national questions were ignored and the democratic campaign is being made on state issues.

OTHER LANDS THAN OURS.

A striking illustration of the evil which has brought France to the verge of revolution is had in the sullenness of the police of Paris, whose numerical weakness is admittedly the cause of the spread of the strike disorders to their present dimensions.
