The city council will meet in adjourned regular session this evening.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education will be held this evening.

I. N. Flickinger left yesterday for Des Moines to look after some cases before the supreme court.

J. C. Birby, heating and sanitary engineer, plans and specifications for heating, plumbing and lighting, 202 Main, Council Bluffs.

Don't you think it must be a pretty good laundry that can please so many hundreds of customers? Well—that's the "Eagle," 724 Broadway.

Members of Company L, Fifty-first Iowa volunteers, in camp at San Francisco, have written relatives and friends here that the regiment will probably sail October 22 for the Philippines.

All members of Council Bluffs lodge, No. 270, ancient Order of United Workmen, are requested to be at the hall at 1 o'clock sharp this afternoon to attend the funeral of C. L. Neumas.

Colonel E. R. Fonda and others of this city attended the state convocation of the Union Veterans' union, which meets at Marshalltown Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Cornelius Armstrong was held from the residence, 22 Seventeenth avenue, yesterday morning, the services being conducted by Rev. Henry DeLong. Interment was in Fairview cemetery.

The men's club of the Grand Hotel, which has elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Dr. F. S. Thomas; vice president, A. S. Hareton; secretary, H. G. McGee; treasurer, F. E. Houghland.

Clarence Pullman, a young man who claimed to be from Lincoln, Neb., applied for lodging at the police station yesterday. He was in a very dilapidated condition and appears to be all going both physically and mentally.

The case of the City of Council Bluffs against the Omaha & Council Bluffs Railway and Bridge company is set for trial in the superior court tomorrow. The city claims from the motor company $4,499.92 for intersection paving taxes and the suit was originally commenced in 1891.

The little streak of sunshine, Sadie Raymond, and a really good company in "The Missouri Girl," was the attraction at the Doherty theater last night and the house well deserved success. Raymond in the title role and Fred Raymond as "Zeke" did some very clever pieces of acting which fairly captured the audience. The house was well filled and Manager Harrington opens the season with the best of prospects.

Two small colored boys were found by the police yesterday trying to purchase a revolver at Sam Freeman's pawnshop, 20 Broadway. When taken to the station they handed over a pocketbook containing $5 in cash and two return trip tickets to Chicago. They claimed to have picked up the pocketbook at the exposition. Neither of the boys was over 11 years of age so the police let them go, but retained the pocketbook and contents.

Charles Ludwig Neumas died at his home at 724 Fourth street Saturday evening after a brief illness. The funeral will leave the residence this afternoon at 2 o'clock and services will be held at the German Lutheran church a half hour later. Deceased was a member of the Ancient Order of United Workmen and the members of the lodge will attend the funeral. He leaves a wife and five children. Mr. Neumas has been in the meat business in this city for seventeen years.

Snap Shots, a beautiful souvenir of the exposition, containing reproductions of all the prominent buildings, together with a bird's-eye and general view of the grounds, can be had at the Council Bluffs office of The Bee for 25 cents. It is just the thing to send to your friends at a distance.

Miss Julia Oliver, teacher of piano, 523 Willow avenue. Fall and winter term.

Will attend the Exposition. Today is Old Fellows' day at the Trans-Mississippi Exposition and this accounts for the arrival of many delegates in advance of the meeting of the grand lodge. The visiting and local members of the order will meet this morning at 8:30 o'clock at Old Fellows' temple on Broadway and proceed from there in a body to Omaha.

Tomorrow the annual convocation of the grand encampment will be convened at Old Fellows' temple. At the evening session degrees will be conferred by the degree staff of Ottumwa. The Rebekah degree staff of Ottumwa will also confer the Rebekah degree for the state assembly, which will be in session at the same time.

Wednesday afternoon there will be a grand parade, starting from the temple at 1:30 o'clock. The parade will be formed as follows: Platoon of police, Marshal O. D. Wheeler and aides, band, members of cantons, members of subordinate lodges, members of encampments, grand lodge officers in carriages. The line of march will start from the temple west on Broadway to Pearl street, south to the junction of Main street, north on Main to Broadway, east to South First, north to Washington avenue, west to Sixth street, south to Broadway and east to the temple, where the following exercises will be carried out: Address of welcome by Mayor Victor Jennings, address of welcome on behalf of local lodges by Colonel C. G. Saunders, response to addresses of welcome by J. C. Koonz of Burlington, grand master.

The day's program will close with a grand ball at night in the large hall of the temple, for which elaborate preparations have been made by the local members.

Thursday and Friday the delegates will get down to business and the two days will be devoted to business pertaining to the meeting of the grand lodge and Rebekah assembly.

ODD FELLOWS GRAND LODGE

Meeting of the Iowa Body Will Be a Most Important Occasion.

MANY DELEGATES ARE ALREADY HERE

Celebration at the Exposition Brings Them in Advance of the Convention of the Lodge-Committees Have Their Hands Full.

Council Bluffs will be in the hands of the Odd Fellows this week, the occasion being the meeting of the grand lodge and the grand encampment and already there is a goodly number of the members of the fraternal body. The hotels are rapidly filling up and, as between 1,200 and 1,500 visitors are expected during the week, the question of finding them accommodations is one that at present is of much concern to the members of the local lodge and the entertainment committee in particular.

Every room in the Grand hotel has been secured in advance as headquarters for the officers of the grand lodge and the grand encampment and as the other hotels are already well filled up with exposition visitors, the local committee will find it necessary to take care of the visiting delegates at private homes.

The local committee, on whose shoulders rests all the responsibility for the arrangements for the meeting of the grand lodge, is composed of the following: J. F. Spar, chairman; Asa D. Van Horn, secretary; S. S. Keller, Herman Schurz, J. W. Schoening, L. Harris, A. N. Lund, O. D. Wheeler, W. H. Mullen, D. C. Bloomer, L. Hammer, E. A. Mitchell, J. B. Rishell, Peter Rapp, F. A. Groat.

A reception committee to meet the incoming delegates at the several depots has been appointed as follows: Rock Island and Milwaukee depots: L. E. Bristlestein, John Gilbert, Julius Jensen, C. C. Yancey, W. H. Smith, T. H. Riley, Ed Rosenber, C. F. Lanning, J. D. Aishel, Northwest depot: L. Harris, Peter Rapp, Julius Unger, Burlington depot: J. N. Parsons, E. H. Olsen, Ernest Bird, F. A. Groat, C. Mayes, T. Bailey, A. McMullen, P. Hart, Transfer depot: S. S. Keller, Harry Lenox, J. F. Spar and S. S. Keller comprise the committee on hotels.

The question of the location of Odd Fellows' Orphans' home will come up at the meeting of the grand lodge and some dual action in the matter is looked for. Judge Henderson of Indiana has arrived and will present the claims of his town before the lodge. Judge Zala A. Church of Jefferson is also on the ground and it is understood he will urge the claims of his town. Colfax, it is believed, is now in the field with a proposition.

When asked regarding the Orphans' home question Mr. Koonz, the grand master, said: "I cannot, of course, say what disposition the grand lodge will make of the matter, but I believe that some action will undoubtedly be taken at this meeting. For my part I sincerely hope it will, for such action certainly would be for the best interests of the order. I understand that Indiana intends holding the grand lodge in the contract of two years. Judge Henderson of Indiana had the matter up on appeal to the sovereign grand lodge in Boston a couple of weeks ago, but that body sustained the Iowa grand lodge in refusing to order the building of the home at Indiana. Thus the matter is left entirely in the hands of the grand lodge to decide."

Among the prominent members of the order who arrived yesterday is J. Norwood Clark of Iowa City, treasurer of the grand encampment, who has been a member of the order for sixty-one years. He is the oldest living Odd Fellow in Iowa and probably in the United States, if not the world. Others who have arrived are: A. J. Morrison of Marengo, treasurer of grand lodge; W. P. Sharp of Ottumwa, past grand master; J. W. Bulfinch of Clinton, grand representative to supreme lodge; W. V. Tufford of Clinton, reporter for grand lodge, and Mrs. Tufford, who is reporter for the Rebekah assembly. Mrs. Belle Boy Hetzel of Iowa, president of the Rebekah state assembly, has arrived and has established her headquarters at the Grand.

Democracy Raising the Wind.

The executive committee of the Pottawattamie county Democratic club and the city and county central committees held a pow-wow yesterday afternoon at the city hall. The candidates are not showing any great alacrity in stepping up to the captain's desk and paying their assessments and to secure funds for the campaign. It was decided that it would be necessary to make a levy on officeholders under the present democratic city administration. This means that the members of the police force, from the chief down to the patrol driver, and the members of the sewer gang, from the boss, Pat Sullivan, down to Mike Flaherty, who earns $1.50 a day when he works, will have to divvy up.

Those desiring copies of the Jubilee edition of The Daily Bee can secure them at the Council Bluffs office of The Bee.

Part 2 of The Bee's photographs of the exposition is now ready and can be had at the Council Bluffs office.

Funeral of John Ahles.

All that was mortal of the late John Ahles was laid to rest yesterday afternoon in Fairview cemetery. The funeral, which was held from the residence on Myrnest street, was attended by the members of the "Friend" in a body and a large number of the German residents of the city. The services were conducted by Rev. J. G. Lemen of the Christian Home and the casket was covered with many beautiful floral offerings. The pallbearers were: George Schindler, F. Munch, L. Lushak, H. Grimmer, August Schultze and Chris Paul. The remains were followed to the cemetery by a long cortege.

Those desiring copies of the Jubilee edition of The Daily Bee can secure them at the Council Bluffs office of The Bee.

The wonder of the Trans-Mississippi Exposition is Cole's Hot Blast Heater. It gives absolute cleanliness, even heat and saves work out of common soft coal as can be seen from hard coal. It saves millions. See it at the Wigan, or Cole & Co's, 11 Main street, Council Bluffs.

Thieves at Atlantic.

ATLANTIC, Ia., Oct. 16.—(Special Telegram.)—Mayor Jones of this city received an anonymous letter Saturday from abroad stating that professional crooks within a few days would make a raid on a jewelry or clothing store here. He took the hint and detailed a couple specials, who about midnight discovered a burglar in Joe Burneas' clothing store, who was passing bolts of cloth through a door panel. It was very dark and the light was extinguished. During the scuffle when the arrest was made one escaped. The other, who was captured, is now in confinement.

PECULIAR MATRIMONIAL RECORD.

Married Three Times to the Same Woman in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—John K. Ware and Esther Gould of Russell were married for the third time Friday. The ceremony was performed by Justice Byler.

Ware told his story to the court yesterday when the ceremony was performed. They were first married in this county in 1890 and removed to Colfax, where they lived together in perfect happiness for several years. Work became slack for Ware, who is a plasterer by trade, and he went to Fairfield in search of employment. There he found work and also another girl. He divided his time between his work and the girl until finally a climax was reached and he was given a divorce from the first wife. He was then married to the girl who is now his wife. He could not marry her again without being held liable for bigamy and if he did not marry her he was in just as bad a fix. Finally he concluded to take the dilemma by the horns and returned to Colfax, where he told his story to his wife. She listened to him and finally it was agreed between them that they should get a divorce, naming the Fairfield girl as co-respondent, and that he should marry the co-respondent, but with the understanding that he should secure a divorce from her at the earliest possible date and return to his first wife. The divorce was obtained as agreed and the marriage to the co-respondent and the criminal prosecution dropped.

Then Ware commenced to watch for the opportunity to break with his second wife. Finally the opportunity presented itself and he retained an attorney to sue for a divorce. He was told that the decree had been granted and hurried back to this county, where Esther was waiting for him. They were married and then Ware was surprised and disappointed to learn that the decree of divorce obtained in Jefferson county was invalid. He was up against a possible term in the penitentiary for bigamy again, but this time had the satisfaction of knowing that he had acted on the supposition that he had a perfect and legal right to marry. But he was determined to straighten the tangle out and went back to Fairfield, where he retained another attorney and renewed his plea for a divorce. He was successful and after securing his decree he returned to his first wife and yesterday they were married again, and this time, they say, for the last time and for all time.

Lincoln Tells of Iowa Soldiers.

DES MOINES, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—A local paper prints the following letter from Brigadier General Lincoln, dated Huntsville:

"Knowing you like to publish good things about the Iowa boys, I send you an extract from a letter I just received from Brigadier General Charles King, now organizing the department of Hawaii: 'I was "euchered" out of Manila, but had some compensation in meeting and knowing the Fifty-first Iowa, one of the best regiments that galloped over the sea to the Philippines. I had no better soldier in the brigade I had the honor to command than your friend and former assistant, his tip top adjutant, Major Davidson. General King is a good judge of war and regiments. We have an Iowa boy here, from Monroe county, who is an honor to the state. Captain J. K. Thompson, assistant adjutant general on the staff of General Coppinger. He is not only capable, but glad to help those needing his assistance. If every regular officer would help like he would, there would be no need of much heard of inexperienced staff officers. Captain Thompson has well performed his own work, and found time to break in others to their work. He does not criticize, but helps. I am expecting in a few days to know my destination, which, I suppose, will be Cuba. Our corps is being fitted up and will soon be in shape for any duty. Health good and everything satisfactory.'"

Reunited After Forty Years.

MASON CITY, Ia., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Last week Clerk Keel granted a marriage certificate to Hiram Burt and Minnie S. Knowles.

The couple were both born in Iowa, but before the civil war. Mr. Burt, like all loyal American citizens, deemed it his duty to go to the front, which he did, toiling the union army. For a while they corresponded regularly, but finally the correspondence ceased and he heard no more from him until the report came that he was shot and killed in one of the fiercely contested battles between the north and south. She made all sorts of inquiries regarding his whereabouts but could find nothing further. In time she fell in love with another man and married a divorcee from her first husband, after which she married and went to live in the east. After the war Mr. Burt, who was not dead as supposed, looked for his wife but could find no trace of her, so he obtained a divorce and married a second wife. Mr. Burt and his wife lived happily together in the west until death separated them. Mr. Burt then returned to the east, where he happened to run across some of his children by his first wife and then to his great joy he found his first wife, whose husband had died. They both came out here and were granted a marriage license and are now once more husband and wife.

Reception to a War Correspondent.

LEMAIRS, Ia., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—A reception given to Trumbull White and wife at Washington hall was attended by hundreds of people. Mr. and Mrs. White have just come to Lemars from Puerto Rico. Mr. White was the Chicago Record correspondent at Siboney and Santiago during the fighting and Mrs. White was on the personal staff of Clara R. Tilton in the Red Cross service. Mrs. White is a sister of Mrs. F. B. Yates and formerly lived in Lemars. An informal talk of an hour by Mr. White on the inner workings of military and newspaper life at the front was the special feature of the evening. The lecture was a vivid and accurate description of the country and the scenes of war.

Women and Missions.

PORT MADISON, Ia., Oct. 16.—(Special Telegram.)—The annual convention of the Des Moines branch of the Women's Foreign Missionary society, with delegates representing Iowa, Missouri and Kansas, closed today with elaborate services in all the churches. The work of the society was found to be progressing finely. The following officers were elected: President, Miss E. Pearson, Des Moines, Ia.; corresponding secretary, Mrs. M. S. Houston, Burlington; recording secretary, Miss Gatchell, Des Moines; treasurer, Mrs. E. A. Stanley, Port Madison; secretary of supplies, Mrs. Miller, Kansas City.

Game of Fisticuffs.

RIVINGTON, Ia., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—William Mayer and Luther Greener engaged in a fistic battle in front of the Nishna Valley bank Friday evening and did each other considerable damage.

Mr. Miller, a young farmer living near town, was kicked by a horse Saturday and his arm broken.

Iowa Press Comment.

St. Louis Center Free Press: Talk about there being no money! A man was noticed on the street yesterday carrying a sackful of coins nearly a half bushel.

St. Louis City Tribune: St. Louis City's big brewery is getting along finely now, but it will be quite a while before it is doing business. In the meantime imported beer will continue to come in by the carload.

Marshalltown Times-Republican: While so many railroads are being built just now in Iowa on paper that will probably never materialize into fact, the fact that one only set of new (to be) towns and lack buildings for years to come, still we have before us several fields of new railroads for which there is a legitimate demand and promising future. It would seem as though, with all the present railroad lines in Iowa (in a state where it is estimated that one set of eleven miles from a railroad) they could move the products of the soil of Iowa. And it is true that they do carry the surplus produce of the state. What always when the shipper wants to sell his stock. Just now there is a "car famine," and conservative men estimate that thirty days are necessary to get the surplus of the state to market. Some of the trouble is located east of us, where the elevators cannot take in the grain as fast as the cars arrive at the docks. If these new railroads, which are now being built, will prevent an annual car famine is a question.

SOUTH DAKOTA NEWS.

Fraternize with Spaniards.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The friends of the Black Hills soldiers, who are now in the Philippines, received another budget of letters yesterday from the boys. There is no sickness among the soldiers to speak of. Low Sharpe, well known in the Black Hills, writes an interesting letter in part he says:

"There is a breach between the insurgents and the United States soldiers that is growing wider every day and which is going to be hard to heal. We regard the Spaniards as our friends and mingle with them to some extent, but we do not fraternize with the insurgents. They are a low-down, sneaking lot with no more sense of government than a flock of geese. The only way to get their respect is to prod them with bayonets. They are not patriots by a long shot, but have simply been fighting for the rich boys of Manila. We do not intend to go to prison about half a block from here in the possession of the insurgents and they have about 120 Spanish prisoners confined within. We are permitted to go inside at any time of the day. Our boys are all learning to speak Spanish quite well. We have been in the line for some time and have seen a lot of fighting. Of course this has resulted in the escape of many of the prisoners, because of the treatment they are getting in prison. They all want to come to our prison. We smuggled United States uniforms into the prison and fifty of them have been able to get out so far. They are at once through our lines and have our protection. Three of them have been enlisted in this regiment and will stay, although they are watched carefully and allowed to do no guard or special duty. The Spanish officers are our prisoners."

Wolf Bounty Restored.

CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The commissioners of this (Burlington) county have passed a resolution restoring, after November 1, next, the bounty of $1.50 for each wolf killed within the limits of the county. It is probable that other counties which ceased offering wolf bounties will also restore them and hunters will this winter have opportunities to obtain a great deal of money from this source.

SPORTING NOTES.

Closing Events of Cycle Meet.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 16.—Today was perfect for the closing events of the two day bicycle meet, but only a small crowd attended. There were three professional events. Tom Cooper won the one mile open, flying start, but failed to qualify in the lap race after having equaled Monday's time in his trial. The multiple race caused more enthusiasm than any other event on the card. Results:

Final heat one mile open, professional, flying start: Tom Cooper won, J. S. Fisher second, J. S. Johnson third; H. E. Terrill fourth. Time: 1:38 3/4.

Final one lap, flying start, professional: J. S. Fisher won, J. S. Johnson second, Ben Norron third. Time: 0:23 1/2.

Multiple race, two miles: Bowler, McCarthy and Fisher (seated) won. Time: 1:04 1/2. Cooper and Jack Coburn, second. Dr. Cooper and Terrill third. Time: 3:33.

Record of a Southpaw.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 16.—At a benefit game tendered to the Louisville league players today Hans Wagner, the Colonel's first baseman, beat the long-distance throwing record made by John Hatfield in 1872 by one yard and one-half inch. Wagner threw the ball 137 yards and one-half inch. Precisely twenty-six years ago Hatfield, then a member of the Mutuals, made a world's record of 133 yards, one foot seven and one-half inches at the Union grounds, Brooklyn.
