There have been a good many days that were better adapted for exposition purposes than yesterday, but after the meteorological freaks that have been turned loose during the last two weeks it seemed decidedly encouraging. At any rate it was possible to spend the day on the grounds in comfort and that seems to be about all that is required to bring out the people.

The English papers are full of particulars of new news, but the only fresh development is the order received at Portsmouth to prepare all the ships of the fleet and the reserve for immediate mobilization.

FRENCH EFFORTS FOR PEACE

Yellow Book on the Part Played by the Central and the Late War Between Spain and United States.

PARIS, Oct. 25.—The French yellow book, dealing with the part France took in the Spanish-American war, is published today. It is a long and exhaustive work, consisting of a dry record of the exchange of dispatches with Madrid and Washington while arrangements were being made for the mediation of France. M. Cambon, the French ambassador at Washington, it is shown, called on Oct. 19, 1897, at the United States, to accept Spain's proposal that the peace negotiations be held at Paris, saying that President McKinley considered the United States government a mark of his good will and France a token of its confidence.

MORE PEACEFUL IN EUROPE

Opinion Gains Ground in London that There Will Be No War with France.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—Despite an impatient panic on the Stock exchange, from which it recovered before lunch, and the unexplained naval preparations at Portsmouth, the opinion strongly prevails tonight in the political clubs that there will be no war. The great obstacle to a pacific solution was the declaration of Salisbury that Fashoda could not be the subject of negotiations. That bar is now removed and an real danger of war lies in the Paris crisis.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—All interest today is centered in the marquis of Salisbury's addition to the Fashoda correspondence, contained in the publication of the British blue book on that subject. The conservative newspapers express themselves as being highly pleased with this rejoinder to the French yellow book on the same subject. They declare that it dispels the idea spread by the dispatch of the French ambassador there, Baron de Courcel, that the British premier was willing to negotiate on a whole question. But the liberal and radical organs still consider the marquis of Salisbury's attitude admits of negotiations promising a friendly arrangement.

The French papers today are more hopeful and believe that a pacific solution of the dispute will be found. The English papers are full of particulars of new news, but the only fresh development is the order received at Portsmouth to prepare all the ships of the fleet and the reserve for immediate mobilization.

WORST GALE OF YEAR IN CHICAGO

Dark Isabella Sands Driven Ashore and Crew Rescued.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—The worst gale of the year set in this evening and midnight still raged. Immense damage was done throughout the city by telephone and electric light wires and in some instances street cars were compelled to suspend operations after 9 o'clock in the evening. Many streets were blown out of their courses and the only accident on the lake so far reported is the wrecking of the lumber-laden bark Isabella Sands. The bark broke away from a tug at the mouth of the Chicago river and was carried into the outer harbor. The crew was taken off by the life saving crew and the bark left to its fate. It struck off Sixteenth street and will be pounded to pieces before morning.

VIOLENT SCENE IN CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES

Minister of War Resigns and Cabinet Walks Out in a Body—Fashoda Incident Takes a Black Seat.

(Copyright, 1898, by Press Publishing Co.) PARIS, Oct. 25.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—The scene in the Chamber today and Chanoin's resignation caused a tremendous sensation in Paris. Tonight the boulevards are alive with excitement while the streets are constantly patrolled by detachments of the Republican Guard and infantry. The city bears all outward appearance of being as it virtually is, in a state of siege. Crowds of people are moving restlessly about ready to join any disturbance that arises. The most significant feature is the appearance of a large number of fanatical viragos, apologetic successors to those who played such a terrible part in the Commune. They are unkempt, repellent, unsexed creatures, who are doing all in their power to incite their men companions to overt acts of violence. The cleavage between the military and civil authorities is so complete that Brisson does not feel certain the troops could be relied upon to quell any serious disturbance.

MURDER UNEARTHED IN IOWA

Lad Fifteen Years Old Makes a Startling Confession in the Case.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., Oct. 25.—(Special Telegram.)—The most diabolical murder in the history of Marshall county has just been revealed by the confession of James Ogg, a lad 15 years old. A few days ago Charles Russell, an aged and wealthy farmer who resided near Liscomb, in the southern part of the county, died from the effects of drinking half a bottle of beer which contained poison. Young Ogg, who was in the employ of Russell, stated he had found the beer in the highway near the residence of a neighbor, at whose house the divorced wife of Russell was residing; that he had taken it home and Russell had drunk it. During the last few years Russell had been badly treated by his wife and family, and suspicion at once pointed to the wife as the murderer. This suspicion was intensified by the statement of Will Adams, who said Russell's dying accusation had been that his wife poisoned him. Adams is a nephew of Mrs. Russell and has always taken the old man's part in the family difficulties. Russell had made a will in which he left all his valuable farm property to Adams.
