

BRINGING THE LAST CROWDS

Railroads Are Hauling In Many Related Exposition Visitors.

IOWA PEOPLE MOSTLY IN EVIDENCE

Low Rates on the Omaha Terminal Lines Induce the Population to Come Almost in a Body to See the Fair.

Travel into Omaha yesterday was so heavy as to remind one of President's day, just two weeks ago, when many people came into Omaha than on any previous day of its existence.

The rates on the Omaha terminal lines granted to Omaha for the occasion were low enough to move the pyramids, and the people of this state and their neighbors across the river took very numerous advantage of the opportunity to see the exposition at slight expense.

On account of the severe storm in Iowa on Tuesday night and because of the heavy travel all of the trains from the east were late. The Milwaukee was the first, a few minutes late, and its regular train was followed by three additional sections.

The Rock Island had eight trains in all to come into the Union depot shed this morning. Four sections of No. 13 arrived between 8 and 11, and they carried in all thirty-five well filled cars.

Traveling Passenger Agent Cundey of the Denver & Rio Grande is in the city. He is in charge of the general agent of the Milwaukee road at San Francisco, and Mrs. Canfield left for the Pacific coast yesterday after a pleasant visit of several days at the exposition.

MAYOR'S POWER TO PARDON

Attack on an Executive Privilege Made in District Court.

JUDGE SLABAUGH HEARS THE QUESTION

Matter Turns on the Point of Difference Between State Cases and Offenses Purely Against Ordinances Made by the City.

The question of the right of Mayor Moore to pardon prisoners who have been sent, after conviction of misdemeanors, to the county jail on state misdemeanors was presented to Judge Slabaugh of the district court yesterday morning. A decision was reserved.

The city maintains that under a state statute which gives the mayor and city council the right to pass an ordinance vesting the pardoning power for misdemeanors in themselves, the mayor has the right, under the city charter, to pardon people convicted of such misdemeanors. In opposition to this, however, the argument is advanced that if it was intended that the mayor and city council had the right to pardon prisoners convicted of state offenses the statute would specifically so provide.

If Judge Slabaugh should decide that the pardoning power does not extend over the latter cases, the pardoning power of the mayor would be materially curtailed. For example, thievery, vagrancy and drunkenness are all violations of the state law and are prosecuted under the statutes. Therefore people convicted in such a manner could not be pardoned by the mayor, as has been done in the past in cases where the mayor has found cause for leniency.

Repairing Wooden Walks. At its last meeting the city authorized the Board of Public Works to employ a couple of extra gangs of men to repair the wooden sidewalks of the city, but it is questionable whether this addition to the city payroll will be made, because it is not deemed necessary by the members of the board.

Chairman Rosewater says that the board has already had several gangs of workmen engaged in this manner and they were making the necessary repairs as fast as possible. He said: "It is not the intention to do any such work down in the more central portion of the city on graded streets, for it is the policy of the city to have permanent sidewalks laid on such. As a consequence, where wooden walks are in bad condition on such streets they will be torn up and the property owners will be ordered to lay permanent walks."

A Minister Happily Surprised. Rev. J. T. Bays, pastor of the Christian church in Omaha, Kan., has a little boy who was afflicted with rheumatism in the knee. Rev. Bays says: "It was so bad at times that my son was unable to put his foot to the floor and he was in such a condition that we could not do anything for him. We were all very much distressed, but when we were told that we should get a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, we did so and the first bottle gave so much relief that we got a second one, and, to our surprise, it cured him sound and well."

FEDERAL BUILDING NOTES. The postoffice will be closed Monday from 12 o'clock for the rest of the day.

Collector Houtz announces that certificates of nomination of state, county or municipal officers, and all other papers relating to the enforcement of the election laws of a state, county or city, are exempt from taxation under the internal revenue laws.

Another Exposition Injunction. Justice Scott has issued a temporary injunction restraining the Trans-Mississippi Exposition company from interfering with Fred T. Cummins in running a couple of concessions on the grounds, one consisting of roller chairs and portable seats and the other consisting of four stands for selling sandwiches and other refreshments.

Employees Attack Pictures. William Mittelstadt, until recently proprietor of the Elkhorn Variety theater, near the Exposition grounds, has been the scene of a riot of water, bartenders and theatrical performers are mourning for their salaries. Mittelstadt is supposed to be touring Kansas in a small party of his employees and the fixtures for the benefit of the water and bartenders yesterday.
