OUTLOOK FOR FUTURE IS ENCOURAGING

No Great Slump Anticipated with the Closing of the Exposition-Jobbers Expect to Hold New Trade Acquired.

Heavy bank clearings last week were the visible reflection of an active week's business in every department of trade. Retailers did an onormous business, and at the close of the week proprietors and clerks were worn out by the constant strain of early and late work. Jobbers were no less busy, and it would hardly be possible to point to any line or department of bus .ness that was not in very good condition for this season of the year. Handlers of cold weather goods of all descriptions have been almost swamped with work, and the end of the week came as a welcome relief to the hopeless task of trying to satisfy the demands of a multitude of customers all in the same minute.

As a matter of course, a heavy falling off is anticipated in all retail departments as soon as the exposition gates are closed and the crowds of visitors are no longer in the city. At the same time it is undoubt-edly true that the bulk of the winter trade is yet to come, so that there ought to be a very fair business from now on until the commencement of the holiday trade, which is expected to be both large and lively this season.

membenement of the holiday trade, which sexpected to be both large and lively this second.

There was even a better demand for wholesale groweries but the thin the week before, and much better than for the corresponding week of last year. Joubers say there has been a stendy improvement in trace all this fall, and its present provered the corresponding week of last year. Joubers say there has been a stendy improvement in trace all this fall, and its present provered the corresponding week of last year. The advance in rolled coats is reported as being 100 per barrel. Aside from these few fluctuations, the market is proventially the same as week ago.

Sood, active trade, Country merchants continue to call on local dealers in large numbers, and as a general thing report retail trade in the country of the market is firm and active in all lines and the fall they have no complaint to make and are not at all backward about to buildings and the fall they have no complaint to make and are not at all backward about to buildings mut rial in a provential trade in the fall of the proventi pleased with prevailing conditions.

Boot and shoe jobbers had nothing very new to report regarding last week's trade except that it was very good considering the time of year. Orders keep coming in every day showing that retailers are having a nice business and are auticipating. ing a nice business and are anticipating their trade, as most of them appear in no particular hurry to receive the goods. The tendency on the part of jobbers last week was to put aside the leather orders temporarily so that they could give all their attention to the rubber rade. There has never been such an urgent demand for rubber goods as at the present time. Many dealers say they are working nights as well as days to supply the wants of their customers and then can scarcely keep up to date. The great difficulty is they are handleapped still by a shortage of supplies and consequently it is impossible to fill all orders as promptly as jobbers would like rders as promptly as jobbers would like to do.

The lumber situation shows but little change. All dealers report some trade, but say it is not as good as it should be at this time of year. The coming on of stormy weather stimulated retail trade in stormy weather stimulated retail trade in the country to some extent, but that had but little effect on the jobbers, as country merchants as a rule have plenty of stock to carry them through several weeks of brisk trading. They will, of course, run short in some lines and jobbers will come in for orders of that kind, but it is never-In for orders of that kind, but it is nevertheless true that the fall trade is practically over with. There is nothing to do now but wait until the spring trade opens up and jobbers are already speculating on the probable outcome of that. They all feel trade will be good, but if they hold onto them or are forced to sell at low prices they will continue to conomize and put off building for another year.

EXPOSITION BRINGS GREAT GOOD. Omaha Has Not Reen Boomed During

W. H. Roberson, manager of R. G. Dun & Co., speaking of the trade situation here, has the following encouraging words for Omaha readers:

Not less than $10,000,000 of money has been listributed in this course. Not less than $10,000,000 of money has been listributed in this city as the direct result of the exposition. Bank clearings have even almost doubled and the percentage i increase in jobbing and retail trades as against 1897 will reach, approximately, 70 er cent. On September 30, 1892, the reports of the

On September 30, 1892, the reports of the national banks to the comptroller showed the following figures: Loans and discounts, 12,396,854, cash, $10,094,858; deposits, $19,905,-194. Everybody knows that September 30, 192, was the top of the wave of prosperity of that period. The panic came on in 1883 and for four years it continued, growing worse and worse as the years rolled by. Let those who think that Omana was crushed in that cataclysm note the following figures from the reports of the national banks to the comptroller of the currency for September 29, 1898; Loans and discounts, 12,869,384; cash, 39,884,649; deposits, 422,627,500.

The total bank clearings for the year anding September 20, 182, in Omaha were $271, 268,827. The total bank clearings for the year ending September 20, 182, in Omaha were $271, 268,827. The total bank clearings for the year ending September 30, 1828, were $296, 913,331, an increase over the highest year of record of $25,274,394.

The jobbing trade of the city has never been in so flourishing a condition, 'we new jobbing bouses have entered the field and I confidently believe that the capitalists and business men who have visited imaha this summer and witnessed here the Transmississippi Exposition, with all its incidents, will not permit this excellent distributing center to pass through another twelve months without several additional and important telebrates.

LIGHT SPECULATION IN PROVISIONS

Reported Sale of Two Million Five Hundred Thousand Pounds of Ribs Friday on October Contracts.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29 .- An improved export demand today and stormy weather through-out the northwest caused a recovery from an early decline in wheat prices. Decem-ber closed unchanged to 1-se lower compared with yesterday's final figures. Corn left off a shade higher. Outs advanced by Pork gained 5c, lard 25c and ribs were un changed.

Wheat got a weak start from an apparen disposition at Liverpool to chime in with the bearish sentiment prevailing here. The firmness of English government securities also contributed by their strength to the desire to sell wheat here at the opening. Prices continued to drop throughout the forenoon despite considerable buying against puts that the opening decline

Prices continued to drop throughout the forenoon despite considerable buying against puts that the opening decline brought into play. Northwest receipts were liberal, L411 cars, but a snow storm was reported to be prevailing in the Dakotas, which created apprehension of bad roads and a consequent failing off in receipts in that region next week. Some buying of short wheat was done because of that possibility.

The seaboard reported a fair demand for export and New York advised sales of thirty-five boatlonds, of which one cargo was for Russia. The week's shipments of wheat and flour from both coasts were equal to 7,550,100 but, compared with 5,811,000 but the similar week of last year. The day's clearances from Atlantic ports were equal in wheat and flour to $13,000 but. Near the end a large line of cash wheat was disposed of here for export to the United kingdom right at the market price. When that became known the sentiment among traders quickly changed. In the endeavor to cover that followed the price forged ahead and the early loss was all recovered. December opened $4c lower at $5.7-$366c, advanced to $6.1-$6, declined to $5.5-$c, ralled to $6.1-$c, and closed at $6.1-$c, buyers.

Fine weather and lower cables weakened corn at the start. Moderate scilling was brought about through these features and in the face of a very limited demand the offerings easily depressed prices. Later, however, the market became strong on a good cash business and reports from the country that the weather was threatening a return of conditions unfavorable to the curing of corn. Near the close the buying became more pronounced and prices wound up at a slight advance. Receipts were 257 cars. December began $4c down at $250, $2.1-$c, declined to $1.7-$c, recovered to $2.1-$c, the intures of the price of the pric

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 — With the exception of last Monday the average of prices on the Stock exchange have shown a net advance for each day since Wednesday, October 19. There was a general expectation, therefore, that there would be the selling to take profits today which is customary amongst professional traders at the end of the week.

therefore, that there would be the selling to take profits today which is customary amongst professional traders at the end of the week.

The buoyant tone of some of the special-ties held the market firm in the first hour of the short aesston. Consolidated Gas and Third Avenue jumped 8 points, the former on talk of termination of the local gas war. Tobacco continued its aggressive advance on the strength of the developments showing the accretion of plug tobacco companies. The stock was very active and large blocks were absorted to make way for the upward course of the stock. The prosess of bidding up the price of the Federal Steel securities also continued. Advances in these and in Metropolitan Street Railway. New Jersey Central, Minnesuta iron and International Paper preferred were between I and 2 points.

Meantime the railway list was very dull and showed only slight changes, although nearly all the changes were gains. The publication of the Burlington statement for September resulted in immediate activity in the Grangers at the expense of values, Losses reached about a point in the other members of the group and 16 in Burlington itself. There was a general reaction in the railroad list in sympathy with this, but the railroad list in sympathy with this, but the railroad list in sympathy which this, but the railroad stocks generally were not active and losses were confined to fractions. Burlington's decrease of $181,889 in gross earnings compared with September of last year was a distinct disappointment, the more so as St. Paul's weekly statement had shown an increase of about the same amount for the same period. The delayed movement of wheat in Burlington's territory and the large proportion of its business that is given to corn were advanced to explain the poor showing. Prices continued heavy in the railroads to the close, but net declines were restricted to fractions outside the grangers and specialities.

The bank statement was without influence on stocks though the growing strength of the clearing house l market from the same cause falled to appeal to the bears, although stocks had advanced last week in the face of acute depression abroad on account of the strength in the wheat market. On Tuesday, however, with the temporary dissipation of the war cloud, the bears hastly covered and the upward movement of stocks was re-warrants two obvious conclusions—that convulsive agitation of the European money markets is powerless to cause a ripple here in the present condition of the international exchanges and that confidence is felt that in any event Europe will need our surplus grain crops. As a consequence the market has remained quite oblivious since Monday to the various fluctuations of prices and is sentiment on foreign exchanges and has broadened out so as to embrace a greatly increased list of stocks.

The foreign exchanges market alone has been affected by the foreign situation and in this the growing dependence of foreign financial markets upon the resources of the country's markets was strikingly illustrated. With the sudden drop in British and French government securities on Monday and early on Tuesday and the upward surge of discount rates in London and at all continental centers, the actual charge for demand sterling jumped up 142c on the pound. Totals 799 5,217 1,632 CATILE-There were only a few loads of cattle reported in the yards today, and sthiless that were of any account. There was not enough of anything to make a market, and the day's grade in cattle could be summed up in a very few words, it was a nominally steady market, without feature of any importance.

summed up in a very few words, it was a nominally steady market, without feature of any importance.

This has been a week of very light receipts ats point, as will be not a from the figures given at the head of the column. The total for the week foots up the smallest of any week since the early part of September. At the same time that the receipts have been small there has been a lack of quality, there being a general dearth of really choice cattle of any kind.

This is the cleaning up season, the time when the range men are making final shipments of the odds and ends left over from previous shipments, and when all through the eastern and middle states the small farmers are disposing of their surplus stock which they do not propose to feed through the winter. As regular as the season rolls around the market is sure to break under the influence of this cleaning-up process, which fills eastern consuming centers full of meat and brings on a temporary giut. Accordingly, the demand for fat cattle, especially cornfed cattle, was light all the week at every large market in the country, buyers giving as an excuse for not taking hold more freely that the coolers were full of meat and that it was not going into consumption very rapidly. The break started at Chicago, and has reached to all the markets, so that at the close of the week fat cattle are generally 25c lower, and in extreme cases 30540c lower than last week. Such cattle as were selling at $4.90.

and about forty-eight reported back, which was a light run even for a Saturday. One week ago there were 199 loads, two weeks ago eighty-six and three weeks ago 101. Early reports from other markets showed values to be fully steady.

At this point trade opened up fairly active, with a few loads seiling at from 24c to 5c higher; choice light hogs as high as $3.62%, and choice heavy hogs touched $3.6c. The bulk, however, of the arrly sales of the heavier weights sold at $3.52% 20.55. After the first spurt there was not as much activity on the mark t, sellers holding for

of the heavier weights soid at $3.53943.50.
After the first spurt there was not as much activity on the mark t, sellers helding for the advance and buyers generally unwililing to go above yesterday's prices. As a result the market was a trifle duil on the close with the advance of the morning fully lost.

A glance at the figures at head of column will show that the total receipts for the week were the smallest of the month. In addition this was the low week of the month. The week opened with values about steady with the break at the close of the previous week. On Tuesday the market was a little stronger, that proving to be the high day of the week, but on Wednesday all the advance, and more, too, was lost.
Thursday's market was still lower, the hogs selling on that day at the lowest point
