The production of the sugar beet in this state is as yet but in its infancy, and Nebraska is capable of producing more than enough sugar to supply our whole county and the production of the beets with a fair market would be a source of great wealth to our farmers. There are now two beet sugar factories in the state-one at Grand Island, in the Platte valley, and the other at Norfolk-both being operated most successfully.

Schlitz's Pavilion has been ever since the opening of the exposition the family resort, where all nations have made their headquarters. The enterprising proprietor, Mr. Fritz Mueller, who is well known in Omaha as a business man, as well as an extensive property owner, has made a great success of his pavilion and his stock yards exchange. He intends to represent Schlitz at Paris, France, and has made all necessary preparations. The present orchestra, under the leadership of A. E. Blaufuss, has been playing at the Pavilion from the opening day of the exposition until the close, and has been considered the best on the Midway. They have entertained thousands of people with their high class selections and overtures. There has only been one Schlitz on the Midway, and the place will be remembered by every one that visited the same after the exposition is a thing of the past.
