Popocratic Thunder Beats on the Party Which Produces It.

OBLIQUE VISION LEADS INTO ERROR

Editor of Popocratic Paper Comments on a Market Review and Falls to Observe that the Thing Was Loaded.

OMAHA, Nov. 1.—To the Editor of The Bee: I am just in receipt of a number of letters...

The World-Herald gives me a column under the head, "How John W. Barry Talks to the Farmer and What He Says to Lumbermen."

The worst feature of existing conditions, as affecting the lumber trade, is the prices which farm products are selling this fall.

Not an Inconsistent Position. Now no amount of torturing can make one word of that article inconsistent with any political position...

As to the actual "McKinley prosperity" among the farmers, the quotation from the Northwestern Lumberman having no such good populist feeling is the best evidence.

What I most seriously object to is the illy concealed suggestion that a wider experience in business affairs had induced me to change my beliefs on the silver question.

It is even suggested that I never believed what I preached and I am given credit with committing the census to memory, merely to argue with some one.

Public Popularity has set its seal of approval on J. J. Condonerry's Juba Water.

It possesses all the attributes of purity, flavor, and sparkle that go to make a perfect table water.

Gust of Wind Injures Mrs. Salisbury and She Wants to Collect Large Damages.

Mrs. Hannah M. Salisbury has brought suit in the United States court against the exposition company for $25,000 damages for injuries to her property.

What I most seriously object to is the illy concealed suggestion that a wider experience in business affairs had induced me to change my beliefs on the silver question.

It is even suggested that I never believed what I preached and I am given credit with committing the census to memory, merely to argue with some one.

Ranges in particular this time—Some ranges are elegant lookers—more nicker than steel about the J—not so with the Jewel Steel Range—except ornamentation to look well—a range made of steel—cold rolled steel of the right weight and thickness—no sheet iron used—no warp and get out of shape—while the oven is perfection—made in four sections—with flange edges riveted together—so that it can't warp—thus insuring you a perfect baker—always—you can burn hard or soft coal or wood in the Jewel Steel Ranges.

HIS UNWELCOME LEGACY.

In the good old days when torture was employed to loosen the tongues of stubborn witnesses, water was sometimes allowed to fall, drop by drop, upon the victim's forehead.

"I inherited gout from my father," says G. Archibald Armstrong, of 407 Geary Street, Philadelphia, "but my doctor was always able to keep the disease within bounds until five years ago when, after a fight with a gripper, I had what the physician called muscular rheumatism.

"The swelling began to subside within forty-eight hours, but the third bottle of Safe Cure was consumed before I felt myself on the way to recovery. I realized at last that I had a certain remedy against my old enemy, gout, and that the Safe Cure was cleaning my system of every trace of uric acid."

"This was five years ago. Since that time I have been exposed to all sorts of weather, but I keep well, and have almost forgotten that such a thing as gout or rheumatism ever ailed me."

It is the business of the kidneys to take from the blood a substance called urate of soda, which forms tiny, sharp-edged crystals, made as granules and poisonous as a rattlesnake's bite, although slow in action. When the kidneys are diseased, the blood deposits these death-laden crystals where circulation is slowest—in the toes, the joints and the ears. The sharp edges cut into the flesh. That is what makes the maddening pain of rheumatism and gout. Mr. Armstrong's friend was right. The kidneys were at fault, and when Warner's Safe Cure had strengthened them the unwelcome legacy of gout was driven away.

What a pity it is that men should suffer, when relief is almost as close to them as their shoelaces!
