Carried Control of the Control of th SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.

LANGUAGE BOOK OF THE PARTY OF T In his monthly report for Octobe Carroll of the police department recommends that a number of police telephone stations be established in different parts of the city so that communication can be held with officers on their beats. Further than this the chief says that such a system would insure vigilance on the part of the patrolmen, as he would insist upon each officer calling up police headquarters at stated intervals. A large amount of territory has to be covered by a few men and a great saving in time could be made by placing such a system in service. Besides this, fire alarms could be sent in from these patrol boxes at any time of the day or night While the present telephone system ex tends to all parts of the city, officers do not like to wake residents up at night to use a telephone, and as most of the business places close early there is nothing for a policeman to do but walk to headquarters when he has anything important to report. Now when the chief desires to communi cate with an officer on his beat he has to drive around in his buggy until he finds him and this takes a great deal of time. The chief recommends that these boxes be placed in the following localities: Twenty-fourth and D streets, Twenty-fourth and N streets, Twentieth and S streets, Twenty-eighth and Q streets, Thirty-second and L streets and if possible one near the Rock Island depot.

When the matter was brought to his at tention yesterday Manager Hoffand of the Nebraska Telephone company said that the service contemplated would cost but little. If the city furnished the patrol boxes the telephones would be installed and maintained for a cost of about $3 per month each. This would be at the regular party line business rate. As no more than four telephones will be placed on a single circuit, it would take two circuits to handle the business properly, as Chief Carroll has | recommended that six patrol box stations be established. For a two-party circuit the rate would be $3.50 per month, for a threeparty circuit $3.25 per month and for a four-party circuit $3 per month for each

The idea is considered a good one and a number of city officials appear to be in favor not amount to anything as compared with the convenience of such a system.

Residents of Brown park are delighted at the prospect of obtaining fire protection. The question of erecting a fire hall in the Second ward was brought up by Henry rep., 2901 Arbor; A. In speaking about this action yesterday the mayor said that if the property was all right and sufficient funds were at hand to complete the purchase he would offer no objection. If the lot is bought the next thing will be the erection of a suitable fire hall and the purchase of the equipment needed. Just where the money to pay for all this is to come from is not evident, but no doubt some arrangements can be made. One resident of the ward suggested that as some of the breweries owned costly buildings in the neighborhood of the site of the proposed fire hall it might not be unreasonable to suppose that the breweries will purchase a team and present it to the city, the same as the packers did when the fire hall in the Third ward was established. If this is done the city can probably see its way to complete the im-

Populist Asks Some Questions of the Multiple Platform Candidate.

ISSUES INVOLVED IN THIS CAMPAIGN Intelligent Voter Tells Why Dave Mercer Should Be Elected and

of Decent Men's Support.

OMAHA, Nov. 3 .- G. M. Hitchcock, Esq., Omaha: My Dear Sir-I am in receipt of one of your illustrated requests for my support of your ambition to be congressman from this district, in which you claim my support as a populist because you have received the fusion nomination for that of-

I have a high regard for you personally, Mr. Hitchcock, and have been a reader of your newspaper for many years. I cannot, however, give you my support at this time, as against Mr. Mercer, for reasons which I believe, after election, you will agree are on pension legislation? Are you still of the entirely good.

I was a populist until a year ago. I was populist because I believed what yourself and a great many other public men announced as the truth. I believed firmly, two and telephone? Are you in favor of proyears ago, that if William McKinley were elected president of the United States that commercial ruin would come upon this country. I find that you and the other orators were either mistaken or purposely attempted to mislead the people. Instead of senate when Nebraska republicans favored self. I cannot, therefore, accept your predictions at this time and I am unwilling in view of this experience to believe that what you predict will occur in case a republican conwith the democratic party many times in uine and sincere platform. In every campaign within my recollection the democratic party has attempted to win votes by bringing up false issues and misrepresenting its position. When you say that the McCleary bill is a republican measure. I know that the statement is false, because no republican state or district convention had declared itself in favor of this bill or any other currency bill pending before congress. You are simply resorting to the tactics of that party, and I am not frightened by your hysterical double column comments upon that measure. In your personal platform you ask my support because you have announced that you are in favor of the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, and yet it is not many years since I read editorials from your pen denouncing this idea as the "free silver fallacy," and later, I remember when you came out with a double leaded editorial, suggesting as a compromise that silver be coined at the ratio of 24 to 1. You can hardly expect me to believe that a man whose money ideas are so vacillating is a safe representative of this district in con-

You say that you are in favor of the "de feat of the bills now pending in congress providing for the issuance of more interest-bearing bonds." Frankly, Mr. Hitchcock, do you suppose that the people of this country are so wanting in intelligence as to be mislead by you in this sentence? If such bills are pending, why did not the three parties which nominated you for congress declare themselves upon the question? Shy on Consistency.

What bills are now pending in congress providing for the retirement of greenbacks, treasury notes and silver certificates, in place of which it is proposed to issue either bonds or national bank notes, and if there are any such bills pending what responsibility has the republican party for such pending bills? You are now extremely solicitous for the smaller banks, and yet, remembering your vicious attacks upon banks and bankers during the last two years, I have no more faith

n your consistency upon the bank and paper

currency question than in your consistency upon the coin question. There are five paragraphs of your platform which, in my opinion, are traitorous and unworthy of any American citizen. If I had no other reason for refusing to support you for congress, these five paragraphs would be sufficient. You know that in each of these paragraphs you seek by contemptible innuendo and exaggeration to dim the glory of the page of history which has been made during the administration of William McKinley. I cannot characterize this conduct without resorting to invective, and as this letter is intended to be a friendly one. will pass that subject over by simply saying that any man or any party seeking political advantage or promotion by means of malicious attacks upon the government at depot and many other things.
