

LOVE LEADS IN SOCIETY

Local Circle Takes the Form of Wedding or Engagement Rings.

AFFAIRS THAT ARE REALLY BRILLIANT

Swell Weddings and Smart Receptions with Numerous Small Events Make Up a Week of Unusual Gaiety and Pleasure.

"Love is king." Weddings and engagements have formed the most conspicuous part of the social calendar during the last fortnight and as many more are expected through the coming two weeks.

With regard to fortunes it may be remarked that a half dozen fair debutantes are busy getting ready for their coming-out parties, all of which promise to be swell affairs.

The accession of a number of fair young women to society's throne at the commencement of the present season comes very opportunely for a number of the young women who have hitherto graced many social functions here will be missed this year.

One of the most interesting as well as elegant receptions of the week was given by Mrs. Christian Hartman at her residence, 3411 Farnam street, on Thursday afternoon.

The house had been handsomely decorated. The color scheme for the foyer was yellow.

The drawing room on the left had been metamorphosed into a green bower, with roses clustered everywhere.

On Friday afternoon a neighborhood card party was given by Mrs. L. H. Korty.

On Friday afternoon Mrs. M. C. Peters entertained at her home, 2210 Capitol avenue, last evening.

Elizabeth Peck and Clara Palmer of this city followed. They were beautiful gowns of pink tulle over taffeta silk with flaring skirts trimmed with tiny ruffles and shirred panels and chic bodices with long shirred sleeves, decollete, and carried bunches of carnations. The gowns ranged in shades from a light pink to a deep rose. The maid of honor, Miss Laura Morse, entered alone, gowned in blue silk, veiled in blue, fishnet with spangled yoke. The groom accompanied by Mr. Edgar Morsman of Omaha awaited the bride at the altar.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, Twentieth and Davenport streets. Mr. and Mrs. George H. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. William V. Morse and Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Palmer received the guests in the sun-parlor. Tall standards were massed with long-stemmed carnations, white palms and sunflowers used to further beautify the rooms. Mrs. Charles Shiverick and Mrs. Henry Yates presided over the dining room, where refreshments were served during the evening.
