Since the general convention held in Washington last month there has been much talk against Dr. Green and his persistency in keeping himself before the diocese of Iowa as a candidate when he mus know the feeling there is against him. It is said that every larger parish in Iowa except Cedar Rapids, his home, is against Dr. Green for bishop.

Dr. Green was the leader of a faction against the late Bishop Perry and on this account the church has been divided. In his letter to the churches of the state, putting forth Rev. Morrison for the office of bishop of Iowa, Dr. Lynch publishes letters from a number of prominent clergymen ndorsing him for the position, among them being a strong one from Rt. Rev. William E. Moltren, bishop of Chicago. The candidacy of Rev. Morrison has proven to be a strong one and his election over Rev. Mr Green is practically certain, should no other candidates appear.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., Nov. 17 .- (Spetal.)-Bowed down with his four score of years, L. H. Sutherland, for many years a resident of Boone, Ia., arrived in this city today from Anamosa, having been pardoned from the penitentiary and brought here to spend what few days remain to him, in the Soldiers' Home hospital. Sutherland had always lived a quiet and inoffensive life and his imprisonment did not occur until a year ago. At that time, while a resident of Boone, he discovered a man attempting to enter his house at night. Procuring a gun he shot him and was afterwards convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to serve two years in the prison at Anamosa. Several months ago he was attacked with disease and later, sustaining severe fall, his condition became critical Because of his age and the circumstances surrounding his alleged crime the prison officials interceded with Governor Shaw in his behalf and after an investigation he was granted a full pardon. When his pardon was handed him, Sutherland was so overcome that he was confined to his bed for several days. Chaplain E. G. Byers of Anamosa prison accompanied him here.

for an Old Crime. SAID TO HAVE KILLED MARY GILLFILLAN

Located After Two Years' Search at Nebraska Town Living Under the Allas of Groatt.

OTTUMWA, Ia., Nov. 17 .--- (Special Telegram.)-Joe Wolverton, who on the night of December 26, two years ago, is said to have murdered Mrs. Mary Gillfillan in cold bleod, is now safely behind the bars of the Clark county jall. He will be tried for the murder at the December term of the court.

Mrs. Gillfillun left her husband at Bradford, Ill., and came to Osceola, Ia., in October, 1896. She was a pretty woman and soon had scores of admirers. Among these was Joe Wolverton, a young farmer living near there. He went with her for several months. On the night of December 26, 1896, she had an engagement with him and they went walking toward the Chicago. Burlington & Quincy pump house. An hour later Wolverton was seen coming from the direction of the pump house alone.

The next evening the dead body of Mary Gillfillan was found in the pump house with a bullet hole in her temple. Her jewelry was not disturbed, showing that robbery was not the object of the murder, and there was nothing to indicate suicide. Wolverton was indicted, but had left for parts unknown. A reward of $500 was offered for his capture and a number of detectives were employed on the case, but never located him.

A week ago, through the postmaster of three weeks and will be the fourth this Cambridge, Story county, Ia., Sheriff Lukinbill located Lewis Wolverton, a brother of three weeks ago is nearly completed and it Joe's, on a farm near there under the nem is expected to have it out of Dubuque of Morgan.
