

NEBRASKANS GIVE THANKS

Citizens of the Antelope State Celebrate the Annual Feast Day.

ASSEMBLE TO WORSHIP THEIR MAKER

Quiet Day at Lincoln with Stores Closed and Few on the Streets - Turkey King for a Day.

LINCOLN, Nov. 24. (Special.)

Thanksgiving day has been very quiet in the Capital City. The stores were closed until evening and very few people were about the streets. The excellent sleighing tempted many to get out their cutters. A number of those inclined toward sporting went out in the country after quail and rabbits and several quail bags of game were brought in this morning. There are twenty-five family almost lost their lives early this morning by a gas which escaped from a base burner. It was with difficulty they were aroused from the effects of the gas. The little son Ralph was in a critical condition for some time.

The body of Milton Frey was brought here from Council Bluffs last evening and the funeral will occur at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the residence of H. H. Frey, 2225 Randolph street.

Dr. H. O. Rowland of the First Baptist church slipped and fell yesterday evening sustaining painful injuries which, although not serious, prevented him from delivering a sermon prepared for today and will keep him indoors for some time.

Frank H. assistant city clerk presented at Chicago for the Rock Island road, has been appointed city ticket and passenger agent for the road in this city to succeed Frank L. Miller, who goes on the road as traveling passenger agent.

At Other Points. FREMONT, Neb., Nov. 24. (Special.)—The banks, county offices and the post-office were closed today. The business houses also closed their doors at noon to give all their employes an opportunity to eat their Thanksgiving dinner. Union religious services were held at the Baptist church, music being furnished by a large chorus choir. The sermon was delivered by the Rev. W. P. Murray of the Methodist church. The Manufacturers' hose company gave its annual ball at Masonic hall last evening. The attendance was large and the occasion a pleasant one. This evening the Fremont Tribune gave its annual dinner to its employes and their families. About fifty were present.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Nov. 24. (Special.)—Union Thanksgiving services were held this morning at the First Methodist church, where the Rev. Sponsor, pastor of the Lutheran Evangelical church, delivered an appropriate address. Citizens generally closed their places of business at noon and spent the remainder of the day at home with their families.

ASHLAND, Neb., Nov. 24. (Special Telegram.)—Thanksgiving day was appropriately observed in Ashland today with union services at the Methodist Episcopal church at 11 o'clock this morning. The services were presided over by the pastor, Rev. William M. Worley. The sermon for the occasion was preached by Rev. Thomas W. Conway, pastor of the Congregational church. After the close of the sermon Elder C. P. Hackney presented for a few minutes the claims of the city missionary work, for which the kindly offices of Elder Hackney, assisted by the pastor of the city and public schools, the poor children of the city enjoyed warm Thanksgiving dinners.

Northwest Nebraska Teachers. CHADRON, Neb., Nov. 24. (Special.)—The teachers of northwest Nebraska gathered in Chadron today to attend the annual session of the Northwest Nebraska Educational association. The session will occupy one day and a program of excellent qualities has been prepared. At the morning session the general topic will be "The Teaching of English." The following is the program: "Literature in the Primary Grades," Miss M. A. Late, Chadron; discussion, Miss Bertie Brownlee, Rushville, and Miss Emma Smith, Alliance; "Educational Value of Fiction," A. F. Baldrige, Alliance; discussion, Frank Anderson, Harrison, and Mrs. M. kicked to Chicago's thirty-eight yard line. Hirschberger, Webb and Kennedy were sent into the line for good gains, but Michigan held for downs when the ball had reached the center. Line bucking advanced it to Chicago's forty-yard line. Caley kicked to the twenty-yard line. Chicago worked the double pass successfully, Henry going twenty-five yards in the direction. Hirschberger kicked to Michigan's fifteen-yard line.

Then came the star play of the game. The ball was given to Widman on a delayed pass. Chicago's ends and backs were drawn in, and with big Kennedy and Hamill but four or five yards behind him, the little fellow reached a deer dead in the field. He reached the five-yard line before Slaker tackled him from behind, but he fell forward and slid over the line for the winning touchdown. Caley kicked goal.

Hirschberger kicked over the line. The ball was brought back all right, but Chicago's twenty-yard line. Hirschberger returning it fifteen yards. Line bucking advanced the oval to the thirty-five-yard line and it was Michigan's ball for holding. Caley kicked to Chicago's twenty-five-yard line. Bennett made a beautiful tackle and prevented any return. Hirschberger kicked to Michigan's twenty-five-yard line, McLean, with Street's interference, returning it to the fifty-yard line.

A quarterback kick gave Chicago the ball on the forty-five-yard line. Two double passes gained twelve yards, but the third time it failed. Henry made four yards through left guard. Hirschberger kicked to Michigan's five yard line. McLean returning the ball to the thirty-five-yard line. Caley kicked to Chicago's fifty-yard line. Hirschberger slipped up the left side of the field, returning it to Michigan's thirty-nine-yard line.

The Maroons then got down to hard foot ball. The line men worked like trojans and the heavy Chicago backs were crushed back and again for big gains. The ball was finally advanced to Michigan's nine-yard line, when Hirschberger, head down and pulled along by big Burnett, plunged through left guard and tackle for a touchdown. The goal was kicked easily. Chicago, 11; Michigan, 12.

An exchange of punts and Michigan's ball on his fifty-yard line. Caley made three yards through center. Time called, with the ball on Chicago's fifty-yard line.

Berrier punctured the left side of the Nebraska line for five and four yards respectively. Two attempts on the right failed to gain more than a couple of yards. On the next pass Iowa lost the ball on a fumble on its own forty-yard station, but almost immediately regained it on downs, three attempts by the Nebraska halves to gain the distance failing. Morton dove into the line for a yard and in the mistup Kingsbury's ankle was hurt and he was forced to retire in favor of Reasoner. A "backlash" advanced the pigskin five yards and an eight-yard sprint of Morton around Nebraska's right end brought the ball to the center of the field. Schroeder and Pence circled the ends for a total of four yards. Through the interior of the line Nebraska's back' Eby scrambled through Nebraska's left side for twelve yards, Benedict pulling him down finally by a pretty tackle. Morton and Eby failed to gain and Hobbs kicked forty-five yards, the ball rolling behind the goal line for a touchdown. Erwin kicked to the center of the field, where Melford captured the ball.

Nebraska's Plunges. Nebraska now began a series of plunges that seemed almost certain to result in a touchdown. The first two attempts did not gain, but on the third Benedict skimmed around Schroeder for ten yards, being brought to earth by Erwin. Erwin carried the pigskin through the Iowa center for six and four yards. Williams found an opening through Eby and Pence for nine yards. Erwin followed with three yards twice and Benedict with four more. Another quartet of yards by Erwin carried the pigskin to the Iowa ten-yard line. The doughty fullback took four yards more in a couple of tries, the pigskin showing up on the Iowa six-yard line.

At this point the Nebraskans made their disastrous blunder of the game. Instead of pursuing the budding tackle which was being placed on the goal line from the center of the field, Captain Melford gave the signal for an end run. Benedict tried right end for a loss of half a yard. The signal for a criss-cross was next given and Erwin carried the pigskin to the Iowa six-yard line.
