JEFFERIS GETS JUDGMENT

Superior Court Awards Him the Face of His Warrants with Interest.

MEANING OF THE NEW MOVE IN FINANCE

It Will Probably Circumvent the Suits Brought by J. J. Shea and May Help the City to Get Out on a Solid Basis Sooner.

Edmund Jeffers was given judgment in the superior court yesterday against the city of Council Bluffs for $4,954.96 on eleven warrants issued by the city and held by him on which payment had been refused for want of money in the funds on which they had been drawn. Four of these warrants are on the water fund and seven on the general fund. They are classed as outstanding warrants and were issued prior to the current fiscal year. The city made practically no defense beyond entering a general denial to Jeffers' claim, which compelled him to declare the warrants issued on or against the city on the four water fund warrants and seven others that he held on the general fund. Shortly after Jeffers filed his original petition Attorney J. J. Shea entered into the suit by filing a petition of intervention, in which he asked that the court declare the warrants issued on or against the city on the four water fund warrants and seven others that he held on the general fund. This being the case it was generally expected that Shea would appear at the hearing in the superior court yesterday and resist Jeffers in securing a judgment against the city on the water fund warrants by his several injunction suits against the city he has maintained are illegal issues. For some reason known only to himself Shea backed down, and just prior to the case being called yesterday morning withdrew his petition of intervention. It is believed by those who are conversant with the legal proceedings to restrain the city from paying this judgment. Around the city hall it is the general opinion that a number more of holders of outstanding warrants will follow the course adopted by Jeffers and at once commence suits to place their holdings in judgment against the city. There are several reasons given why this is likely. In the first place owing to the injunction proceedings commenced by Shea, the city has decided not to issue refunding bonds at present to take up the outstanding warrants, and there seems at this time to be very little prospect for the holders of these warrants getting their money. Then again these warrants draw 6 per cent interest, but the holders by placing them in judgment not only get 6 per cent interest on the principal of the warrant, but also on the interest that has accumulated up to the time of securing the judgment. As for instance in the Jeffers case the warrants sued on amounted to $4,342.36, to which was added 6 per cent interest from the date of issue, making $4,954.96, the amount for which he was given judgment. From this on until the city satisfies the judgment Jeffers will draw 6 per cent interest on $4,954.96. Unless there is sufficient money in the judgment fund next year it is very probable that the city will not be able to pay Jeffers' judgment until 1900. The levy will not be made until September next and the tax will not be collected until 1900. Oysters are all the go now. See Sullivan's grocer, for the best ever sold in Council Bluffs.
