Enormous Receipts and Splendid Demand Send Wheat on Irregular Course.

CLOSING PRICES ARE SOMEWHAT LOWER

Corn and Oats Remain Unchanged and Provisions Are Dull and Firm and Hog Receipts Are Heavy.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.-Wheat today, after running a very irregular course, closed leavy and 3-8c under yesterday's final figure. It was a case of enormous receipts against a splendid demand and the receipts finally triumphed. Corn and oats are unchanged. Provisions closed a little higher. The immediate opening in wheat was rather dull, May starting at 66966 1-Sc, a decline of ½c, and December ¼63-Sc lower at 657-Sc. Liverpool failed to respond to yesterday's advance here and northwest receipts were very heavy, Minneapolis and Duluth reporting 2.024 cars, compared with 2,177 last week and 1,043 a year ago. That gave the market the easy opening.

Reports that a heavy snowstorm prevailed in the Dakotas, suggesting consequent decrease in receipts, were apparently the reason for a brief advance, December selling son for a brief advance, December selling to 661-8c and May to 663-8c shortly after the opening. Then followed a period of depression which lasted until about 11 o'clock, Reports from the Argentine crop, the condition of which has been exciting much interest, were conflicting, one report claiming much damage from locusts and frosts and another report saying the exportable surplus would be large in spite of any damage. But this report gave the exportable surplus at about 30,000,000 bushels, which is considerably below previous estimates, and therefore the Argentine news had a supporting influence if anything. Bradstreet's reported the world's visible increase of 3,808,000 bushels, just about what was expected. There was still more or less nervousness shown by December longs, and ilquidation from that source, though not so heavy by any means as of late. Was nevertheless a feature of the morning decline. Before the pressure had been removed December had been forced down to 65½c and May to 66c.

After 11 o'clock the market became firmer. Closing cables, notably from Paris, showed strength and seaboard ports were excellent. Clearances were put at 965,000 bushels and forty loads were reported sold for export. Sales here were about 250,000 to 66 1-8c and May to 66 3-5c shortly after showed strength and seaboard ports were excellent. Clearances were put at 965,000 bushels and forty loads were reported sold for export. Sales here were about 250,000 bushels. Strength in corn also helped to create the demand which finally sent May up to 65% c and December to 65 3-5256% c. Primary receipts were very heavy, 1,822,000 bushels, and this announcement again brought before the traders the fact that farmers were apparently unanimous in a desire to sell. The demand gradually fell off and during the last thirty minutes' trading the market was quite weak. December finally declined to 55 5-8c and closed at 65% c. May declined and closed at 65 7-820 66c.

The stiffening of the discount rate in London did not avail, however, to prevent a further weakening in sterling exchange at New York. Posted rates were reduced $\frac{1}{2}c$ and the actual rate for demand sterling fell to $4.85\frac{1}{4}$ under the large offerings of grain and cotton bulls against exports. This is the level for exchange which brought gold on the recent movement and there is little doubt that gold would have been engaged in London for import today had it not been for a further rise in the price of the metal in that market, bars advancing a half penny to $11\frac{1}{2}d$ and eagles $\frac{1}{2}d$ to $76\frac{1}{2}d$. London ceased to buy Americans under the stress of this threatening condition in the exchange market. Nevertheless the stock market showed advances at the opening here and was sustained by heavy buying of the grangers on the Burlington statement. It was evident, however, that a part of the recent buying of the grangers was in anticipation of this statement and the same was evidently true of Union Pacific, which, with a large increase in gross earnings and a reduction in operating expenses, showed an addition to the surplus of $307,-891. The publication of these statements was therefore met with heavy realizing. There was in addition continued realizing in Atchison preferred and some selling of Northwestern and Omaha by holders who were disappointed at the failure to increase the Northwest dividend. There was strength among the southwesterns and some southern railroads, Southern Pacific and a number of specialities, including an extreme rise of 5\frac{1}{2} in Sugar and an upward movement also of some of the low-priced stocks remote from any dividend chances. But these were insufficient to counteract the general downward tendency, which finally prevalled and made the closing weak at the lowest prices generally for the day. Edison Illuminating of New York made a conspicuous advance of $14 points to $15\frac{1}{2}.

The Evening Post's London financial cablegram says: Stocks were generally good here today, with a slight revival of activity in all the speculative markets. Speculative interest in Americans undoubtedly grows out of opinions in the best quarters here as regards a continuance of the rise, which are much divided. Those who are inclined to be pessimistic have an eye to the meeting of congress next month. The feature today in Americans was the sharp rise in Central Pacific, which was bought here, and from Germany. Prices of Americans closed under the best. New York has been bidding for gold, but it was outbid in the open market by Germany at 77s 11d and a large amount of German coin was taken from the Bank of England. New York exchange is watched closely, although leading American houses here say that New York is not likely to take much gold at present.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—WOOL—The sixth series of the wool sales opened today with a large attendance. Buyers were well represented from all sections except America. The majority of the sales were taken by the continent today. Offers included many lines of New South Wales and Queensland stock. New clips were in good condition. The French and German buyers for Queensland and New South Wales secoured, which were in strong demand at higher figures and occasionally advancing 5 per cent. There was a fair inquiry for south Australian and west Australian greasies. A small supply of cross-breds sold at unchanged rates. Medium coarse was neglected and declined 5 per cent. Cape of Good Hope and Natal stock was well represented and sold briskly at October prices. The number of bales offered today were 12,488. Wool Market.

CATTLE—The total receipts of cattle were considerably larger than yesterday. The market was entirely satisfactory on all kinds excepting feeders, and the bulk of the offerings changed hands early.

The proportion of cornfed steers was larger today, about thirty loads being reported on sale, and in addition there were a few scatterings loads of grass westerns. The market on fat cattle was just about steady on all kinds and fairly active, so that practically everything was disposed of early in the forenoon. Some right good and well finished beeves brought $5.15, the best price that has been paid on this market in over a week. As was the case yesterday, pretty good cattle sold right around $4.50, fair cattle around $4.55, and common cattle anwhere from $4.40 down.

Good cows and heifers were in demand at fully steady prices and the market was active, so that everything that would come under that head changed hands in good season. Common cows and canners were slow sale and the market on that kind of stuff is 10c lower than last week. Some right good cornfed heifers sold at $4.25, good westerns at $3.75, and the general run of fair to medium cows at $3.00,3.50. Bulls and stags brought steady prices.

In the feeder division there was almost nothing doing and the market, in the language of the yards, was no good. The country demand was very light and speculators did not feel like adding any number to their holdings. Some choice yearling white faces sold at $4.60, and it seemed as if what little demand there was was limited almost exclusively to light cattle, that is, caives and yearlings. Heavy feeders were extremely slow sale at any price. It is no easy matter to say how much lower the market really was for the reason that there were so few cattle selling. One thing is certain and that is that it was considerably lower than last week, in addition to being extremely dull. Representative sales: BEEF STEERS. BEEF STEERS.

fact that buyers wanted hogs, and lots of them. Under the influence of the good demand the market was no more than a shade easier, but it was slow as buyers were bound to get steady prices. "There were some curious things about this that might never occur to you at all. For instance, in those days, if I came home late at night, that is, at the hour at which formerly I had gone into other people's houses, I never went in at my own front door; I used to go in at a cellar window. This was bad; it was like a man who had resolved to quit drinking taking a drink occasionally; he is in constant danger of falling into old habits; but it didn't seem to me that I could break off all at once. And then I made it easy for myself, too. When I locked up the cellar nights I used to leave a cellar window unfastened, so that it was perfectly easy for me to get in.

"But one night, or one morning, rather, about 2 o'clock, when I got around to that window, I found it fastened and I knew well enough what had happened. My wife had a perfect horror of burglars and I knew she must have been around the cellar after me and seen the window unfastened and turned the buttons. But that was no impediment to me; it made me laugh to myself to think how easy it was and I opened the window and slid in as usual.

"Besides having a horror of burglars my wife was great on pickles and preserves and jellles and that sort of thing, which she used to put up herself and keep down cellar on a hanging shelf, consisting of a nice broad plank suspended by side pieces nailed to the floor beams overhead. I don't know how I did it-as a general thing we never do know how we come to do things—but when I slid in that night I got turned in some way so that I was in danger of falling, and I threw up my arm instictively to save myself and my hand touched the end of that shelf-I'd often said it was too near the window and the first thing she knew somebody'd come along and clean it all out-and naturally enough it closed over the board. And the sport of it was that I yanked that end of the shelf free from its support and pulled it down and the bottles and jars went slamscattering down on the cellar bottom-and I went down among 'em.

"Somehow I managed to cut myself up pretty bad on the broken glass and I was pretty well used up otherwise. The upshot of that experience was that I stayed in the house six weeks to repair damages, and as a matter of fact that did more to bring me back to the ways of other people than anything else. I was half helpless at first and I gradually became accustomed to the habits of the house. By the time I was able to go out again, indeed, I had quite fallen into the ordinary ways and hours of living. I got up when other people did and came in early nights, and came in with a night key instead of a timmy, just as natural as could be."

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 29.—The United States transport Chester, with the Fifteenth States transport Chester, with the Fifteenth United States infantry on board, which was run ashore yesterday in the channel four miles below the city, was pulled off by tugs today. It will get away for Cuba tenight. General Lee, commanding the Seventh corps, has been directed to instruct the officers of all transports leaving this city to unlead them and return to Savannah as to unload them and return to Savannah as quickly as possible, the evident intention being to move the troops to Cuba as rapidly as the work can be done.

More Spaniards Go Home. NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The Fulda and CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—The general demand is understood that each ship will make two trips from Hanava with Spanish troops for Spain before January 1, taking in all about 3,000 troops.
