CARING FOR DESERVING POOR.

Chief of Police Bixby Evolves a Plan to Systematize Public Charity.

PROVIDES FOR A GOVERNING BOARD

Elaborate Scheme for the Investigation of Cases Before Assisting and for Keeping Records, Collecting Supplies, Disbursing Funds.

At the request of the Ministerial association of the city, Chief of Police Bixby has evolved an elaborate scheme for the systematizing of the distribution of relief to the poor and needy. His plan is to have a regularly organized Board of Charity, with the police headquarters as a central station or relief bureau, through which channel the deserving poor shall be afforded assistance as the case may warrant. By the adoption of his plan Chief Bixby is of the opinion that much could be done toward organized effort for the relief of the poor and that the underserving cases could be readily weeded out from the deserving. In conjunction with Reva Waddell, Barnes, Lemen and De Long, comprising a committee from the Ministerial association, he yesterday prepared an ordinance providing for the formation of the Board of Charity, which will be submitted to the city council at the meeting this evening.

Chief Bixby's plan provides that the city marshal keep a set of books in his office containing the name, address, occupation and age of all persons in the township who are of poor and deserving help, also the names of persons who have employment to give. He shall keep a correct record of all men, women and children receiving aid, also a complete description of them and the amount of assistance received by the number of articles distributed to them.

The marshal shall select an officer from the force for assistant inspector. This assistant shall investigate appeals for assistance and report his findings to his chief. These reports shall in turn be transmitted to the chairman or secretary of the Board of Charity.

At a regular meeting annually the mayor shall designate one member of the city council, one member of the Board of Supervisors and four clergymen of different churches to act as executive board. These members should be appointed to act as an auxiliary board. One member of the executive board and one of the auxiliary board shall be appointed from each ward in the city. They may select an assistant in each precinct in their ward. These assistants under the direction of the executive board shall act as the soliciting committee. The executive and auxiliary boards may elect their own president and secretary.

All money and articles shall be received for when accepted and shall only be distributed after proper receipt and order from the president, secretary and member of the auxiliary board.

The city shall provide horses and vehicles necessary for the collection and distribution of donations. It will also provide stationery, books, postage, badges and cards for the soliciting boards. The marshal shall keep a list of receipts and disbursements and render a weekly report.

The ordinance further provides that the executive and auxiliary boards shall meet at least once a week, on Wednesdays at the office of the city clerk, on the first of each month. No member on either of the boards or the soliciting committee shall receive any pay.
