Trio of Men Lose Their Lives in Collision on Rock Island.

ENGINEER JOHNSON MANAGES TO ESCAPE

Dead Men Are Terribly Scalded Bruised and Mangled by Escaping Steam and Flying Debris.

There was a head-end collision between two freight trains, one an extra and the other a regular, on the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad near the old Chautauqua grounds, about three miles east of Council Bluffs at 6:30 Tuesday morning. It resulted in the killing of three persons, one engineer and two firemen. The dead are: W. TAYLOR, engineer on extra freight

JOHN STONE, fireman on extra freight

JOHN CALDWELL, fireman on regular freight train, No. 56. All three of the men killed lived at Valley Junction. The wreck occurred about 125 yards west of the Rock Island switch, where the extra freight which was in charge of Conductor J. Hanifen should have side tracked to allow the regular freight going east to pass. The extra freight through some mistake or neglect of train orders failed to sidetrack, and the result that the two trains together, with terrible force. The extra freight being the heavier of the two, forced

Neither of the two engines left the track, but the tenders of both were forced back on the cars behind and the cabs forced beneath the tenders. Both engines were badly wrecked and two box cars of the regular freight were thrown from their trucks

Johnson Saves His Life. The regular freight was in charge of Conductor M. Drew and Engineer Murray Johnson. Johnson, when he saw that a collision was inevitable, after reversing his engine, jumped from the left side of the cab and managed to escape with but a few slight bruises. His fireman, John Caldwell, also jumped, but in some manner was struck by one of the cars of his own train and his neck was broken.

Engineer Taylor of the extra was pinned portions of the body; he was also somewhat body. It was a couple of hours before he could be extricated.

John Stone, the fireman, was wedged in between the cab and the tender. His head was badly crushed and his right cheek was torn open. His left arm was torn off at the shoulder and in addition to being badly scalded, his left thigh was almost cut off. His death was evidently instantaneous. The Rock Island passenger No. 5 came in over the Milwaukee tracks. Forgot About the Orders.

Engineer Taylor, although terribly he was taken out, but died before he could be placed in the car to be taken to Council Bluffs. His injuries had evidently numbed the lower limbs and he did not realize how badly he was hurt. In answer to questions of those who were working to extricate him, he replied that he guessed he was all right, that only one of his legs seemed injured; he thought he would pull through all right. To some of the men working round him he is said to have stated that the blame for the collision was his; that he had orders to look out for all regular trains, but had forgotten all about No. 56. Taylor was a married man, 35 years of age and leaves a wife and daughter . 8 years

Fireman Caldwell of the regular freight was 24 years of age and leaves a wife and a 4-year-old child.

Fireman John Stone of the extra freight had only been with the road about two months and little is known about him at this end of the line.

Head Brakeman Bert Revnolds of the regular freight had a narrow escape. He was on the top of the forward car of his train and went with it into the ditch, but as it turned over he was thrown out of the way and managed to escape with nothing the present month. more serious than a few bruises.

Charles Gould, one of the brakeman on the extra, was thrown through a window of the cab and received injuries to his shoulders, which, however, are not serious. Coroner Treynor impaneled the follow-

Local officials of the Rock Island say that the regular freight train eastbound had the right of way and that the extra should have sidetracked at the Chautauqua switch. Conductor Hanifen, who was in charge of the extra, could not be seen after the collision.

GROUND FOR FREIGHT DEPOT

Illinois Central Railroad Company Acquires a Block of Ground Formerly Occupied by Cady.

Practically the Cady Lumber company is authority for this itself. Little by little the block has been acquired until only third of it remains.

Since the purchase of the Cady company's tract, consisting of the southern lots, the railroad company has bought six of the sixteen lots north of the lumber yards. They are lots 1, 5, 8, 9, 13 and 16 and, as can be seen, are more or less scattered.

It is understood that the object of buying this property is to secure a site for freight depot and vards. The Illinois Cen the regular back shout forty or fifty yards. tral will use the Union Pacific depot for its passenger business, but needs a block of real estate for its freight business.

The streets bounding the block mentioned are Mason, Eighteenth, Pierce and Seventeenth. The Union Pacific tracks run along the southeast corner.

BOSTON STORE. OMAHA. 16th & Douglas Sts. No Double Wedding Ceremony.

GRAFTON, Neb., Jan. 10.—To the Editor of The Bee: In an article contained in The Sunday Bee under the heading of "Connubiallities" it is stated, relative to Madame Patti's approaching marriage, that a double religious ceremondal is to be conducted. It was very much surprised at the statement and wondered exceedingly how such a thing Sunday Bee is not correct, as is evident from the following letter of Right Rev. Francis Mostyn, Catholic bishop of Menevia, to the London Daily News:
"Sir-My attention has been called to statement made in several of the London papers to the effect that at the approaching wedding of Madame Patti-Nicolini to Baron Cederstrom there will be a Protestant as well as a Catholic marriage ceremony. As bishop of the Catholic diocese in which Madame Patti-Nicolini resides may I ask you to contradict this statement. Such pline of the Catholic church, could not be allowed and I am authorized by Madame Patti-Nicolini to state that, as a matter of fact, at her wedding there will be none other than a Catholic marriage ceremony." By inserting the above you will not only much oblige the undersigned, but relieve the wondering minds of all Catholics who have read the article in the Sunday Bee. I am yours very truly, D. FITZGERALD, Pastor of St. Helena's Church.

Last September the two young children of Bob Houghton were playing in my yard and swinging on the gate. I told them to get off or I would make them. They went home crying and told their father I had struck them. He came up to the house and used very foul language and I told him if he called me such names again, I would slap him. He at once repeated the foul epithets and I started toward him with my hand up-Mited and he reached out and struck me in the mouth. The brutal coward was not satisfied with that, but struck me several times knocking me down and beating me like a dog. He had to be pulled away before he would stop. Complaint was made at Judge Gordon's court. He heard the evidence and continued the case for thirty days. At the end of thirty days I went to the court to see what he was going to do, and he put it over for another thirty days and at the end of that time I went back again to the court and he dismissed the case. Bob Houghton is a he dismissed the case. Boo Houghton is a sort of a ward-heeler and is under the protec-tion of some local politicians and it was through their efforts that he was released. ## It's no use.

It's no use to fret and stew about the weather. The weather man is doing the best he can under the circumstances. There's lots of cold weather to contend with before the winter is over and it's your duly to be ready when Mr. Blizzard comes to give him a kindly greeting. Laugh at him-he may try to cut you cold, but never mind that. Stand up boldly and receive him with open arms. Say to him-"you can't touch me, Mr. Blizzard-no you can't. I'm all prepared for you-yes, I am. I just bought a brand new ulster overcoat. Now freeze me, Mr. Blizzard, if you can." They come high in the collar and low in price -you buy Nebraska ulsters is my advice-long in length, short in price, wide in width, great in goodness and a wonder in worth. These are days when clothing needs to be extra warm. Lots of ulsters and storm coats are passing into active service. Beware of the grip—the kind that settles in your head—and the kind that some stores get on your pocketbook. We know of stores who refuse to return money after customers are dissatisfied. Not so here. Your money back if some other store makes you believe he can do better by you. Good warm overcoats start at 3.75 and up. Watch for our Saturday ad.

Nothing is claimed for Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder that cannot be proved from the records. Its splendid triumphs at the World's Columbian Exposition and California Midwinter Fair were only achieved after the fullest examination and competition. The fame it has acquired rests squarely on its merits as the purest, richest and best baking powder ever offered to the public. Its victories are legitimate triumphs for the best boon ever given to the good housewives of this country.
