Comment on Time Made by Burlington and Northwestern Roads.

SOME SPEED COMPARISONS ARE MADE

Superintendent Turnbull of London & Northwestern of the Opinion that Lines in England Can Excel the Time Being Made.

railroad men of England, who insist that their records are not being exceeded and that the roads of their country can equal or excel any time the Burlington or Northwestern lines may make. Traffic Superintendent Turnbull of the London & Northwestern is quoted in a cable as saying:

"I have carefully read all the published reports of the great race and I fall utterly to see that the English roads, or our own at all events, have any cause to feel ashamed. It appears from today's report that the average speed for 500 miles was fifty-four and one-half miles an hour. Here is the record of our run from London to Aberdeen August 22, 1895: The journey was divided into two halves-London to Carlisle and Carlisle to Aberdeen. We covered the first half-299% miles-in four hours and thirty-five and one-half minutes, maintaining an average speed between Euston and Crewe of 64.3 miles an hour and between Crewe and Carlisle of 67.2 miles an hour. We covered the second half-Carlisle to Aberdeen, 241 miles-in three hours and fifty-four minutes. The average speed from Carlisle to Perth was 60.5 miles an hour, the average from Perth to Aberdeen 65.4 miles an hour. The whole journey from Euston to Aberdeen-54014 miles-was made in eight hours and thirty-two minutes, including all stops.

Think it an Error.

"No exact record was taken of particularly high speeds, but while upon this sub-ject, I and all my experts believe the reported top speed of 120 miles an hour on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and Chicago & Northwestern must be a cable error. At the same time we used on ordinary journeys to exceed eighty miles an hour on one portion of our route, but stopped owing to objections from our passengers. I may add, finally, that the grades on the Euston-Aberdeen route in some places are tremendous and I should think it hardly possible that they could be exceeded on the Chicago-Omaha route."

The London & Northwestern road is one of the lines which participated three years ago in the races from London into Scotland. The report that the express companies are to blame for the lightning speed now being made across the country does not meet with favor among the railroad men, although the enajority of them are willing to admit there might be something in it. The agents of three express companies were seen and asked if they had heard of any special effort being made on the part of the companies which they represent to secure the western business by making the best time. In two instances the agents stated that they had heard nothing of it from their people. They do not believe that a few minutes in the arrival of a train will have a great deal of effect upon the westbound express. They also pointed to the fact that the Burlington road, on which the Adams express company operates, has no express car on its fast train.

Using it for Business.

Mr. Gates of the American express thought perhaps there might be something to the and David Cole, S. I. Gordon and John call attention to "the present unequalled service from New York, Boston, Chicago and all points east to Omaha." They state that express leaves New York at 8:30 o'clock in the evening and arrives in Chicago in the evening of the next day. It leaves Chicago at 10 o'clock and reaches Omaha at 8:15 the next morning, or the morning of the second day after leaving New York. The trip is made from New York by way of the New York Central and the Michigan Central to Chicago, then by the Northwestern to Omaha. The company guarantees a delivery of all express at from five to twenty-four hours ahead of any other com-

Mr. White of the United States express company said that he does not place credence in the report, because, as it is now, it is simply a question of morning and afternoon delivery. The majority of the express from the east, with the exception of that brought in by the American in the morning, arrives in the afternoon and is delivered immediately.

EARNINGS OF THE IOWA CENTRAL Mrst Week of January Shows Large

Increases Over Last Year.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., Jan. 13.-(Special.)-The statement of approximate earnings of the Iowa Central railway for the first week of January just issued by General Auditor T. J. Wasson shows the total earnings for the week to have been $34,028.94, an increase of $5,555.48 over the corresponding period of last year. The freight earnings for the week were $26,904.65, an in crease of $4,977.30.

The passenger earnings were $5,879.77, an increase of $428.18. The passenger earnings for the week were the largest of any corresponding week in the history of the commany, with the single exception of the first week in January, 1893, when the earnings were $6,809.98. In fact, the total earnings were the largest, except for the first weeks of 1892 and 1898, which exceeded the earntogs of the last week but very little. The freight earnings for the last week would have been nearly double what they were had it not been for the grain blockade, as the Central had plenty of cars to move the grain, which could not be carried through Peoria owing to the scarcity of cars on the eastern lines. At one time during the week

ENGINEER REED WINS THE WAGER.

Proves His Ability to Stand Any Amount of Low Temperature. Engineer Reed of the Clinton and Boone ivision of the Northwestern road has shown himself capable of making and winning a very strong wager in the defense of the belief that his line must excel in everything. Recently, while he had some extra time on his hand and was doing his best to keep warm, as it was a very cold morning, a felow engineer offered to make a snug wager The contest between the western roads | that he could stand more cold than any other during the last ten days has excited the men within the sound of his voice. Mr. Reed promptly accepted the wager and it was agreed that each should put a leg out materially to clear up matters raised by the of the cab window and the one who succumbed to the cold should be declared the

The frost was nipping and after doing his best the profferer of the bet drew in his foot and slapped it against the boiler to extract the frost. He said he never saw anything equal to Engineer Reed, as the latter pocketed the cash, but his wonder changed to chagrin when the latter rolled up his trousers and exhibited a wooden leg

Rock Island Changes Time. The Rock Island road will issue a supplementary time card which will become effective Sunday. It is for the purpose of making connection with the Denver & Rio Grande road, which is shortening its time to meet western connections. The change any one else to make these entries. which will affect Omaha travelers most is the passenger which now leaves at 6:40 in the evening. Sunday evening and thereafter it will depart at 6:20. It will arrive in Colorado Springs at 10:45 in the morning, mak-Grande road and will reach Denver at 11 in the morning.

Conference of Railway Magnates. MONTREAL, Jan. 13 .- A conference beween the Canadian Pacific railway and the western roads of the United States has been arranged for January 17. It will be held at Chicago and will be a continuation of that which took place at Montreal after the settlement of the rate war. It is expected that will result in an arrangement of the differences that have existed between the interests named since the outbreak of the rate trouble. These differences relate principally to the immigrant traffle.

DECIDE ON THIRTY ACRES

South Siders Declare Themselves in Favor of Increasing the Size of Riverview Park.

Upwards of 100 southside taxpayers congregated at Mueller's hall on Vinton street last night to decide what action should be recommended relative to the proposed addition to Riverview park. After a series of speeches that occupied fully three hours the consensus of opinion was almost unanimous in favor of the condemnation of the thirty acres embraced in the ordinance now before the council. A small minority declared in favor of taking in the whole sixty acres embraced in the Murray tract, but these fell in with the majority when it became apparent that the sentiment was not in favor of taking more than thirty acres.

President John Powers of the South Side Improvement club presided and E. J. Cornish spoke at some length, detailing the progress of the project to date and emphasizing the advantage of confining the appropriation to thirty acres. I. S. Hascall took the same view and suggested that trying to acquire the entire tract was like setting a bushel of eggs under one hen. Joe Kavan was another advocate of the thirty-acre scheme rumor, although he had not heard of it. Rosicky favored going after the entire tract. His company is emphasizing the time made | Then John Butler made a speech and half between New York and Omaha by sending a dozen others made additional speeches, letters to their patrons in the city. These the tenor of which was largely towards limiting the appropriation to the thirty-acre

One of the most vigorous arguments that was urged in favor of this course was to the effect that if the entire property is taken the owners may succeed in pushing the price to an unreasonable figure, but if only a part of the tract is condemned they cannot afford to force an inflated appraisement, because a considerable proportion of it can then be assessed for benefits on the portion that they still own. Finally, a motion that the city authorities be requested to condemn the thirty-acre tract was carried by a practically unanimous vote.

Announcements.

This evening and at a bargain matinee the safternoon "Why Smith Left Home" will be presented at the Boyd theater with the complete original scenic amplitute, territul costumes and novel stage accessories that marked its initial production at the Columbia theater in Chicago last Augus'.

A moral sermon of the social injustice to woman is what is taught by "Sowing the Wind," which will be at the Boyd next Monday and Tuesday evenings. It has a record of 200 very successful nights at the Empire theater in New York and has been seen here, so that its merit is known.

Alf Holt, now the recognized star of the stage whistiers and a singer of wide repute, is prominent in the splendid cast which will appear at the Boyd theater tomorrow afteraroon and evening in the popular musical farce, "At Gay Coney Island."

That thermometer of a theater, the box office, shows that the patronage of the Creighton-Orpheum theater at today's matince will be fully as large as it was last Saturday, which was a record breaker. Hilda Thomas, the eastern matinee girls' favorite, demonstrated at the Sunday and Wednesday favorite here. Her act is a most taking one and she is the beau ideal of a character comedienne. "Cbrindy," which introduces twenty swell "coone" in all manner of negro fun, including cake walking, is also a favorite act this week. te act this week.

MAGNIFICENT TRAINS.

Omaha to Chicago.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway has just placed in service two magnificent electric lighted trains between Omaha and Chicago, leaving Omaha daily at 5:45 p. m. arriving Chicago at 8:25 a. m. and leaving Chicago 6:15 p. m. and arriving Omaha 8:20 a. m. Each train is lighted theroughly by electricity, has buffet smoking cars, drawing room sleeping cars, dining cars and reclining chair cars and runs over the shortest line and smoothest roadbed between the two cities.

DORSEY IN HIS OWN BEHALI

Testimony Given Relative to the Affairs of the Ponca Bank.

CONTRADICTS THE EVIDENCE OF HIGGINS

Declares that He Never Issued In structions to Make False Entries in the Books and Knew Nothing of Them.

The principal feature of the Dorsey case was the testimony of the defendant in his own behalf. In several respects it assisted prosecution and in others Dorsey fatly contradicted the testimony of E. D. Higgins, who had sworn that he received instructions from him to make false entries on the books He also gave a very plausible explanation of the charge that he had made a misleading report to the comptroller of the currency in one instance and explained the absence of one note which he is accused in the indictment of having abstracted from the bank. The defendant was asked in regard to the entries in the books which represented notes as paid when they had been issued for rediscount. He stated positively that he never knew that the notes were entered as paid until he was told so by Bank Examiner Griffith after the bank failed. He never gave any instructions to Logan, Higgins or

In regard to the Warren Bellar note for $2,000, which he was accused of abstracting from the bank, the witness stated that this note was given to take up a note for a similar amount held by James E. Strong ing connection with the Denver & Rio against the bank. Mr. Higgins told him that the Strong note was due and he told him to take it up with the Bellar note. He knew that the Strong note came into the bank but upon examination he had been unable to find that it had been entered on the books.

In regard to the comptroller's report, in which the prosecution had endeavored to amounting to $137,000, when as a matter of that the difference was accounted for by loans on real estate, which amounted to $11,000. He succeeded in tracing these transactions on the books, thus accounting for the exact amount which had been speci-

The examination of G. W. E. Dorsey was continued yesterday morning and he was questioned in detail in regard to the effect of the financial panic on his property. He said that in March, 1893, he pledged property worth $60,000 to secure a loan of $20,000 from Sioux City banks and the amount secured was turned over to bolster up the Ponca bank. When the notes became due he pledged $15,000 more to secure $6,000, from which $4,000 was paid on the Sloux City account. It consequently cost him $75,000 to realize $18,000 in the state of the money market that existed at that time. He also sacrificed a large amount of securities to obtain a loan of $10,000 in New York and in another case he sold stocks that were worth $40,000 under different conditions for $19,000. He also pledged stocks to make good the losses of Dorsey Bros. at South Omaha.

On cross-examination the government attempted to question the witness closely in regard to what became of the money that he realized by these sacrifices, but most of the questions were ruled out by the court as immaterial. Judge Carland ruled that inasmuch as the witness had testified that he turned the money over to Frank M. Dorsey he could not be asked to tell what became of Police Take Charge of Dr. Milton's Spirit-Materializing Business at Seventeenth and Dodge.

The shades of Milton have taken up their emporary residence in the city jail. Friday night the police arrested "Dr." Frederick Milton, S. H. Davis and two women who posed nightly as shades of departed relatives to that portion of the populace prone to part easily from their wealth. "Dr." Frederick Milton, who claims New Orleans as his residence, three weeks ago rented apartments on the southeast corner of Seventeenth and Dodge streets, where with Davis and the two women, he gave seances and other alleged spirit manifestations at so much per capita. His methods were much the same as others who practice on the gullible. The women were mainly chief spooks. They would appear before the expectant victim, robed in white, while acknowledging in accents thin that they were the spirit of the departed and were or were not satisfied with their present abiding place. That the "doctor" was a man of resource was demonstrated by the wagon load of paraphernalia taken to the station by the ofshow that he reported bills receivable ficers. This consisted of robes of all kinds and colors, wigs, beards, bones, a megafact there were only $126,000. Dorsey said phone and dolls, the latter representing spirits of household treasures. The stuff would probably invoice $200.

The women stated that they received $1 per night for their part of the performance. One of them, who refused to give her name, said the arrests were due to a misunderstanding the "doctor" had had with his nephew and a "customer" named Mr.

The parties were arrested upon a complaint charging them with engaging in a swindling scheme.

Prescription Preparers

There are days when the medicine buyer can appreciate the DIFFERENCE between a REAL DRUG STORB and a mer sign for a drug store. There is a vast difference between being able to go to a drug store and get your prescription compounded at once and going to a store and having to leave your prescription until the city has been ransacked to find the ingredients prescribed.

CAN'T FIND IT IN CITY. This is an expression you will often hear in the drug stores of some of our amiable contemporaries. We know this was said to a patient a few days ago—when WE had not been called upon for the article. The MORAL IS PLAIN.
