CHILLS

The first warning that you're in the clutches of the Grippel! Then comes the fever, pain in the head, constant desire to cough, soreness of the muscles, and extreme prostration.

When you first feel chilly don't go to bed, but go to the nearest drug store for a bottle of

Cherry Pectoral

It's simply astonishing how 'twill cut short the attack. The disease can't get any farther than the chill. You escape all the rest.

Treated early: "Cured in a day." That's the usual story.

Later, the Cherry Pectoral breaks up the attack, stops the coughing, controls the fever, and surely prevents pneumonia.

OVERWORKED WOMEN.

Letters to Mrs. Pinkham From Women Who Have Been Helped From Sickness or Health.

The ordinary every-day life of most of our women is a ceaseless treadmill of work. How much heavier the daily tasks become when some derangement of the female organs makes every movement painful and keeps the nervous system unstrung!

The following letter from Mrs. WALTER S. BANTA, Sparkill, N. Y., tells the story of many women, and shows them how to get relief.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot thank you enough for all Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I wrote you I had suffered for years with falling inflammation and ulceration of the womb; my back ached, and I was so much distressed I could scarcely walk. I was a burden to myself and did not care whether I lived or died."

"I have taken five bottles of your medicine and it has done wonders for me as all my friends can testify. I can now do my own work, and do not know how to express my gratitude to you for the good your medicine and advice have done me. I owe my life to Mrs. Pinkham."

Mrs. Pinkham's counsel offered free to all women who need advice about their health. Her address is Lynn, Mass. Mrs. P. H. HURCHCROFT, Kellerton, Iowa, tells here in her own words how Mrs. Pinkham helped her.

THEY COAST DOWN TO DEATH

Five Small Boys Lose Their Lives by Drowning Under the Ice.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 17.—Five small boys met death in a drowning accident today at South Gibson, a small country hamlet near Foster, Susquehanna county.

Another thing that impressed me most on this trip of inspection, said the brigadier, "is the fact that in spite of the wonderful progress that has been made all along the line by the Salvation Army there is one thing in which it has remained stationary."

The brigadier is today a grateful for the opportunity given them to help themselves as they were when they first put foot on the land. They are proving themselves worthy of the trust that we have put in them, and they are laying the foundations for a more glorious and, as yet, undreamed of possibilities.

The people are happy and contented. The change in the faces of the colonists in a year is wonderful indeed. And all this has been done not by charity, but by a common sense business method sound and secure as the land on which it is founded.

Reviews the Army History.

In spite of the cold weather a fair sized crowd gathered to hear Brigadier Stillwell at the headquarters of the Salvation Army. The brigadier did not disappoint his audience.

Brigadier General Stillwell of the Salvation Army will deliver a lecture at the First Methodist Episcopal church this evening.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS correspondent at Manila writes regarding the opportunities for investments in the Philippines.

He says that industrial enterprises offer the best inducements and that American labor has no chance to compete with the native laborers, who can stand the climate, can live on the native foods and are in every other way more fitted to perform the labor of the country than Americans and laboring men are wanted to give the Philippines a wide berth in their search for new fields.

Modern street car lines and modern railroads would earn good dividends. Only the locomotive after the war, and even though these cars are uncomfortable and slow they are crowded from morning to night.
