PROCEEDINGS OF THE HOUSE. Bill Files Are Unsatisfactory and Are

Exchanged for Others. LINCOLN, Jan. 23.—(Special.)—In the house this morning Thompson of Merrick offered a resolution that the bill files now on hand be discarded and some others more suitable be ordered in their place. The discussion that followed brought out the explanation that the bills in the files now on the members' desks tear out if the file is opened up and the binding is such that part of the bills cannot be read. The chair made the statement that a contract had been made by the secretary of state with the company that had heretofore furnished files for the legislature and that this contract had been canceled to make possible the purchase of the present files. He said an exchange could be made, a small amount to be allowed for those on hand.

A motion to refer the whole matter to the committee on printing was defeated and later a motion instructing the committee to make the exchange was adopted. The regulation files that are now to be purchased cost about $2 apiece. The secretary of state canceled the contract with the manufacturers a month or so ago in order to buy some cheaper ones from a popocratic printing establishment in Lincoln. After recess the house went into commit tee of the whole, with Thompson of Merrick in the chair, to consider bills on general file. H. R. 22, making a minor change in the statute relating to guardians

The house committee on privileges held a meeting this afternoon and listened to the reading of the 250 pages constituting the record of the Fillmore county contest case. This related to the proceedings and evidence brought out at the hearing in Geneva in December. The reading of this evidence developed the fact that Judge Skipton, the man who is now holding back the ballots, make it obligatory upon courts to ask juries was the official who appointed the election officials in the county and who so arranged it that there was a fusion majority on every board. It also showed that when Skipton was on the witness stand on the 19th he admitted that the supervision contest in the three precincts could not come up for a long time and that in the interim "the Lord knows what would become of the ballots." Attorneys Ed Smith of Omaha and Sterling and Wilson of Geneva were present today representing the contestees, while Sloane, Bareby and Dennis Thorpe of Geneva represented the contestants. The attorneys for the contestees when requested to do so defendants in personal injury suits. He refused to asked Judge Skipton to deliver said Kansas was the only state having a up the ballots. In the meantime the two men whose seats are being contested claim to be anxious to have the ballots delivered up. The committee will resume its sitting tomorrow morning and it is said that the of this state tried hard last fall to redeem count of the ballots now on hand will be started during the day. The house committee on finance, ways and means held a meeting tonight and called upon the state officials to give personal testimony as to the clerical force in their offices. Governor Poynter was called along with the rest. The committee is making a searching investigation as to the number of clerks employed and the salaries paid with a view of applying some of the economy principles to the reformers themselves. It is said the committee will try to find out how one state office can put five deputies on the stump during two months of the campaign and still keep up with the office work.

Sent on Their Way. LINCOLN, Jan. 23 .- (Special.) - Lieutenant Governor Gilbert's gavel did not call the upper house to order until 11:25 o'clock. The only members absent at roll call were Howard of Hamilton and Farrell of Merrick. Proceedings dragged while the senate walted for the noon hour to ballot on senlature, was read. Without waiting to vote ever before. on this bill the secretary proceeded to read dental expenses, until stopped by Talbot of Lancaster, who said under the constitution the vote must be taken immediately after the third reading to be legal.

The president thought the senator from Lancaster was taking a serious view of the matter.

"I do," replied Senator Talbot. "It is selous to me, as it is where I get my pay and I want the bill properly passed." Consequently the bill was placed upon its passage and received thirty-one affirmative upon the upper steel arch enjoying the votes. The president declared the bill passed beauty of the crystal-like structure. They with the emergency clause.

H. R. 121 was then read and passed by unanimous vote and the journey of the two appropriation bills through the legislature was completed. After the joint session the senate took recess till 3 o'clock. The senate reconvened at 3:15 o'clock. When petitions were called for a long petition was presented by Reynolds of Dawes asking support for the bill before congress for equal suffrage.

S. F. 52, with slight amendments, was placed on general file. S. F. 29 was also placed on general file. The following bill was introduced:

The senate then went into committee of the whole with Prout of Gage in the chair. S. F. 12, by Miller of Buffalo, was again considered. The bill provides against platting encumbered lands into city, town or village lots. Upon motion of Miller of Buffalo he committee agreed to report the bill back to the senate with a recommendation that it pass. S. F. 11, by Fowler of Fillmore, provid-approves the same. The bill was held for further discussion. S. F. 24. to amend procedure in jury trials, by Talbot of Lancaster, was the next bill on general file. Amendments reported by the committee not having been printed this bill was also postponed till a later sitting. S. F. 27, by Talbot of Lancaster, next received the senate's attention. Senator Talbot said the object of the bill was to to return verdicts passing upon questions of fact in writing. Talbot of Lancaster said the republicans Nebraska, as Kansas had been redeemed and would have accomplished the redemption had Douglas county done its duty like Laneaster, Gage and other counties. He thought all parties should have equal protection under the law. It was not a law for particular litigants. If the jury will find the facts the law can easily be applied. sald courts had no more rights now than Van Dusen of Douglas believed juries would be confused by a list of questions. Would they know the effects under the law of the answers? He did not believe in taking this discretion from the impartial court and placing it in the hands of a partial lawyer. No good reason for the change had been given. He moved as an amendment that the bill be reported back, with a recommendation that it be inden-

SHUTS OUT LEWD CHARACTERS.

Upper Part of the Capitol Building Closed to Bad People. LINCOLN, Jan. 23 .- (Special.) -One of the greatest improvements noticed in the presand corridors. In years past there was little attempt at police control and the upper corridors were always full of men, boys and girls and questionable characters from the city. The dark corners made favorite meeting places and the long and crooked passage to the top of the dome was turned into ing the pendency of such appeal commit or a verifiable bawdy house, giving rise to innumerable scandals. Girls from 12 to 20 years of age, who were supposed to be in school, spent hours at a time in the upper part of the capitol building and the location possession pursuant to the judgment and all and evil associations led to the ruin of hundreds of girls.

Several times attempts were made to remedy this condition by placing a day watchman in the upper halls clothed with authority to shut up the door leading to the dome. But in each case some young man with a political pull as his only recommendation was appointed to the place and he soon became worse than the other hangers on. The position gave him the opportunity to turn the dome of the building into an assignation house, levying tribute on those who were temporarily given possession of the key to the door.

The knowledge of this condition of affairs at previous sessions led to a meeting of the committee on employes of the house the first entitled Chattel Mortgages."

S. F. 199-By Fowler: An act entitled Clark called for some measure of reform that would drive the lewd characters out of the upper part of the building. The result of the meeting was the appointment of a custodian who was to have absolute control of the upper halls. The man selected was a man of family, an old soldier and of good standing and unimpeachable character. He has taken charge of the work and the result is apparent to all. NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Jan. 23.-While nearly one hundred persons were on the great ice bridge in the gorge of the Niagara river the icy mass was broken loose from the banks at either end. There were thousands of Sunday sightseers in the parks and heard the cracking of the ice and saw the great mass as it was moved by the swift current of the river, and hundreds shouted warning to those on the bridge. Some of these venturesome persons had only gone a short distance from the river bank, while others were out in the center of the bridge and were crossing the river. Those near the end soon found safety, but further out toward the center were a number of small boys. Before they were fairly started for the shore the great bridge was loosened from its fastenings. Then ': became a race for life, but the youngsters, amid wild shouts, finally reached the shore. It was then seen that all except three persons had reached places of safety. One was a man not far out from the New York side. The others across the ice toward the Canadian side." The man near the New York shore kept his courage well. His eyes were directed toward the steel arch, under which he would pass, if the ice continued to move down the river. Onward it went and just as he reached the bridge he leaped from the ice and caught the arch as it rises not far out from the abutment. The man and woman reached the Canadian shore. The ice is piled in a great mass about the abutment of the upper steel arch, and it is rumored that the structure has been injured, but this cannot be verified. The steamer docks on each side of the river have been wrecked and the ice has piled close to the inclined railway building in the gorge so that it is in danger.

HEATHENISM STILL LINGERS

Shinto and Buddhist Priest Ply Their Craft with Success in the Island of Hawaii.

BOSTON, Jan. 23.-The American board of commissioners for foreign missions has just received an interesting report on the present condition of the Hawaiian islands. The report is from Rev. J. Leadingham After stating that intoxication is ruining scores and hundreds of the natives. Mr. Leadingham says: Heathenism is also a foe which Christianity must still encounte here. Besides the lingering remnants of Hawalian heathenism is that which is imported from China and Japan. Shinto and Buddhist priests are active in support of their faith among the Japanese laborers in some places in the islands.

a recent trip to the island of Hawai Mr. Leaderingham saw on one side of the road a building in front of which were some peculiarly shaped banners attached to tall poles. A pathway leading to the building through the steep bank by the roadside and the banks on either side of this pathway were stuck full of short pieces of bamboo attached to which were strips of papers covered with Japanese characters. building was a Shinto shrine and the strips of paper on the sides of the pathway were prayers. Here was real heathenism from Japan. It is no common sight to see a hack loaded with Chinamen, and having with them a nicely roasted pig, on the way to the cemetery to pay their homage to their dead ancestors.

Reservation Indians Take Unusual Interest in Case and Want Justice Done-United States Authorities Arrest Accused.

CHADRON, Neb., Jan. 23 .- (Special.) -A ortme which has attracted great attention throughout this section owing to its rarity occurred on the Pine Ridge Indian reservation a few days ago. A mounted Indian po-Heeman in patrolling the reservation dis covered the body of a woman. It was mutilated and showed that a murder had been committed. The matter was immediately reported to Major Clapp at the agency in charge of the reservation and the United States officers were notified.

Indications pointed to the guilt of the woman's husband, Good Shot, and after caretul investigation he was placed under arrest by the officers. Good Shot was taken before an United States commissioner where the evidence was sufficiently strong to warrant the commissioner in binding him over to the United States court and Deputy United States Marshal John V. Belding of Deadwood and W. G. Porter, United States Circuit Court commissioner of Sloux Falls, brought the prisoner to this city and he was taken to Deadwood to await his trial before the United States courts.

He Still Leads with Twelve Votes Short of Necessary Number. HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 23.-The fifth ballot for United States senator today showed no change in the situation. Senator Quay still leads with twelve votes short of the necessary number to elect. Peter A. B. Widener, the traction magnate, received two votes today from anti-Quay members. The democrats are still united on Jenks and the anti-Quay republicans are divided between a half dozen candidates, with Congressman Dalzell of Pittsburg the favorite. The rules were amended to provide that on the recapitulation of the ballot the names of those voting, as well as those for whom they voted, shall be read by the clerk before the result is announced. The vote in detail follows: 64; Jenks, 48; Dalzell, 11; Irwin, 3; Stewart, 8; Huff, 3; Stone, 6; Tubbs, 3; Grow, 3; Markle, 1; Downing, 1; P. A. B. Widener, republican, 2; total vote cast, 152; necessary to choice, 76; paired, 98; absent without pairs, 4.

Expedition Will Leave New York A statement was issued tonight by the steering committee of the anti-Quay organization, in part as follows:

We, the undersigned, a committee representing and acting for and by authority of the anti-Quay republican members of the legislature hereby protest against the atimpted and unprecedented interference of the chief executive in the matter of influencng votes for Quar. We regard the open letter of Governo Stone published this morning as an unproper interrerence of the executive branch of the government with the legislative department of the commonwealth. The statement then recites the alleged efforts of Senator Quay to evade trial on the conspiracy charges against him and continuing, says:

PROGRESS OF SENATORIAL FIGHTS. While these proceedings were to be argued in the supreme court on the 7th of January Mr. Quay attempted to force a caucus on Small Headway Made in the Contests the 3rd day of January, eight hours after the MADISON, Wis., Jan. 23.-The republican organization of the legislature. This monstrous proposition wiped aside all precedents and we declined to vote for M. lots were taken in caucus tonight, making twenty-five in all. The last ballot stood:

S. Quay until he had been acquitted of these criminal charges which he adroitly dodged. Notwithstanding the above the governor of this commonwealth brushes aside the court and jury and all the criminal charges in the case, and upon the naked statement of D. L. Watson, the pald attorney of M. S. SALT LAKE, Jan. 23 .- Two ballots were Quay, declares Mr. Quay innocent and the victim of political persecution. .

ground of party regularity the governor alone urges the election of M. S. Quay; at the same time he as well as all others know Mr. Quay cannot be elected by epublican votes and that M. S. Quay and his lieutenants are desperately solleiting emocratic votes as the only means of electing him. We do most emphatically dissen the sentiments expressed in the open letter of the governor, believing that nine twenty-seventh senatorial ballot here there tenths of the people of the state endorse our action.

EXCITING TIME IN WEST VIRGINIA

House Democrats Unsent Republicans and Senate Members Retaliate. CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 23.-This has been the most exciting day politically since the legislature assembled almost two

The democratic majority in the house unseated two republican members. Today by a party vote in the senate the republicans unseated Kidd, democrat, and seated in his place his republican opponent at the last election, M. B. Morris. The senate had referred this contest to the committee on privileges and elections, but it did not wait for a report from that committee. The committee was relieved and final action taken at once. It is currently reported that this policy was outlined by Senator Elkins who arrived here yesterday from Washsay that if he is not elected at least Siew- ington, in company with Mr. Scott, Congressmen Dayton and Dovener and other republicans, who held a conference at Washing-

> In retaliation for this proceeding the democrats in the house introduced resolutions, looking to the unseating of Redmond, republican, of Mason county; Scherr, republican, of Preston, and Cutright, lican, of Upshur. It is expected that tomorrow the senate will unseat two more democrats, Ashby of Kanawha and Marcum of Cabell. Tomorrow the senate will consider both the majority and the minority reports on the contests for the seats of Senators Getzendanner and Pierson, who served in the Spanish war and did not resign their seats. While they were in the army, the democrats elected two senators to succeed them, and these men are their contestants. It is stated tonight that the house will to morrow seat Dent, democrat. As the contests stood till today, the legislature on joint ballot consisted of forty-nine republicans and forty-eight democrats. The change of one in the senate today makes the legislature stand on joint ballot fifty republicans and forty-seven democrats. There is no telling how things will stand when the balloting begins tomorrow.

Losses of Seminole Indians WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.-The secretary of the interior today sent to the senate the finding of the commissioners appointed to determine the loss sustained by loyal Seminole Indians during the civil war. They place the losses at $323,925, divided among 340 claimants.
