GOLD MINE DEAL IN COURT

Judge Thornell Patiently Listens to the Contentions of Lawyers.

COMPLETION OF THE HEARING IS REACHED

Intimation that Doyle Fraudulently Secured a Judgment Against Burns and that It Should Be Set Aside.

For over ten hours yesterday Judge Thornell in the district court patiently listening to the arguments of counsel upon the motion to set aside the judgment taken by James A. Doyle in his now famous suit against John F. Burns, president of the Portland Gold Mining company of Colorado.

In order to complete the hearing yesterday Judge Thornell held a special session last night, at which John N. Baldwin, counsel for Doyle, made his closing reply to Mr. Patterson's concluding argument in support of the motion.

When court convened yesterday morning Mr. Baldwin resumed his argument and spoke for six hours with an adjournment of an hour for dinner. Mr. Patterson then spoke with his closing argument and followed until court adjourned at 6 o'clock.

Mr. Baldwin informed the court that he would like to make a reply to Mr. Patterson and Judge Thornell agreed to hold a special session in the evening.

Mr. Baldwin's argument was the contention that Burns was served with personal notice of the action here; that he appeared and filed a motion to quash service of this notice. Burns contended that this notice was not served, but in order to do this he contended that Burns used the knowledge of the pendency of the action here in the proceeding there; that Doyle upon proper advice refused to comply with the Colorado order and took his judgment; that Burns was now in this court asking to set aside this judgment, but in order to do this he contended that Burns had filed a defense, and second, a reasonable excuse for not answering and preventing judgment there. Burns, he contended, had absolutely failed to show any reason or excuse as contemplated by the statute, viz: accident, mistake, death, surprise or lack of knowledge. None of these existed. He further contended that Burns had defied the processes of the Iowa court and had, in using the processes of the court of Colorado for opposing Doyle; that the Iowa court, having jurisdiction of the parties and the subject matter and having acquired that jurisdiction first, the law and the constitution of the United States required the courts of Colorado to recognize the proceeding here, and on the reason of comity between the two states should have refused to interfere.

Mr. Baldwin in concluding his argument further insisted that Burns had a proceeding in this court and a proceeding in Colorado, but that he had confidence in neither and was experimenting with both; that he was afraid of the law in both states and tried to hold on to both; that he took the record of this court to Colorado and used it to get an injunction there and having secured it to oppress Doyle and incarcerate him. Then finding that Doyle would not yield to the operation, after seven months of experimenting in Colorado, Burns brought the very same transcript from the Colorado court down here, filed it in this court and asked that upon that very same record, and with which he is keeping Doyle in jail, this court should set aside the judgment of the Colorado court, but this counsel insisted he did not dare do. He said he could easily understand that Doyle was willing to defy the courts of his state if he could have close upon $1,000,000 to heal his wounds with. The judgment, should, he insisted, be set aside in the interest of law and justice.
