

NEBRASKANS FALLEN

Bear Brunt of the Loss in Additional Casualty List Received.

THREE MORE KILLED AND ELEVEN WOUNDED

No Names of Omaha Men Are Included in Official Report.

OTIS RENDERS ACCOUNT OF TOTAL LOSS

Nearly Every Company of Nebraskans Contributes Its Share.

TOTAL LIST CONTAINS 268 NAMES

Of These, Three Officers and Fifty-Six Privates Are Killed and Total of 207 Are Wounded, Besides Two Privates Missing.

KILLED: ARTIFICER GUSTAVE EDLUND, Company B, Fullerton. PRIVATE WILLIAM PHILIPOT, Company F, Madison. PRIVATE H. G. LIVINGSTON, Company M, Plattsmouth.

WOUNDED: Charles Keeckley, Company A, York. George L. Clothier, Company B, Genoa. Robert E. Childers, Company B, Fullerton. Fred Kuhn, Company C, Beatrice. Oral F. Gibson, Company E, David City.

Of the above George L. Clothier and Charles Keeckley had been previously reported. Arthur Edlund, Privates Philipot, Childers, Boyd, Shipper and Campbell do not appear on the original muster rolls and the location of the company is given.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The above list of additional casualties among the Nebraska troops in the battle of Manila was received today in a cablegram from General Otis. The following were also included:

Thirteenth Minnesota. Wounded: Private Alexander F. Burns, Company M, First Montana. Wounded: Private Lester Pierestoff, Company C, Third Artillery. Wounded: Private James J. Grate, Battery B. Private James T. Leach, Battery L, First Colorado.

Wounded: Private Clyde F. McVey, Company K, Fourteenth Infantry. Wounded: Private William Bush. Total casualties resulting from all engagements since evening of February 4, aggregated 268, as follows: Killed, three officers, fifty-six privates, wounded, eight officers, 198 enlisted men; missing, two enlisted men.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(Special Telegram.)—Additional casualties in the First Nebraska: KILLED: ARTIFICER GUSTAVE E. EDLUND, Company B. PRIVATE WILLIAM PHILIPOT, Company F. PRIVATE H. G. LIVINGSTON, Company M.

Wounded: Private Charles Keeckley, Company A. Private George L. Clothier, Company B. Private Robert E. Childers, Company B. Private Fred Kuhn, Company C. Private Oral F. Gibson, Company E. Private Douglas T. Bridger, Company F. Private Harry Seabrooke, Company H. Private Frank Boyd, Company K. Private Francis Hanson, Company L. Private Moro C. Shipper, Company M. Private Daniel Campbell, Company M. GEORGE D. MEIKLEIGH, Assistant Secretary of War.

MANILA HAS A QUIET DAY

Filipinos Reinforced by Better Drilled Men and Are Entrenching Themselves Near Calocan.

MANILA, Feb. 9.—(4:30 p. m.)—All is quiet here today. The Filipinos are lying low except on the extreme left and right. They are evidently concentrating between Calocan and Malabon. Judging from appearances, the Filipinos are being reinforced by better drilled men from the northern provinces. In front of Calocan they are as thick as a swarm of bees. The American troops feel the heat at midday in the open, but they are impatient to proceed. The soldiers are impatient of restraint while in sight of the enemy. The Filipinos are still intruding themselves on the left of Calocan.

Sergeant Major Smith of the Tennessee has been ordered to proceed to the United States by the next transport as an escort of the remains of Colonel William C. Smith of the First Tennessee volunteers, who died of apoplexy during the recent battle with the Filipinos.

MILLER TO OCCUPY ILOILO

Troops No Longer Needed at Manila Will Join Him in Pushing the Campaign.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Probably within forty-eight hours General Miller will have begun the attempt to occupy Iloilo on the island of Panay. No specific orders on this score have been sent to him since the battle of Saturday and Sunday, but it was his known intention to make this important movement as soon as he felt that conditions warranted it, and statements contained in the press reports from Manila convince the officials here that General Otis at last has authorized the landing.

The best indication of that determination was the dispatch this morning from Manila of the departure of the first regiment of Tennessee volunteer infantry for Iloilo. So long as the massing of insurgents around Manila appeared to convey a serious threat against its safety, General Otis felt bound not to weaken his forces by sending any additional troops to Iloilo, but now that he

WHO POISONED MRS. ADAMS?

Physical Director Cornish of Knickerbocker Club Under Fire.

MYSTERY OF THE PACKAGE FROM THE MAIL

Main Witness Describes His Connection with Bruno Setzer Which Was Charged with the Deadly Dose.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—The inquiry into the death of Mrs. Kate J. Adams, who died after taking bromo setzer containing cyanide of mercury, which had been sent through the mails to Harry S. Cornish, physical director of the Knickerbocker Athletic club, was begun by Coroner Hart today. Crowds of people, who gathered early in the corridors of the criminal court building, were refused admission to the coroner's court, where there were present only those intimately connected with the case.

Harry Cornish as put on the stand first and he will go on the stand again tomorrow. According to District Attorney Gardner, who was himself present at the inquiry for a brief period and who was represented by Assistant District Attorney Osborne, the testimony given by Cornish was not entirely satisfactory, nor, the district attorney asserted, was it as complete as had been expected.

Roland B. Molineux's name was brought into the case at the start, and Cornish's relations with Molineux were gone into thoroughly. During the early part of the examination Cornish was very self-possessed and gave his answers with much more deliberation and sometimes after a careful consideration.

Barnet Victim of a Poisoner. The most generally accepted theory has been that some person or persons with a secret to hide had attempted to dispose of those having knowledge of the secret, and Henry C. Barnet, a former member of the Knickerbocker Athletic club, who died November 19, fell a victim to poison sent to him anonymously in the mails.

Harry Cornish was the first witness. Mr. Cornish told of receiving the bottle of medicine and silver bottle holder at the Knickerbocker club on December 14, of preserving the wrapper and of subsequently taking the articles to the flat where he lived with Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Rogers. He narrated the circumstances leading to the preparation of a dose of the drug for Mrs. Adams, who, after drinking, remarked that it was very bitter.

Cornish said he drank what was left in the glass and said: "That's all right." Then he sat down to read, but was startled by a call from Mrs. Rogers. "Come and hold mamma," he said. He saw Adams apparently very ill in the bathroom. He hurried the halibut for a doctor and ran to a drug store for instructions. The druggist gave him sweet spirits of ammonia for her. No doctor having arrived, Cornish ran for Dr. Hitchcock, and later, at Dr. Hitchcock's request, fetched Dr. Potter. Mrs. Adams died and the doctors told him the case must be reported to the coroner.

The witness said he went to Assistant District Attorney Gardner, his personal friend, and asked him to expedite the action of the coroner. All this while, witness said, he was ill. He went to the club about 4 o'clock p. m. (Mrs. Adams' death occurred during the forenoon, and it behooves him to clear his own skin.) Under the law his own admission of giving her the poison is sufficient to secure his indictment for murder. Whether or not this will be done remains within the discretion of this office.

PRESENT FAD OF IMPERIALISM

Cleveland, Bryan and Carnegie Declare Their Opposition to It in Southern Agricultural Paper.

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 9.—The semi-weekly Journal, an agricultural paper run in connection with the Atlanta Journal, by Hon. Hoke Smith, wif. in this week's issue, publishes information regarding the opposition of President Cleveland, W. J. Bryan and Andrew Carnegie.

Mr. Cleveland says: "If there is anything that can arrest the attention or change the thought of our people in their mad rush for the present, it is the present imperialism and militarism and remain true to the doctrine of self-government."

In expressing his views, Mr. Carnegie says: "The influence of a superior race upon an inferior race in the elevating, uplifting and demoralizing and degrading, is a subject of the craze of the hour. Through Americanism such as the south now stands for is for all time. I congratulate the south upon its adherence to the principles of Washington and Jefferson, which are bound to prevail."

HENRY NAMES NEW CABINET

Liberals Are Dissatisfied and Will Complain to Washington.

SAJUAN DE PORTO RICO, Feb. 9.—General Henry has appointed Francisco Acuna, independent liberal, now attorney for the supreme court, to be secretary of the interior. He will also be appointed secretary of finance and Frederico Degatan, radical, has been appointed secretary of the interior.

The liberals are dissatisfied with General Henry's change of policy. Munoz Rivera announces his intention of going to Washington in order to secure relief from the oppressive militarism, which he says will "restrange the Porto Ricans from the United States."

NEED TROOPS IN MAYARI DISTRICT. Civil Guard is Incompetent and Protection is Required.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Feb. 9.—The return of General Leonard Wood, military governor of the Department of Santiago, has completely pacified the people here and it is expected that he will soon recommend the disbanding of two more regiments, the Ninth and Third Immunes. The governor has been asked by the local authorities in the Mayari district to send two companies of American troops there, as the civil guard is said to be incompetent.

Dr. Woodson, medical inspector of the department, who returned from Hoiguin today, reports that the outbreak of smallpox in that district has been completely subdued and that the health of the Second Immunes is good. He says the Cubans there seem to be perfectly content.

Georgia Peach Crop Injured. MACON, Ga., Feb. 9.—Advises received from the peach growing centers in South Georgia indicate that the peach and plum crops have been off for some time and maybe a half by the present cold snap.

LETTING GO ITS ICY GRIP

Frost King Starts in to Break a Weather Record.

TEMPERATURE THE LOWEST IN MANY YEARS

Indications All Point to a Prediction That the Mercury Will Soon Begin to Climb Up the Table.

Hour. Deg. Hour. Deg. 4 a. m. -22 2 p. m. -8 7 a. m. -23 3 p. m. -6 8 a. m. -23 4 p. m. -4 10 a. m. -19 6 p. m. -2 11 a. m. -18 7 p. m. -2 12 m. -11 8 p. m. -4

Below zero. For Nebraska—Cloudy, with snow in southern part; no wind; light to moderate snow. For Iowa—Fair; not quite so cold; light to fresh northerly wind.

For Missouri—Fair; not quite so cold; northerly wind. For North and South Dakota—Fair in eastern; probably snow in western portion; cloudy; cold; north to north-west winds. For Kansas—Fair, except probably snow in extreme northern portion; not so cold; westerly winds.

For Wyoming and Colorado—Generally fair; northerly winds. After holding the Missouri valley and most of the west close bound in his icy clasp for nearly two weeks the frost king must now let go and make way for a less despot monarch. The slightly rising temperature of yesterday heralds his downfall and proclaims the advent of a more temperate season.

The minimum temperature of 23 degrees below zero, which was registered by the thermometer at the government building at 7 o'clock Thursday morning, marked the culmination of a cold wave almost without precedent in the history of Nebraska. The mean temperature for the first eight days of February was 1 degree above, the means ranging from 3 degrees above on February 1 to the minimum of 16 below Thursday. The normal mean for the same period, as calculated from the records of the last twenty years is 22 degrees above.

The temperature of the last thirty-six hours is the lowest that has been experienced here in February in sixteen years. It was only exceeded in February, 1883, when the record is 25 degrees. It was only approximated in 1895 when a reading of 20 degrees below appears.

Record of Cold Weather. There have been several Januaries, however, during which the temperature of this morning was exceeded. The lowest record ever made at the local weather station was in January, 1884, when the phenomenal point of 23 degrees below zero was reached. Other cold mornings occurred in January, 1886, when it was 24; January, 1888, 25; January, 1892, 26; and January, 1895, 20 below. The coldest month has the maximum temperature rarely above 15 degrees above zero, and at no time Wednesday did it get above 15 below.

The general conditions through the west confirm the forecast of twenty-four hours ago, and indicate almost conclusively that the intense cold of Thursday was the last snap of the cold wave. From the western states rising temperatures are reported forced back towards the Atlantic coast. The rising temperature at St. Louis was 10 degrees at last, and it will grow slowly warmer until a normal temperature is reached.

Through the Missouri valley there was no cessation of the cold when the early morning observations were taken. It was 40 below at Winthrop, 35 at Moberly and 32 below at Blount. Prince Albert, St. Paul and Duluth, Sioux City had a temperature of 28, and Kansas City enjoyed one of 20 below, an unaccountable luxury in that locality. It was decidedly warmer at Valentine, where it was only 10 below, a rise of twelve degrees in twenty-four hours. It was also 19 below at North Platte and at Cheyenne a slight additional rise brought the mercury to 13 degrees above.

Death of Bright Attorney at Denver Is Followed by Sensational Suicide of Beautiful Widow.

DENVER, Feb. 9.—Harry P. Rhodes, a prominent young attorney of this city who for eight years prior to 1897 was deputy district attorney here, died at St. Luke's hospital this morning as the result of wounds inflicted by himself last Tuesday.

At 10 o'clock on Monday, the widow, a young Russian widow, undertook to have killed her 10-year-old son and sent a bullet through her own brain. The tragedies of Tuesday and tonight both occurred at the Denver Hotel, a fashionable hotel where Rhodes and Mrs. Lavrenius have both resided for several months.

The cause of Rhodes' act is not known. He was a bright attorney, with good prospects. Tuesday afternoon he was found in his room by his friend, John S. Mosby, Jr., son of the famous confederate general, rapidly sinking from loss of blood caused by a deep gash in each arm and each leg. He was taken to St. Luke's hospital, where he lingered until this morning, though always expressing his wish to die. Mrs. Lavrenius attended him at the hospital until his death, which she took with seeming composure.

Tonight, after her little son was asleep in his bed, she shot him through the head and then turned her weapon upon herself. Rhodes was a Keutuckian, belonging to one of the best families in that state. Mrs. Lavrenius was a beautiful woman, 33 years of age, and highly accomplished. She had a Russian name, but her husband was several years ago sentenced to life imprisonment in Siberia. Five or six years ago they were pardoned by the czar and came to this country.

PAPERS BY THE BRICKMAKERS

Business as a Profession Treated by J. Fred Smith at Omaha at Columbus Convention.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 9.—The brickmakers' national convention continued its session here today. Charles T. Harris read a paper on "The Utility of Clay as a Roofing Material" during which he advocated the change of the name of the association to the National Association of Clay Workers, and the admission of all such industries to membership. Other papers were as follows: J. Fred Smith of Omaha, "Brickmaking as a Profession"; C. H. Mortenson of "Methods of Drying Brick"; H. A. Wheeler, St. Louis, "The Evolution of the Wheeling Brick"; Andreas Persson, Bangor, Me., "Some of the Faults of Modern Clay Work"; J. H. Miller of Washington, D. C., "Brick and Lumber in Brickmaking"; A. B. Beizer, Columbus, "Coloration of Architectural Clay Ware"; W. D. Gates of Chicago presented a resolution for the appointment of a commission to work for the creation of a department of manufactures and trade, to be organized as a separate cabinet office. A bureau of statistics of the clay industry was also advocated.

Frightened by Earthquakes. BELLEN, N. M., Feb. 9.—Inhabitants of this vicinity are much alarmed on account of a series of earthquake shocks that have occurred here recently. Many have betaken themselves to prayer and fasting.

Earthquake in Kentucky. CINCINNATI, Feb. 9.—A Mayville, Ky., special of the Times-Star says there was an earthquake with pronounced vibrations there this morning.

DEAD LEADER IS TAKEN HOME

Havann Puts on Mourning to Receive the Remains of Garcia, the Patriot.

HAVANA, Feb. 9.—The Nashville, bearing the body of General Calisto Garcia, steamed slowly into Havana harbor at 1 o'clock this afternoon, the guns of Morro castle and the American squadron saluting it. The solemn booming announced the arrival to the exultant city. Everywhere householders and ships lowered a thousand flags to half mast and black streamers soon surrounded the Cuban banners.

By the time the gunboat had come to anchor thousands of people crowded the waterfront. The marines lowered the casket to the tug chartered by the Cuban committee and Garcia's remains, hereafter to be in possession of the Cubans, was borne to La Machina wharf. There Senator Mra. civil governor of Havana, Mayor Perfecto Lacoche, the members of the municipal council, members of the Junta Patriotica, Commodore B. J. Cromwell, captain of the port, many naval officers, Major General Ludlow, governor of the Department of Havana, and several members of his staff were assembled.

Two companies of the Eighth regulars, with the regimental band, were lined up to receive the coffin, which was draped with the Cuban flag and bearing a wreath of flowers, was carried on the shoulders of members of the junta bearing the saluting strains of a funeral dirge to the palace, where the body was laid in the municipal council chamber, guarded by details of Cuban and American troops.

On the order of General Ludlow all official flags will be kept at half mast until the public funeral on Saturday. The funeral will take place at 1 p. m. Four troops of the Seventh United States cavalry will participate, heading the funeral column. Then will follow a long procession, including 500 armed Cuban soldiers, Major General Ludlow and members of his staff in carriages. A volley will be fired in the cemetery.

This evening the large crowds are viewing the body, which lies surrounded by tall candles. The walls of the council chamber are draped with black and silver. The scene is very impressive. Many houses throughout the city display mourning decorations.

Senator Gonzales De Quesada. In the course of an interview today, said General Gomez estimated the sum at $3,000,000, which the United States government offers to pay to the Cuban troops as a condition of disbanding, insufficient to cover the whole case, but a good working basis to begin with. A movement has been agitated which will result in the appointment of a financial commission to report to the Cuban assembly regarding the best method of raising a loan from $7,000,000 to $9,000,000 on the guarantee of the customs and of obtaining the cooperation of the American authorities. As soon as this plan is adopted an attempt will be made to carry it into effect.

Gomez received an ovation at Camajuani last evening and is now coming slowly toward Havana.

The first regular complete pay-day which the civil employes in Havana have known for months was characterized by innumerable complaints. The school teachers are protesting against the regular monthly disbursement of their salaries, which is applied to the payment of their protective association dues. The teachers' association raised over the nonpayment of salaries to some seventy-four former telegraph operators, who worked half through January.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

Simply a Subterfuge. While Senator Farrell claimed to be in earnest in introducing the motion, it was plain to all it was simply a subterfuge to give the fusionists a chance to administer criticism concerning the republicans' inability to get together on a senator. They pointed to the passage of the resolutions in the senate by a direct vote of the people, that the republicans had passed, while the republicans had not. It was a direct vote of the people, and the majority of all votes cast the members of the legislature would cast their votes for him, and if the aggregate vote of the three republican candidates exceeded Mr. Allen's vote the republicans should cast their vote for the republican receiving the most votes.

TRY TO BOOM ALLEN

Fusionists Resort to a Subterfuge to Elect Nebraska's Senior Senator.

RESOLUTION FOR A POPULAR ELECTION

Proposition to Hold it During the First Two Weeks in March.

PEOPLE TO EXPRESS CHOICE ON THAT DATE

Candidate Receiving Highest Vote to Be Elected by the People.

POPOCRITS TO SUPPORT MADISON MAN

Senator Farrell Introduces the Resolution and Supports it. After Which Republican Majority Promptly Shelves It.

LINCOLN, Feb. 9.—(Special.)—The fusion members of the legislature, who already commenced to take advantage of the passage of the resolutions favoring the election of United States senators by a direct vote of the people to embarrass the republicans in connection with the acquiescence in these resolutions. At forenoon in The Bee some time ago, the chief object of the fusionists in pushing these resolutions to a vote was to get the republicans on record as favoring a direct vote of the people, and then take advantage of that vote to get the majority in the senate committee as possible, not only during the present senatorial deadlock, but during the campaign that is to come.