Union Pacific Telegraphers Present Their Claims to the Officials.

Men Admit that They Are Receiving More Than Some Other Roads Pay, but Want Same Compensation as Paid by the Rio Grande.

There is no sign at present of a conference employed on the system. Edward Dickinson, tee, and could not specify a time when it all the points in the document. It is not believed, however, that a conference will be held this week.

The members of the committee maintain their usual reticence in talking about their side of the case. They refuse to give out anything bearing upon the new points in Hot Springs especially. It is illustrated in the schedule which they wish the company half-tones, showing the points of interest to grant. They will wait patiently the rest along the line of that road, with abundant of this week for a summons from the railroad company to a conference and if it is publication is the lines of the road printed not forthcoming will again wait upon the in red across each of the pages, the genmanagement the first of next week to learn what they may expect in the way of consideration. No threats will be made, but the railroad men will be informed that the operators are working men with small salaries and that their time is valuable to them. They will ask that some answer be given at an early date that they may know what they have to confront.

In answer to the statement by certain railroad officers that the operators on the Union Pacific are better paid than those on any other western road the telegraphers may the schedule in force on the Denver & Rio Grande is far ahead of that in force on the Union Pacific, and that there is no reason why that schedule should not be in force on the latter road, at least along its lines in Wyoming, where the other conditions are about the same as with the Denver & Rio Grande. They say further that the present schedule on the Union Pacific is not higher than that on other Nebraska roads where there is a contract with the telegraphers. The Burlington has no contract, they say and there the schedule is lower.

It is understood that one of the prime motives on the part of the telegraphers at this time is to have the new Union Pacific company recognize the Order of Railway Telegraphers by making a contract with the operators. This is not considered to be a difficult project if the other demands made by the operators can be consistently met by cars; in 1897, 13,910 cars, and in 1896, 22,107 the railroad company.

OUTLOOK FOR SUMMER TRAVEL Railroad Officials Expect to Carry

Many Teachers to Pacific Coast. The prospects are said to be bright for a large movement across the continent to the Pacific coast during the coming summer. This year it will be the school teachers. In 1897 it was a band of 30,000 Christian Endeavorers who visited every nook and corner on the Pacific coast and on the homeward journey enjoyed the scenic attractions of Colorado or went through the Yellowstone park.

The passenger officials of western railroads anticipate almost as great a movement this year. The occasion is the annual meeting of the National Education association at Los Angeles in July. Rates have not yet been fixed, but they will prob-

As in 1897, so this year the low rates to the Pacific coast will probably be taken advantage of by a great many people in addition to these who will attend the meeting. Already a sufficient number of persons have announced their intention of going to induce the railroads to figure on special train service.

REGARDING FAST TRAIN SERVICE. Opinion that Some Flyers Will Be

Laid Off After This Month. While not officially announced, it is be lleved among the representatives of the interested roads in Omaha that the fast passenger trains now plying between Chicago

The committee appointed at the recent conference in Chicago has not made its report, but this is the result forecasted, and it is accepted as probable from the action of the other roads operating in the same territory. This does not affect the fast mail trains, but only the passenger service which indirectly resulted from the fast mail serv ice. The only two roads affected are the Northwestern and the Rock Island. The former will probably return to the fourteenhour schedule with its Overland limited while the Rock Island, which put on a new train, will take it off, and possibly operate an exclusive fast mail train similar to that of the Northwestern and Burlington.

ARE DISTURBED JOBBERS

Fear that Railroads Will Increase the Minimum Weight of Carload Lots.

The local jobbers are much disturbed at present on account of the movement towards increasing the minimum weight of carload shipments, which will be discussed by the representatives of the western railroads at St. Louis February 21. The effect of the change, if it goes into force, will be to compel the shipper to charter a larger car and to ship bigger loads or else pay increased rates.

Material on which the minimum carload weight is now 22,000 pounds is increased to 30,000 by the proposed scheme and similar increases are scheduled on nearly all sorts of jobbing freight. Some of the jobbers regard it as a species of encroachment on the part of the railroads and they are anxlouely discussing what means to take to prevent the plan from being adopted. The question occupied the freight bureau of the Commercial club at a meeting Thursday afternoon, but no definite decision was reached. The bureau will meet again Monday to tackle the proposition and decide whether it will make an open effort to fight the increase.

PARKS ARE TO BE SLIGHTED

Commissioner Cornish Declares that Little Can Be Done Unless the Levy is Increased.

Park Commissioner Cornish makes the following statement of what the policy of the Park board will be during the year, under the proposed 1899 levy:

"The board is embarrassed and regrets that public enthusiasm in park work is dampened. No improvements can be constructed in Riverview park; the flower beds will have to be taken out of Hanscom park; the keeper and electric lights will have to be taken out of Bemis park; we cannot clean up Kountze park or sprinkle the Nineteenth and Twentleth street boulevard; our promise to construct roads in consideration of the donation of a block and a half at Thirty-second street and Poppleton avenue by Mr. Woolworth and of thirty-two lots by Mr. Turner at Thirty-second and Farnam streets cannot be kent. The boulevard from Hanscom to Riverview park, for which property owners asked to be taxed must remain unused and unprofitable. That this is so is manifest from the following statement:

UNION LABOR WINS A POINT

County Attorney Holds with Allied Printing Trades on the County Job Printing.

The county board will in all probability it its Saturday meeting adopt Commisstoner Connolly's resolution to have the label of the Allied Printing trades on all the county printing. His resolution was presented last Friday and was referred to the finance committee and the county attorney. Mr. Shields has sent his opinion over to the office of the board. It favors the label. According to the county atterney, the requiring of such a label is within the legislative scope of the board. He says he has made inquiry as to how the label can be obtained and what the conditions are to get it. He has learned that it will be supolied to any printing establishment upon ondition that a certain scale of wages is oaid and all the employes are union men-Viewed in this light Mr. Shields sees in it a distinguishing mark of skilled labor, and he reasons by analogy that if the board can specify a certain kind of stone for road paving purposes, or brick or cement, and compel the contractor to procure such maerial, it has the same power with respect o a certain quality of printing. He cites the Kansas City decision in support of this view and cases wherein Detroit, Mich., and Superior, Wis., have been defendants. In the course of his opinion Mr. Shields numerates the cities whose local governments have adopted the Allied Printing Trades label, and he names also Hennepin county in Minnesota and Hamilton county in Tennessee. "The courts," he says, "have

Residence of George Cott-No Use for Pictures.

The residence of George Cett, 2226 Mason street, was entered by a burglar who used a pair of nippers with which to turn a key and unlock the door. He carried away $39 in each and a half dozen silver case-knives. The officers found upon investigation that the thief took his time in gathering up the silver and even went so far as to remove a picture, to which he had apparently taken great liking, from the wall. This, however, was abandoned with several pieces of silver, which he left in the middle of the loor when he departed.

The home of August Doll, 718 South Thiry-fifth street, was entered by the aid of a skeleton key. The thief was apparently in the habit of going in the front door, as it was this entrance he selected at Mr. Doll's house. He took a gold watch, chain and charm

Henry Johnson, 320 North Fifteenth street. appeared at the police station for the purpose of looking over the prisoners there to see if he could identify one as the man who entered his room on the night of February 6 and robbed him of a gold watch and chain. Mr. Johnson was awakened by a shake, accompanied by the remark: "Keep quiet and shell out." He accepted the advice and his watch changed ownership. He identified Billy Nixon as the man who had paid him the midnight call and insists there can be chance of a mistake.

Horbach, and involves the title to two lots at Twenty-first and Nicholas streets. It is represented by the plaintiffs that Boyd bought the lots in 1856, paying $500 for them. Boyd enlisted in the union army in the civil war and was killed. His family did not learn of his purchase of the property until 1890. Meanwhile Mr. Horbach, so it is alleged, resumed possession paying the taxes and putting up two small ouses. For the defendant the claim to the lots is based upon adverse possession and a received the GOLD MEDAL statement that no purchase price was eve paid by Boyd.

Bec, Feb, 10, 1899. Who Stole the Thermometer?

Some miscreant who was passing our store on Wednesday night had the audacity to steal the thermometer from the front of our store. We are sorry to lose the temperature teller, but we can't blame the poor fellow who carried it away. Just inside our show window his eyes fell upon one of our $3.75 ulster overcoats with high storm collar, extra length, good and warm, all buttoned up closely around a form. The poor fellow, no doubt, made up his mind that the difference between a cold man and a warm dummy was too great, so he remarked to himself, "It's a cold day when I get left," and coolly proceeded to carry the thermometer away. Of course it isn't right, should have been left. It shows how little money it takes to keep warm. We are making a special effort just now to make it easy to get an evercoat or ulster way below the real value. We are making room for spring clothing. The prices have never been so inviting for the man who wants to invest a small amount for a big overcoat.

Thro' Cuba and Porto Rico

S. S. "New York" leaves New York March 4th for a thirty days' cruise to Cuba, Porto Rico, the Windward Islands, Jamalea and Nassau. Stops varying from five hours to three days will be made at San Juan, Santiago, Havans, Port of Spain and a dozen other places whose names are household words. The trip is unique and will be made at a time of year when it is comparatively casy for most people to take a vacation. The cost—$200 and upwards according to accommodations—is inconsiderable when compared with the opportunities it affords of familiarizing oneself with what are, to Americans, the most interesting portions of the western hemisphere.
